Republican County Convention.

LOUP CITY, NEBR., July 17, 1905.
The Republican electors of Sherman county, Nebraska, are hereby requested to send delegates from their respective townships to meet in convention at Loup City, Nebraska, Monday, Aug. 28th, 1905, at 11 o'clock a. m. for the purpose of electing delegates to the Republican State convention for the year 1905, to elect a county central committee and the chairman thereof, and to place in nomination a candidate for county treasurer, county clerk, sheriff, judge, Superintendent, surveyor and coroner. Also to transact such other business as may properly come before said convention.
The several townships are entitled to representation as follows: the apportionment being based upon the vote cast at the last general election for President Roosevelt, giving each township one delegate for every ten votes or major fraction thereof and one delegate at large:
Oak Creek..... 7 Logan..... 6
Washington..... 3 Elm..... 4
Webster..... 6 Loup City..... 23
Ashton..... 8 Hockville..... 6
Clay..... 4 Harrison..... 10
Scott..... 4 Hazard..... 6
Bristol..... 5
Total..... 94
It is recommended that no proxies be allowed and that the delegates present from each of the respective townships be authorized to cast the full vote of their delegation and that the primaries be held at the usual voting place in each township on Saturday, August 28th, 1905.
By order of the Republican Central Committee,
W. R. MELLOR, Chairman.
R. P. STARR, Secretary.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES

Life of Grandma Gilbert.

Abigail Moon was born in St. Lawrence county, New York July 29, 1837. At the age of seven she moved with her parents to Illinois, and a few years later to Delaware county, Iowa.

At the age of ten years she was converted in a little Sabbath school superintended by Beale Ward, who afterward entered the ministry. She joined the Baptist church, and is still an active member, loving it more dearly as the years go by.

July 4th, 1859, she was married to John A. Gilbert, who died some nine years ago. Eleven children were born, six of whom died in infancy.

With her husband and children she moved to Nebraska in 1874, making the journey in a wagon in the dead of winter and suffering untold hardships. They reached their destination in the northwestern part of Madison county, on the Elkhorn river in March. Neighbors were few, and scattering Indians came yearly and camped on the farm to hunt, fish and trap and the deer played about the garden, coming almost to the house.

Her husband's health had been broken in the Civil War, so she took up the burden of building up a home in the new location, and supporting her young children, with the little help her husband was able to give.

Then came the three years of grasshoppers, and things looked dark, indeed. Crops were a failure; there was very little money in the country, and work was hard to get at any wage. Many a day she worked all day for twenty-five cents and took her pay in a scant allowance of potatoes or other food which she carried home at night. Two of the children, unable to subsist on the meagre diet, seemed starving before her eyes. But even now she was to find that the Lord will provide for his own. A friend heard of their necessity and sent a generous supply of fruit, more than half of which was stolen by the neighbor who brought it, but enough was left to restore health to the ailing children.

Then came brighter days. Her loom was sent to her and by it she was able to meet the needs of her family. The work was humble, but so well and faithfully performed that it was enabled.

She found time, even in her busiest days, to care for the sick, and many of her old neighbors are ready to testify that it was her care that saved their lives.

In the autumn of 1884 she bought a farm two miles west of Loup City, where she still lives with two of her daughters.

For years, Mrs. Gilbert, or "Aunt Abbie," as she is affectionately called by many of her friends here, has been nearly blind, but the habits of a lifetime cling to her and she feels bound to be always busy. At any time you may find her engaged in knitting, plain sewing or trying to help the girls with the chores or housework.

She is sure to be present at the services of the church and is joyously looking forward to the time when she shall see, face to face, the dear Savior. She has so long beheld with the eye of faith.

If a man were to run a store bill and then leave the country without settling the account, he would be considered a dead beat. If a man were to take a paper a year or two and leave without settling for that paper or give his future address, and leave the postmaster to advise the editor that so-and-so had left for other fields and the paper was not called for, while so-and-so owed for the paper, what would you consider him? And suppose another same kind of so-and-so would refuse to take the paper out of the office, for which he had subscribed and not paid for and it came back to the editor marked "Refused," what would you consider him? The editor knows, says "damn" or something like that, writes "D. B." after the name, scratches the thing's name from the books and let's it go at that. Want to see some of 'em?

The Cabbage Hairworm.

From tests made it has been fully demonstrated that the cabbage "snake" or hairworm is a harmless thing, still many are yet afraid to eat cabbage (Circular No. 62 has been recently issued by the bureau of entomology of the United States department of agriculture and it deals fully in regard to the matter. Mention was first made in 1903 of the "snake," but it was not until 1904 that much attention was given to the subject by the public. Then the demand for cabbage and kraut was so small that many growers were financially crippled. Especially was this so in Tennessee, Missouri, Iowa, West Virginia and Virginia. In the former state 85 per cent of the cabbage was lost. There was a death reported from eating a "snake" and an effort was made to locate the place, but it was like a will 'o' the wisp, always in some other locality. The reported death was traced to Paris green which had been used to sprinkle on the cabbage and destroy the moths. But late years there is a parasite which kills the worms that springs from the moth. Our readers can raise and eat cabbage without the least fear from the cabbage "snake" or hairworm.

Bonheur Bros' Mascot Show comes this year enlarged, improved and bettered in every particular. They have added many new features that are not to be seen except at the cost of a trip to great cities, chief among which are the realistic, beautiful and entrancing reproductions of that awful disaster the eruption of Mount Pelee and the destruction of St. Peiree on the isle of Martinique, being operated and produced by costly and efficient electrical effects requiring nearly a mile of beautifully colored films. In the children's department may be seen the most beautiful lilliputian ponies in amazing acts and features; the cutest dogs in all the world in tricks that have never heretofore been considered possible; the amusing little monkeys with such expressive faces resembling the elfin men of fairy tales and the solemn-faced baboons in reckless racing and comic hurdle leaping on the backs of the pigmy ponies competing with skillful bareback riding dogs, and last but not least comes Master Billy and Mrs. Mammy Goot and their whole family in a school of human-like capers.

This congress of animal wonders and scientific demonstrations have decided to give one performance in Loup City on Friday, August 18th. Admission 15 and 25 cents.

Remember only one performance and that at 8 p. m., and Aug. 18 is the date. A high dive performance from a tall Jacob's ladder will be a free outside attraction before the show begins. Come to the show lot at 7:30 and witness this high dive. If it should look like rain do not hesitate, as the tents are all new and waterproof and ample seating capacity is provided for all.

Notice to Non-Resident Defendant. In the District Court in and for Sherman County, Nebraska.
To Walter Cook:
You are hereby notified that on the 17th day of July, 1905, Lovie Cook filed her petition against you in the District Court of Sherman County, State of Nebraska, the object and prayer of which are to obtain a divorce from you on the grounds of Habitual Drunkenness.
You are required to answer said petition on or before the 4th day of September, A. D. 1905.
LOVIE COOK, Plaintiff
By her attorney, R. P. STARR.

Notice to Non-Resident Defendants. State of Nebraska, ss. Sherman County, ss.
The Kansas National Loan Company, the International Loan and Trust Company, D. S. Fletcher, first real name unknown, defendants, will take notice that, on the 27th day of July, 1905, Arminius P. Cully, plaintiff, filed his petition in the District Court of Sherman county, Nebraska, against said defendants (impleaded with Oliver S. Mason, the object and prayer of which are to foreclose a tax lien upon the southwest quarter of section fourteen, in township sixteen, north of range fifteen, west of sixth principal meridian, situate in Sherman county, Nebraska; said tax lien being based upon the sale of said land to Pettibone and Nixon by the county treasurer of said county for the delinquent and unpaid taxes levied on said land for the years 1894, 1895, 1896 and 1897, for the sum of $78.75, and on which tax sale certificate No. 308 was issued, dated May 28th, 1899. That said Pettibone and Nixon thereafter paid the taxes on said land for the years 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903, and on Nov. 23rd, 1904, sold and assigned said certificate and subsequent taxes to said plaintiff. That plaintiff thereafter paid the taxes on said land for the year 1904, and that there is now due the plaintiff on his said tax lien the sum of $192.78 with interest at twenty per cent per annum for two years, and thereafter at ten per cent, which will amount to the sum of $298.81 on the first day of the next term of said court. Plaintiff prays that an accounting may be had of the amount due on his said tax lien, that each and all of said defendants be required to set up their lien or interest in said premises or be cut off, that plaintiff's lien be decreed to be the first and best lien, and that said premises be sold to satisfy said tax lien and the costs of suit, including attorney's fee of ten per cent of the amount found due by the court and for general relief.
You are required to answer said petition on or before the eleventh day of September, 1905. Dated this 27th day of July, 1905.
ARMINIUS P. CULLY, Plaintiff.
