The St. Elmo Livery Barn has a number of good buggies for sale. If you are in need of one, you will do well to call early and see them.

We received a pleasant call last Saturday from Dr. A. E. Wanek, of Ashton. The doctor has recently settled in Ashton and is already securing a splendid practice. One thing which pleases us especially is that the doctor, politically, is a good Republican and believes in being a party worker. That's the stuff. We believe in the matter of politics, religion or any other belief, one should show his colors.

The Baptist ladies will hold a bazaar at the Biemond & Daddow meat market this week Saturday, when they will have cakes, pies and other pastry for sale. They will hold their bazaar at the same place every other Saturday till further notice.

Editor Burleigh of The Loup City Northwestern, doesn't mind the man who carries imaginary reptiles in his boots, but he draws the line on people calling at his office with the real article in their hats. A local snake fancier scared him out of a year's growth that way not long ago.—St. Paul Republican.

Jim Rentfrow bought a fine carriage of T. M. Reed last Thursday. He reports his winter wheat and rye already in stack and of the finest quality in years. His oats, also, is a fine showing, in fact his small grain throughout couldn't be better. His corn is finely assled and gives promise of an extra fine crop.

D. M. Gue and family returned from Omaha last week. In consultation with an eminent specialist an examination of the boy's eye, Mr. Gue was informed that nothing could be done to save the eyesight which was afflicted with atrophy, but would not be noticed by a casual observer, to whom the eye would present a normal appearance.

The Young People's Society of the Baptist church will give an ice cream social on the lawn at the home of R. W. McCombs, next Tuesday evening, August 1st. The proceeds will be applied on the parsonage fund. Don't forget the date. A good time assured and every dish of cream sold will add a brick or shingle to the home for our pastor.

Mrs. R. P. Starr and son Howard visited over last Sunday and Monday at the home of D. C. Leach in Elm township, returning home Tuesday evening. Miss Winnie Leach returned with her for a day or two in town. Miss Leach speaks of the finest prospect for corn in their section of the country of any season for the past number of years, a good deal of the corn in tassel and exceeding in height a tall man.

The young ladies of Loup City have organized two different basket ball clubs the past week. One is called the "N. W. Basket Ball Team," and was organized Tuesday evening with the following membership: Lizzie Leininger, president; Beatrice Nightingale, secretary; Edna Minshull, treasurer; Mary Gibson, Edith Henry, Jessie and Cora Leininger, Blanche Bennett, Ruby Chase and Nettie Conger. We have not learned the personnel of the other team.

Saturday evening about six o'clock, as C. W. Conbiser was looking after the interests of his trotting horse, the animal kicked him full in the breast, with both hind feet, the force of the blow knocking the breath almost entirely from his body. He was carried to his residence, and for a time it was thought he was fatally injured, but thanks to a strong constitution and the blow being a little high, he will recover. Had the kick been a few inches below, his life would surely have been forfeited.

Robt. Mathew having business to transact in northwest Washington township last Friday, his good mother accompanied him for a pleasant day's ride. The roads were execrable, but their destination was reached without incident. Concluding his business about sundown, they attempted to drive home when to their chargin, the roads, darkness and weather proved too utterly too-too, and they were obliged to drive to Arcadia and wait till the following morning to make their way home. All this goes to prove that Sherman county roads are not heavenly pathways for after-night driving and the people should mend them more satisfactorily.

We have received the Osceola Record of the 20th instant containing the announcement of the marriage of Miss Edna King of that city to Mr. Walter E. Rueling of Muscatine, Iowa. The paper gives a glowing account of the wedding which was witnessed by a large number of Osceola's best citizens. Miss King is the daughter of E. L. King, Osceola's most prominent lawyer, and one of the principal guests was Gov. Mickey. Miss King was assistant principal of the Loup City schools last year. The groom is one of the most prominent men of Muscatine, Iowa, and the young people start out with the brightest prospects. THE NORTHWESTERN tenders its heartiest congratulations to the young people.

R. P. Starr took a business trip to St. Paul yesterday.

Mrs. E. G. Taylor and children are visiting at Farwell.

Miss Chambers of Seward is visiting at the home of R. J. Nightingale.

Watch this paper next week for full account of Queen of the Carnival.

Wm. Criss will for the next two months work with his thrasher in the south part of this county and in north Buffalo, near Ravenna. Mrs Criss and daughter, Miss Clara, will accompany him for the time. By that time their new home will be ready for them in the west part of town.

The new switchboard for the central office was installed the first of the week and is a fine piece of machinery. The company has been severely handicapped with the old board and with the rush of work, but we may now be assured the tangle will be rapidly straightened and smoothness result. If service has not been of the best of late, it has been on account of the great amount of work required in getting matters righted, the addition of new lines, and a multitude of things you and I know nothing about, so possess yourself in patience and soon all will be well. The following new subscribers have been added since last report: H. B. Musser, A. M. Robbins, U. R. Welsh, E. J. Wakenight, George Waznicke and C. J. Tracy.

As no one here gets a copy of the Arcadia Champion, unless it is the local newspapers, we print for the edification or amusement of our readers, the following squib from that town's infinitesimal small caliber editor:

"That we don't blame Loup City for feeling a sort of resentment because other towns have a boom. The poor old thing is so dead that you cannot score up a game of croquet there."

That is about the steen hundredth item of like kind that has appeared in that sheet from week to week ever since we came to this goodly town. Will some one explain what is the matter with the flea-bitten little fellow that he is forever barking at Loup City? Has some one at some time in the past attached a tin can to the portion of anatomy where it would scare the rolly-polly worst, in order to see how good time he could make across the hills and away, or is it dog days every week at Arcadia in the vicinity of their printing office? Some of the good people of that town would do well to muzzle the poor animal before he lites himself in one of his wesky frenzies.

Oil on Troubled Waters

Did you ever try to fill a lamp and miss your guess and put in just a little too much oil? Perhaps you got a little on your clean dress, and naturally it made you feel rather out of patience.

We've found a remedy for this little mishap, in the most convenient oil can on the market today. It is called the "Never Fail," is in the 5-gal. size and is painted red for Gasoline and blue for Kerosene.

(And that reminds us that there has been a law pending recently making it unlawful for any merchant to put Gasolene in any can that is not so labeled, either in words or in color.)

Our vocabulary isn't large enough to give you an accurate description of this can, so we will give you a cordial invitation to call and see for yourself.

Take one home and use it for 30 days and if you don't think its the best oil can you ever saw or used, return it to us and we will give you your money back. Now, isn't that a fair proposition?

B. M. Gasteyer.
