DEBRIS FROM IOWA

POINTED PARAGRAPHS ABOUT SATURDAY'S GAME OF GAMES.

IOWA'S LOSING SPIRIT POOR

Rutherford and Chamberlain Both in Hospital—Hawkeyes Put on Stunt Between Halves For Benefit of Visitors.

The Iowa game was the roughest of the season. Several of the Nebraska players bear cleat marks on their faces, and Rutherford and Chamberlain are in the hospital, Rutherford with a badly bruised, possibly broken shoulder blade, and Chamberlain with a knee—in an injured condition before he entered the game,—which will keep him in the hospital a week.

The Nebraska rooters were placed in the wooden bleachers on the east side of the field some distance farther from the field than the big cement stands along side. The seats were by no means the best on the field. The wind blew a cloud of dust across the running track upon the Nebraska rooters.

Among the members of the cadet band who arrived in Iowa City Saturday morning, there was one large, soldierly looking cadet carrying no instrument, whose military carriage attracted considerable attention. Closer scrutiny proved it to be none other than Clint Ross, the giant colored guard who played such havoc with the Iowa line last year.

Iowa City entertained many visitors Friday and Saturday. The guest list began to increase rapidly Friday morning when some seventy-five Nebraskans arrived over, on, or about the Rocky Mountain Limited. From Friday morning until Saturday noon, Nebraskans poured into Iowa City by the score until the town was full to overflowing. Nebraska men all agree in saying that Iowa City is a live, wide

REPORT FROM MEMBER OF BOOSTER CROWD

Another Football Enthusiast Writes Story of Iowa Trip—Seven Hundred Boosters at Game.

The trip to Iowa City with the football team was enjoyed by everybody that succeeded in reaching that place. The special left here Friday night and returned early Sunday morning. The train at its arrival in Iowa City was met by only a few loyal Nebraska supporters. Scarcely a handful of Iowa men were at the train to greet Nebraska. After the victory in the afternoon the same spirit was shown. Nearly seven hundred Nebraska supporters attended the battle and aided the team by cheering them on to success. Everyone has read or heard about the particulars of the game so it is unnecessary to give that phase of the trip. After the game the team, band and rooters marched down town and then the celebration began. Members of the team were entertained at a dinner in the evening while the main body of rooters kept the town alive until their departure. It was a wonderful trip as everyone present can safely say, although a few came home with their pocketbooks empty.

NEBRASKA ALUMNUS MAKES GOOD RECORD

Mr. Sampson, 1907, Now in Employment of United States Forest Service Majored in Botany.

Mr. Sampson, University of Nebraska, 1907, is one of the Alma Mater graduates, who is winning fame of late in the world of science. While he was in the University he majored in Botany under Dean Bessey and received a straight science degree. For a number of years he has been an investigator in botanical subjects. Recently the United States Forest Service has employed him to analyze some intricate problems that have puzzled the foresters. His ability to solve unknowns which baffles the foresters makes us feel proud of him and reflects a bright light upon our halls of science.

MANY GOOD STUNTS AT FRESHMAN PARTY

When Results of Football Game Were Announced Girls Gave University Yells and Songs.

At 2:30 last Saturday afternoon a large crowd of Freshmen girls met in the Armory for their long anticipated party. Its purpose was to get acquainted and to organize in such a way that they can "do things" in school. Everyone had a splendid time and the whole affair was very successful.

When the girls arrived their names were pinned on them to enable them to become acquainted better. They were then given tiny pennants of different colleges. The members of each college gathered together, originated yells and put on stunts which varied from charades to a clever football game by the Nebraskans. This occasioned much merriment among the girls.

Miss Graham who has been very interested and has taken an active part in the affair gave a talk in which she said that the Freshmen girls show an unusual amount of college spirit this year.

Another feature of the afternoon was dancing. Refreshments of ice, wafers and candy were served by several of the Freshmen girls.

When, late in the afternoon the score of the Iowa game was announced the girls burst into the Cornhusker songs, U-U-Uni and afterwards the yells and it was dared anyone to say that the Freshmen girls didn't have any "pep."

A short business meeting was then held and it was decided to have a permanent social organization among the Freshmen girls to promote good fellowship. Miss Edith Youngblut was appointed chairman of the committee to take charge of this. It was also decided to have Freshmen girls' caps. A committee was appointed to look after this, of which Jean Burroughs was made chairman.

The surplus refreshments were then sent over to the Delinquency Committee to aid and strengthen them in the

RELIEF POSTPONED

NO ACTION WILL BE TAKEN UNTIL AFTER THANKSGIVING.

BENEFIT PROGRAM PLANNED

Plans in Line With Those Being Carried Out in Other Schools—Many Instructors in Favor of the Scheme.

Belgian relief from the University of Nebraska seems a certainty but in all probability no authorized action will take place before the close of the Thanksgiving vacation.

Professor Buck has been quite active in giving the matter publicity and he will probably direct the campaign. He states that while nothing definite has been decided upon a benefit in the form of a musical entertainment to be given by high class talent has been given some consideration.

Ernest Graves, who is also connected with the movement, said that it had been mentioned to him to forward the proceeds of the entertainment to the University of Louvain. According to the latest and most authoritative reports from the stricken country, the majority of the younger men retained in the university as instructors are suffering from insufficient nourishment and clothing, some of the men even being without shoes. Not only the professors are in a destitute condition. There is the same suffering among the student body. The few that have not enlisted are as much in want as the news reporters say, and the whole city is in the same deplorable state.

Miss Graham has said that she is in favor of alleviating the suffering abroad as soon as possible. The benefit plan presents a novel opportunity, but it is entirely a matter of speculation as to whether it will be used.

In whatever manner the money is raised it seems very appropriate that the University of Nebraska should be the one to provide for the University of Louvain.

In the city of Lincoln a committee for Belgian aid has already been organized and circulars have been sent out by the chairman, Mrs. W. G. Tay-

PROF. SCHRAGG SAYS JOKE IS ON ENGLAND

Russians Changed the Name of Their Capital so as to Drop Off the (Burg) on the End.

The committee is composed of citizens in the city who are well informed on the state of affairs abroad and efforts are being made to furnish not only financial aid but also clothing and such other things as may be useful to the inhabitants of the small country.

LAST CHANCE TO HELP THE NEEDY

University Students Urged to Leave Supplies at Y. W. C. A. Before 5 O'Clock This Afternoon.

University girls who wish to give either supplies or money toward Thanksgiving dinners for those who need them can do so by leaving their contributions in the Y. W. C. A. rooms by 5 o'clock this afternoon. Whatever is received will be turned over to the Charity Organization to be distributed by them. Miss Lulu Mae Coe is chairman of the committee.

This observance of Thanksgiving is to be supplemented by the University Y. W. C. A. by a vesper service at 5:00 this afternoon, at which Dr. L. D. Young of the First Presbyterian church will speak.

MUSEUM RECEIVES SEVERAL RELICS

Collection Dates Back Thousands of Years—Exhibition Will be Held in Museum in Few Days.

The Museum has been the recipient of several relics that date back anywhere from fifteen thousand years to perhaps several million years. There is a skull of some prehistoric mammoth which was found in this state and several thigh bones of several other forms of mammoth animals. There is one thigh bone there which has the unique distinction of being found at different time, and in different place. The cap of it was found several years ago and when the present main body of the bone was brought in Professor Barbour thought of the cap as the cap on the specimen was missing and it was brought in and tried on the bone and it also fitted. This is remarkable for the two parts were nowhere near one another and their discovery is several years apart. These bones were found in glacier deposits and were only two or three feet beneath the surface and are in very good condition considering the fact that they were so near the surface. They are being prepared for exhibition in the Museum and will be sent there in a few days. The Museum of the University of Nebraska is among the best in the United States and the fossil bones and remains of the prehistoric animals in it are among the best to be found anywhere. They are all in a remarkable state of preservation and this adds to the attractiveness of such exhibits and the students of this school are to be congratulated upon their fine Museum and much credit must be given to the people in charge of it as it is from their careful management that it is in as good condition as it is at the present time.

Drake is no exception to the rule, for it too has caught the Billy Sunday fervor. Recently all the sororities of Drake University formally voted to suspend all evening entertainments this month and next while the Billy Sunday meetings are in progress at Des Moines.

BEST IN THE WEST

HAWLEY ADMITS HAWKEYES ARE OUTCLASSED.

NEBRASKA NOT UP TO FORM

Cornhusker Machine Brilliant Only at Times—Hawkeyes Play Excellent Football Throughout Game.

By Ivan G. Beede, Staff Representative. Statement of the coaches:

Coach Hawley—"Nebraska won fair and square. They beat us on their field goals. It was a well played game. Both teams showed great football."

Coach Stiehm—"Iowa played the hardest game of any team Nebraska has met this season. Nebraska played excellent football, but was not at her best. The officials were fair and square in every respect. The game was a fitting climax to Halligan's, Howard's and Potter's football careers. Howard's tackling, receiving of forward passes, and punting, were the best of his career. Halligan's field goal kicking and forward passing were splendid exhibitions of football. Potter's generalship and touchdown made a splendid finish for his gridiron career."

To Captain Halligan, Howard and Potter, the three Cornhusker stars, who played their last game for the Scarlet and Cream Saturday, must go most of the credit for Nebraska's 16-7 victory over the Iowa Hawkeyes. It was Halligan's toe, Howard's wonderful snatching of forward passes, and Potter's generalship which kept Nebraska in the lead in Saturday's contest. It is peculiarly fitting that these three men who shall never again don a scarlet jersey, should be the ones to do the bulk of the work in upholding the honor of Missouri valley football against the Big Nine product, and their wonderful playing is a

HEWITT WINS IN THE ORATORICAL CONTEST

Chatt Takes Second Place With Magnuson, McMasters and Pascale in Order Named.

The Francis Willard W. C. T. U. oratorical contest was held Friday evening in the Temple Theatre. Five University men participated with orations of ten minutes length. The program also included several musical numbers.

The first prize was awarded to Homer G. Hewitt whose subject was "The Relation of Woman Suffrage and the Liquor Question." Harry P. Magnuson speaking on the second subject received third prize. L. O. Chatt carried off second honors with the subject "A Second Slavery." Fourth and fifth prizes were awarded to J. L. McMasters and Henry Pascale each spoke on "The Best Solution of the Liquor Traffic."

A good sized audience attended and much interest was evidenced in the contest. Five prizes aggregating $70, were awarded as follows: First prize, $25; second prize, $15; third prize, $12.50; fourth prize, $10; fifth prize, $7.50. The judges were M. M. Fogg, W. L. Locke, and Frederick Shepherd.
