Joe Czaplowski caught a fine badger along the right-of-way of the U. P. road last Friday and sold it to Harry Jenner for a park attraction, where it may be seen.

The editor's better nineteen-twentieths is under obligations to Mrs. H. M. Mathew for a beautiful fragrant bouquet of sweet peas, presented last Saturday morning.

Jenner's Park is the finest place in this section of the country for picnic parties and entertainments of a like character. Mr. Jenner will make satisfactory arrangements with those desiring the use of the park for such purposes.

In a communication to the Omaha, Daily News of the 10th instant, we see that Miss Edna King, assistant principal of our public schools last year, is to be married at her home in Osceola, this state, this coming Saturday evening to a Mr. Walter Ruhlmg of the same place.

Drs. Davis & Farnsworth of Grand Island, Neb., are prepared to treat all forms of chronic diseases, such as Rheumatism, Stomach disorders, Tumors, Cancers, Paralysis, Kidney diseases, etc. The doctors use, besides medicine and surgery, the x-ray, hot air baths, electricity and massage.

The state board of health held a meeting at Lincoln recently, the object being the subject of ordering all physicians in the state of Nebraska to be smooth shaven, dispensing with all beards. They claim it will lessen the possibility of spreading germ diseases. Just imagine Drs. Long, Main and Jones under the new order.

You should see Dr. Kearns' flower garden at present. It is a thing of beauty. Especially should you see the bloom of the Japanese Iris. The flower is a beautiful dark purple and stands from a single stalk about two feet high. The beauty of that flower is that each bunch of stalks in bloom present large flowers about the size of poppies and of distinctly different colors.

Lee Adamson is rushing the Elser residence as fast as a big force of carpenters can make it go, in order to take advantage of the present fine weather, for God only knows how long it will last judging by the inclement weather so far this season.

Mr. C. A. Clarke, president of the Ravenna Creamery company, accompanied by Mrs. Clarke, were guests last Friday, of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Henry of this city. Mrs. Clarke returned home that evening, while Mr. Clarke went up the road on creamery business.

The editor dropped in for a moment to see a delinquent subscriber who was about to cross over the Great Divide. "Well, how do you feel?" asked the editor. "The gloom has faded and everything before me begins to look bright," gasped the delinquent. "Ah, I thought so," was the cheerful response, "you'll see the blaze in about ten minutes.—Ex"

An exchange truthfully says: "Every person not already clearly informed on the subject, should know that the proper way to discontinue a newspaper is to settle all arrearage on subscription. This is not only the legitimate way, but it is the honest and manly way. No one who desires to do the square thing will refuse to accept a paper at the postoffice unless all arrearages of subscription have been paid in full, and very few people do."

As will be noticed this week by reference to the advertisement of B. M. Gasteyer, the editor becomes the innocent subject of a roast from that enterprising firm. However, we have a good suggestion to make. If the members of the new physical culture club, organized this week, will purchase the for the membership the first article advertised this week by this firm, and then charge a liberal admission fee at the door, there is not a mother's son of us male bipeds but would be a pleased patron.

A subscriber asks us for a sure recipe for killing lice on calves. To make a sure cure, we advise having the calf attend one performance of the aggregation which was here the first three evenings of this week trying to give theatrical exhibitions in a tent, and which folded up its canvas this morning and hid away to more appreciative quarters of the globe. It may kill calf as well as lice, but is guaranteed to be most effective on the insect, while we refer you to those who attested as to its effect on the innocent bovine.

We received a pleasant call this morning from John Fisher, who informed us that George Ware, Jr., was married on the 6th of this month, to Miss Lillie Morgan, at her home in Stewart, Iowa. The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Morgan, former residents of this county. The groom is a son of George Ware of St. Paul, this state. Both parties are well known and highly respected in this section of the country and THE NORTHWESTERN joins with their many friends in wishing them a happy and prosperous journey through life.

To enable others to know the secret of how many country editors become rich, will tell you as follows: A child is born in the neighborhood; the attending physician gets $10, the editor gives the loud-lunged youngster and happy parents a sendoff and gets $0. It is christened; the minister gets $5 and the editor gets $00. It grows and marries; the editor publishes another longwinded and flowery article. The minister gets $10 and a piece of cake and the editor gets $000. In course of time it dies and the doctor gets $50 or $100 and the editor [publishes notice of death, lodge and society resolutions, a card of thanks and gets $000. No wonder so many editors get rich.—Missoula (Montana) "Every Saturday.

County Teachers Institute.

To the Teachers, School-Officers and Patrons of schools of Sherman county, Nebraska

Our County Teacher's Institute will be held in the High School building at Loup City, Neb., the week beginning July 31st, 1905.

Supt. J. W. Searson and Prof. R. W. Thomson, both of whom did such efficient service for us last year, will again have charge of the work.

The instruction in music and all that pertains to that department will be in charge of Mr. W. L. Evans, who is musical director of the Wahoo, Neb., schools.

We will also have a good Primary teacher, who will do model school work, in reading and numbers.

Mr. Searson will deliver a lecture at the Opera House, on Wednesday evening, Aug. 2nd. He will also lecture on school management at the High School building every afternoon during institute.

We expect every teacher in the county will attend every session of this institute.

We invite every boy and girl who finished the 8th grade work this year, to attend.

We would be very much pleased to have the patrons visit us at any time and extend a special invitation to every one to attend lectures on school management and other lectures at the Opera House.

In the rural schools, 35 pupils finished the 8th grade work. Miss Mabel Dickerson of the Balsora school, made the highest standing in the examinations and is given rank No. 1 in the class of 1905. Miss Dickerson was also given the scholarship presented by the Nebraska Association of Colleges and Academies.

We extend a special invitation, more especially to these rural 8th grades, but also to every 8th grade in the county to attend this institute, and to these we will make a fee of 50 cents, to teachers the fee will be one dollar.

Examinations will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 27, 28 and 29.

Anticipating the hearty co-operation of teachers and patrons in making the institute a success, I am very respectfully,
R. D. HENDRICKSON,
County Supt.

Who are Eligible.

A law passed by the last Legislature states that:

"No person shall be eligible to the office of County Superintendent who does not hold at least a First Grade County Certificate issued in this state, and in force at the time of his election."

In order to correct an erroneous statement that is being circulated as to who are eligible in this county, I will state that my record shows the following named persons holding First Grade Certificates in force at this time: M. H. Mead, J. F. Nicolson, R. D. Hendrickson, Sina Ladegarde, Minnie Croston, Alice Work, Marie Coulter, Annee Whitman, Anna Thomson, Grace Kay, Ethel Pearson and Rhoda Whitman.

W. E. Leininger paid this office a pleasant (?) call last Saturday. While in the office, he remarked that he had a new headache cure, and suiting the action to the word, took off his hat, and curled in the crown thereof were a couple of snakes of the viper and water moccasin variety. With a yell that would do credit to a whole pack of Apaches, the editor went straight up, knocking the plastering from the ceiling and falling as far distant from his honor, the snake fancier, as the walls of the room would permit. After returning consciousness, he learned from the gentleman that he had a fascination for handling all kinds of these poisonous reptiles and did so without the least fear of harm to himself. Mr. Leininger has a den of rattlesnakes at his home a few miles west of Loup City, which are his pets and which he fondles and carries around, without extracting their poisonous fangs. He also combines profit with pleasure and a firm in Chicago purchases rattlesnake oil of him at sixty cents per ounce, the oil being taken from the back of said snakes. As a parting shot, Mr. Leininger promised the editor that he would call again in a few days and bring with him a full grown rattlesnake for inspection. We have had a case of genuine jim-jams ever since and have hired an expert to put double locks of especial combination on the office doors.

Tennis Club Formed.

We notice that the members of the Tennis Club seem to be enjoying themselves hugely evenings, on the court east of the court house square. As the membership increases sufficiently it is intended that another court be placed near the present one; membership being obtained by application to the secretary. The members are Albert Johnson, J. A. Angier, Will Hoover, J. W. Long, H. M. Mathew, Neil Hoover, R. H. Mathew, K. E. Fickes, Charlie Leininger, Archie Zimmerman, Ray Kearns and Dr. Allen. Later in the season it is said that some matches will be arranged with teams from neighboring towns. The president of the club is R. H. Mathew with K. E. Fickes, secretary.

Nothing

Last week we were out of town, when advertising time happened along, so we delegated that branch of our business to Editor Buleigh. Did you see what he advertised? [We simply refer you to last week's paper, in complete refutation of the imputation, having advertised the most attractive article there.—EDITOR]
