Wonder if Brown will not return a full fledged democrat? It's only a step, you know.

On another page in this week's NORTHWESTERN will be found an extended report of the republican state convention. It will pay every reader to peruse it carefully.

We understand a petition is in circulation looking toward the putting up of an independent candidate for one of the principal county offices. Wouldn't any one signing such petition appear well in future, were he to aspire for office on any straight party ticket?

The populist state convention is understood to be held at Lincoln this week. Bro. Brown left Tuesday to attend it, if such convention be held, though no one seems to know of any such party convention. If the dying reformers do meet, in the name of high Jehovah, what is there for them to reform?

The Republican party in Sherman county has been especially fortunate in this fall in its selection of candidates for the various offices within the gift of the people. Not one named can be said to belong to any clique or faction, or any favorite thereof. In a most pleasing manner is this true of our candidate for county treasurer, Carsten Truelsen. His nomination came by generous response from all over the county and was well received by the convention which made it unanimous. Mr. Truelsen is well equipped both in education and natural ability for this most strenuous office and if elected, as he surely will be and by a handsome majority, the people will have no regrets over his selection. Carsten Truelsen is a native of Nebraska, having been born in Washington county on the 11th of April, 1869. He came to Sherman county with his parents in 1874, when but a boy of five years, making him a resident of this county over thirty years. His nomination is a compliment to the sturdy German citizenship of Sherman county.

The Republicans of Nebraska in state convention assembled last week, took advanced steps on several of the burning questions of the day. In a convention, one of the most dramatic and exciting ever held in the state, they put themselves on record as against the east evil, in favor of the direct primary and for strict railroad rate legislation. Our populist friends have already whistled long, loud and deep that the republicans have stolen their thunder and that the steps taken are only so much mouthings and that in fact nothing looking toward the accomplishment of the steps taken by the convention will be accomplished. In saying this the populists are judging by their own talk along these lines, which has amounted to not one step being taken in this regard, beyond resolving in conventions, etc. But the republicans of Nebraska are made in a different mould. They resolve and they execute. The first steps have now been taken, and they will live up to and carry into effect their promises. The next legislature, the republican contingent, at least will carry forward the work planned by the late convention and laws will be enacted and entered along the lines stated. Since the convention, Gov. Mickey, State Superintendent McEwen and Attorney General Brown have surrendered, in the transportation and stated unequivocally that the will of the convention is law unto themselves. Undoubtedly the other state officers will follow suit, and those who do not will be dealt with accordingly by the party which has placed its stamp of disapproval on the pass evil, and the acceptance of those questionable favors from the railroads. The republican party, unlike the populist reformers, means what it says.

Banquet to T. S. Nightingale.

A banquet and farewell was given last Saturday night at the St. Elmo hotel to Mr. T. S. Nightingale, whose departure for his future home at Los Angeles took place this week Monday morning. The occasion was given by the associates of Mr. Nightingale of the local bar of this city. Some thirty invited guests were in attendance and the event was one long to be remembered by those in attendance. Attorney R. P. Starr was toastmaster, and the toasts were responded to in most appropriate and brilliant words by Messrs. Robert B. Allen, Editor Brown, Judge Angier, County Attorney Pedler and Senator Aaron Wall, in the order named, and most feeling response was made by Mr. Nightingale. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames R. P. Starr, J. V. Long, W. R. Mellor, J. W. Burleigh, Judge Aaron Wall, H. M. Mathew, T. S. Nightingale, S. Per, J. A. Anderson, E. A. Brown, Messrs. R. J. Nightingale, R. H. Marlow and W. J. Fisher, and Mesdames Beth Zimmerman, Flora Vivian and Zoe Nightingale, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Nightingale. Toasts were followed with a choice array of wines, the sentiment of the occasion of sorrow for the departure of the estimable family and the choicest expressions of regret from the speakers and guests assembled, over their removal to a distant clime. Mr. Nightingale and family left Monday morning for their future home in sunny California, accompanied by the best wishes of their legion of friends in Loup City and Sherman county. Mr. Nightingale has been a resident of Sherman county for the past twenty-eight years, and his only reason for removal is in the hope that his health, which has been failing for a number of years, may be benefited thereby. THE NORTHWESTERN, with the entire population of Sherman county, will wish Mr. Nightingale and his estimable family a happy, profitable and pleasant home on the Pacific coast, and the complete restoration to health of Mr. Nightingale.

A Fortunate Accident.

Chas. DeMarville of Aurora is visiting his daughters, Mrs. Grace McLaughlin and Mrs. Jessie Squires, west of town. His father, who is nearly 80 years old, accompanied him. The old gentleman met with a fortunate accident last Saturday. While out hunting with his son and in passing over a catstep, the single tree snapped in two, causing the horse to jump, throwing the old gentleman from the buggy and between the wheels, one of which ran over his face just above the eyes, but outside of a few bruises on the head did no perceptible harm. It was a most fortunate accident, especially when one considers his advanced age.

Insane and Taken to Norfolk.

On the 8th instant, Sheriff Williams was called to the south part of the county, some four miles below Yorkville, to take charge of a young man named Ernest Schmaljohn, who had become violently insane. Accompanied by Wes McCombs, the sheriff went down and secured the patient, not, however, without some difficulty, took him before the board of insanity, and the following day took him to Norfolk. Schmaljohn had caused his mother and sisters to flee from home a few days previous and the neighborhood was thoroughly alarmed. He was some 27 years of age.

I invite the ladies of Loup City and vicinity to attend my opening on Sept. 27, 28 and 30th, of street and dress hats. The display of dress hats will be especially fine.
