GIRLS HOLD MASS MEETING TODAY

START MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN FOR CLUB

Committees on New Members, Posters and Publicity Named

A mass meeting of all university girls will be held in the Temple theatre after convocation today as a rally to start the Girls' club membership campaign with enthusiasm and interest. Nominations for officers for the coming year will be made by the members of the club.

Immediately after the meeting the membership campaign will begin. Louise Coe, general chairman, has divided her forces into two sides, which will work in rivalry during the campaign. They are represented by tags of contrasting colors—scarlet and cream—which will be worn by the girls who join the club now.

Florence Wirt, '17, is leader of the "Whites," and will be assisted by Doris Slater, Hermine Hatfield, Edna Ogden, Ora Neff, Florence Sandy, Helen Schwab, Marion Reeder, Katherine Newbranch and Harriet Ramey.

Bertha Driftmeier plans to lead the "Reds" to victory with the following force: Hester Dickinson, Mabeth Beach, Edla Collins, Dorothy Davies, Katherine Helzer, LaRue Gillern, Genevieve Bechter, Winifred Moran and Sara Thurman. At the close of the campaign, the losing side will entertain the winners.

The publicity committee consists of Edith Youngblut and Jean Burroughs for posters, and Eva Miller and Marguerite Kauffman for The Daily Nebraskan.

CONVOCAATION

The University Glee club will give selections from its extension week program at convocation Thursday morning at the Temple theatre. The program is as follows:

Ballad, "Lochinvar" (Sir Walter Scott).....Wm. Hammond
Prison Scene.....Il Trovatore
Hawaiian Melodies.....
.....Nebraska Hawaiian Quintet
College Songs.....Selected
This will be the only opportunity

DROP "SALOON" FROM "YELLOW DOG"

Objection Causes Misleading Title to Be Changed

In order to prevent any possible misapprehension, the title of "Yellow Dog Saloon" for the place where liquid refreshments may be had at the Farmers' Fair Friday at the farm, has been cut down to "The Yellow Dog." All the drinks to be served will be of the mildest sort, and some of the agricultural college students wanted the fact to be known beyond the shadow of a doubt. So they carried their objections to Dean Engberg, who readily saw that the word "saloon" might give rise to a misapprehension. Consequently the name of the place has been changed.

TESTING AIR IN THE LAW BUILDING

Chemists Will Learn Whether Violent Petition State Facts

Chancellor Avery has ordered a chemical investigation to be made of the air in the law building and library, to determine whether the air is as bad as was stated in a petition circulated among the law students, but never presented to the chancellor or other university authorities.

If the investigation discloses that the air is bad, there will be new conduits cut, and possibly new windows. Disinterested people have said that the wording of the petition gave an impression not strictly in accord with the facts. However, the chancellor is determined to learn the exact condition, and if a change must be made in the building, it will be done at once.

MID-WEST QUARTERLY OFF THE PRESS SOON

The Mid-West Quarterly, edited by Profs. P. H. Frye, H. B. Alexander and P. M. Buck, will be out soon. Of the eight articles in this issue, three are by university instructors. Dr. Louise Pound has written on "Balladry." Professor Frye's article is entitled "Screenings" and Professor Buck has written of "Americanism."

University students will have to hear the Glee club. No admittance will be charged.

MARY HALLER NAMES Y. W. C. A. CABINET

Eighteen Girls to Handle Association Work in 1916-17

Mary Haller, '17, the newly elected president of the university Y. W. C. A., yesterday announced the cabinet appointments for next year. The eighteen girls will have charge of all the association's activities.

Those appointed are as follows: Doris Weaver, '17, vice president. Ethel Stone, '17, secretary. Olive Behmer, '17, treasurer. Louise Coe, '17, advertising. Helen Humpe, '18, social. Florence Bishop, '18, music. Marjorie Cobb, '18, rooms. Edna Ogden, '17, social service. Florence Wirt, '17, missionary. Helen Schwab, '17, mission study. Cecile Baldwin, '17, Bible study. Bertha Driftmeier, '17, church affiliation. Harriet Ramey, '18, conference. Constance Lyford, '17, association news.

SUGGEST DATES FOR THE TRIP TO OMAHA

Formulating Plans for All-University Expedition—Cost About $3

April 29 or May 19 have been suggested as tentative dates for University Day at Omaha, when the entire student body will be the guests of the Commercial club of the metropolis for one whole day. These dates have been submitted by the Innocents to the university authorities and to Manager Parrish of the Omaha club, with the recommendation that one or the other be adopted.

Plans for the day will be rapidly drafted, and announced through The Daily Nebraskan as they are adopted by the Omaha club. There has been some speculation as to the number of students who will make the trip, it having been suggested that the probable maximum expense of $3 will bar a portion of the undergraduates. This amount covers railroad fare and possible incidentals. The Omaha business men have declared that the whole expense of entertainment at Omaha will be borne by them.

VARSIITY MEN OFF FOR MINNEAPOLIS

GYMNASTS, WRESTLERS, AND FENCERS IN W. I. G. A. MEE'

Max Baehr Represents Nebraska in Fencing—Drawing and Otoupalik Head Teams

Nebraska's representatives in the Western Intercollegiate Gymnastic association meet at Minneapolis Friday and Saturday nights left for the north yesterday at 6 p. m., accompanied by Prof. R. G. Clapp and A. R. Silvester, wrestling coach. The university will enter wrestlers in all six events, five men in the gymnastic events, and one man in fencing.

ENGLISH CLUB HIDES SECRET OF MYSTERIOUS JUG

Mystery! High on a dusty shelf, above volumes and volumes of rhetoric books, authorities on English composition, and perhaps a biography or two of some ancient writer, there sits a jug—not a 'little brown jug, etc.'—but a big, tannish jug. Although the cobwebs are hanging from the ceiling and are draped over the pictures, the "big tannish jug" shines brightly, and in large black letters can be seen the words "English Club."

Professor Gass averred that "cider" is kept in it, and served at every club meeting, by the official keeper, "a student you know." He also said, "Let me see, Miss Pound was one of the charter members, I believe."

Professor Buck insists that Professor Gass is official keeper of the jug, and Harvey Hess is his assistant.

Will someone please unravel the mystery of the jug?

SORORITIES PLEDGE TEN MORE GIRLS

Last Pledging of Year—Six Societies Did Not Pledge

On the last pledge day of the year, ten girls were pledged to seven sororities. Six sororities did not pledge. The following is the pledge list: Alpha Chi Omega—Katherine Gearhardt, Newmau Grove.

Alpha Delta Pi—Ruth Sanford, Frances Sanford, Omaha; Fern Noble, Shoshone, Idaho; Leona Wood, Erie, Pa. Alpha Xi Delta—Marie Clark, University Place; Jessie Apple, Broken Bow.

Alpha Omicron Pi—Hazel Cook, Omaha.

Delta Zeta—Grace Nichols, Lincoln.

Gamma Phi Beta—Virginia Chapin, Winside.

COMMERCIAL FEAST TO BE BIG AFFAIR

Savory Menu and Rare Smokes Have Been Secured

The annual banquet of the University Commercial club, to be held Friday evening at the Lincoln hotel, will be one of the biggest affairs strictly for the school of commerce. Richard V. Koupal, who is in charge of the arrangements, has secured the large dining room for the event.

The exact menu has not been announced, but the hotel chef is laboring to evolve something most delicious. A. J. Althouse, known as an expert on different brands of tobaccos, has selected a rare growth of the weed for the enjoyment of the banqueters. The complete toast list will be announced in tomorrow's Nebraskan.

LAWYER MUST HAVE CHARACTER

University of Pennsylvania Will Investigate Morals of Law Students

Philadelphia, Pa.—Beginning with the present year, no candidate for a degree from the law school of the University of Pennsylvania will receive his sheepskin, no matter how high his standing, unless his moral character is approved by the faculty.

That such a regulation has been incorporated in the statutes of the law school became known today. Provost Smith says it is the first time that any educational institution has stipulated such a requirement for a degree.

FARMERS' FAIR TO BE HUGE SPECTACLE

PICNICKERS TO USE GROVE AT THE STATE FARM

Program of Parade, Athletics, Side Show Attractions and Dance Will Be Given

"Farmers' Fair" is rapidly assuming proportions which justify the faith of the Ag. students in its success. Extra preparations are being made to accommodate the crowd expected. Tents are being erected along the "Pike," and booths and stands are being set up by busy canvasbacks and roustabouts, while the home economics girls are busily engaged in preparing the "feed." All college of agriculture classes will be excused all day Friday, and the entire university farm is to be turned over to the Fair. All departments will hold open house and visitors are welcome to inspect their work. All questions will be willingly answered by the professors in charge.

Various societies, families and parties are planning to picnic in the farm grove, and the management is making preparations for all who wish to enjoy the first picnic of 1916.

Porter Heads Athletics

Grove Porter has charge of the athletic events in the afternoon and has a splendid program. He is leading off with some fast baseball games, beginning at 2 p. m. University athletes will compete in the various track events to be held later in the afternoon. Prizes will be awarded to the winners. The greased pig contest is expected to provide some real thrills. The obstacle race is another feature event, and Porter has announced a first prize of $1 worth of tickets good any place on the "Pike," from the "Yellow Dog" to the dance, or the "Devil's Den."

The dance committee promises that the floor will be waxed with special care and that the dance is to be one of the biggest and best Lincoln has ever seen. Taylor has engaged two orchestras, with a total of fifteen pieces under the leadership of Hagensick, to play for the dancers. To allow dancers to go in and out, a novel scheme has been adopted by the management. Dances are to be 5 cents each, thus giving the dancers an opportunity to get out and visit "The Big Show," "The Japanese Tea Garden," "The Fortune Teller," or some other attraction.

B. G. Hayes has a regular Orpheum bill to offer in his "Big Show." He has engaged several acts which have never before appeared in Lincoln. He expects his "Milk Maids' Chorus" to score a big hit, and claims that his "Aesthetic Dancing" act is second to none. The "Minstrel Show" is another act that Hayes is banking on to win.

County Fair Atmosphere

The real county fair atmosphere is to be provided by confetti stands, shooting gallery, ball and diamond stunts, hamburger and lomo stands, and freak shows.

It is hoped that the "Farmers' Fair" at Nebraska university will soon rival the farmers' fair as it is presented at Missouri university, where it is the biggest event of the school year. Townspeople and farmers from all over the state attend the Missouri fair by the thousands, and it is claimed that the fair is the best advertising the University of Missouri has.

The Student Should Know—

THE STUDENT VOLUNTEERS

"Student Volunteers! Is that a new organization?" someone was heard to inquire.

"No, I should say not! It is very much alive. There has been a society at Nebraska university since 1915," a member replied.

"Well, tell me about it. What its purpose is, and who belongs to it. I don't like to miss out on anything."

"All right, then, here it is: Its purpose is to interest more students in the foreign missionary work; to help those already interested to know more about the work in the foreign countries; to help support some missionary in the 'field,' and to prepare its members for foreign service. This year the membership has grown to nineteen.

"The members are Livingston Gordon, Stanhope Pier, Glenn Everts, Harold Campbell, Paul Fouts, Earl

Starboard, George Odgers, Charles Hoffman, Will Urbach, Jess Watson, Margaret Seeck, Mildred Wesen, Eunice Munson, Louise Upson, Felicia Hekner, Dorcas Christensen, Blanche McCartney, Doris Slater and Mrs. S. R. Pier. Mr. Gordon is president and Miss Seeck vice president.

"As to the meetings, the men and women hold joint assemblies every two weeks and separate ones the alternate week. At this time some particular country or problem is discussed. The band is also divided into teams of three each, which speak at the young people's societies of the Lincoln churches. Their aim here is to propagate the missionary spirit and to give information concerning the student volunteer band.

"The last meeting was held Sunday, April 2, at the home of Doris Slater, when Mr. Urbach spoke on 'Japan.' The band is glad to welcome visitors, so come some time."
