

SOCIETY

ALPHA PHI PARTY

Alpha Phi entertained at the Lincoln hotel Saturday night. Eighty couples were present including representatives from other sororities. Prof. and Mrs. E. H. Barbour, Miss Ina Gittings and Mrs. Sam Waugh, Sr., were chaperones. The out-of-town guests were Mildred Smith, Shelton; Marian Miller, Lyons; Gretchen Edee, Pawnee City; Marjory Schoebell, McCook; Rita Carpenter, Margaretha Grimmel, Elizabeth Sturtevant, Irene Johnson, Omaha; Jeanette Welsh, Central City; Frances Dopsey, York; May Youngquest, Blanch McKee, Marie McKee, Helen Daniels, Lucile Work, Aurora; and Agnes Anderson, Grand Island.

SILVER SERPENT PARTY

Silver Serpents were hostesses to all junior girls, Saturday afternoon, in the Armory. An hour of dancing was followed by the following program: Dances—Ruth Beecher. Reading—Carolyn Kimball. Whistling solo—Dorothy Rhode. Dances—Elinor Frampton. The committee in charge of the party was Kate Helzer, Ermine Carmaen, and Hanna McCorkindale.

UNION SOCIETY

The Union Literary society met in Union hall at the Temple, Saturday evening. Prof. C. E. Persinger gave a very interesting lecture on "South America." A short musical program was given by Annie Mogenson, who played the mandolin, accompanied by Bernice Wirt on the piano. About seventy-five members were present. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program.

KEARNEY CLUB BANQUET

The Kearney club were guests of Miss Ada Kibler in the banquet room of the Temple Saturday evening.

Kansas is experiencing a little difficulty in getting judges and so far only one man has definitely agreed to come. He is E. M. Baniter, principal of the Polytechnic high school, Kansas City, Mo. Two conditional acceptances have been received from ex-Judge Henry C. McCune and ex-Judge John D. Park, both of Kansas City.

Business Manager R. J. Saunders and his assistants, Ellsworth Moser, Ivan Beede, and Robert Wenger, look for a bigger debate this year even than last year, which set up a new mark for debating at Nebraska. The two elements, wholesome desire for honorable revenge from the strutting Jayhawk bird, and the timeliness of the submarine question to be debated, is calculated to draw a crowd which will completely fill the Temple theatre.

Out-of-town attendance at the debate will be unusually large. High schools which are members of the Nebraska high school debating league will send delegations, and both Cotner and Wesleyan will be represented. An automobile party, with Principal C. K. Moore, '12, in charge, will come from the Nelson high school in the southern part of the state, according to word received by Prof. M. M. Fogg.

JACK BEST WARNS AGAINST OPEN LOCKERS

Jack Best wishes to again warn those men who persist in leaving their lockers open. Saturday he found thirteen lockers, containing good clothes, without locks. No responsibility whatever is taken by the University if things are stolen from the lockers and it is up to the men themselves to safeguard their own property.

FOOTBALL EDITIONS AT STATION A NOW

The business management of The Nebraskan has obtained a limited number of the special football edition issued during Thanksgiving recess and placed them on distribution at station A. Those who want extra copies may get them as long as they last.

Oberlin.—Twenty redheads have formed a permanent society to be known as "The Order of the Golden Fleece."

Thirty members enjoyed an informal social hour with music and games. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held after the Christmas vacation.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA DANCE

Alpha Chi Omega gave their annual Christmas dance at the Lindell, Saturday night. Fifty couples were chaperoned by Prof. and Mrs. G. W. Hood, Prof. and Mrs. Raymond J. Pool, and Miss Mary Smith. Among the out-of-town guests were Ethel Sloan, of Geneva, and Flo Boyles, of Alvo.

ALPHA ZETA BANQUET

Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, gave a banquet at the Lincoln hotel Saturday night, in honor of thirteen new members, who were initiated Thursday night at the farm campus. Harry Magnuson was toastmaster.

BLACK MASQUES TO ENTERTAIN SENIOR GIRLS

All senior girls will be entertained by the Black Masques, Saturday, December 16, at 2:30 p. m., at the Temple. Besides a play, there will be dancing and a "social spell-down"—something very new and interesting.

Sigma Tau gave a dancing party at the Anceia house Saturday night, which was attended by fifteen couples. Prof. and Mrs. B. G. Elliott chaperoned.

The Dramatic club will hold its fifteenth annual Christmas party in the club rooms in University hall Tuesday evening. A Christmas program and Christmas tree will provide the evening's entertainment.

"Cum Laude" Sweaters

Funny how ubiquitous a sweater is. From matriculation to graduation its uses are multitudinous, its paths devious. And how nomadic, too. The athlete's luxurious shaker, proudly alphabetized, migrates from "stude" to co-ed, from frat house to girl's dorm. If it's a Bradley, it abides there.

SIX WEEKS BIBLE STUDY ENDED

Attendance of 135 Out of 152 Co-eds Shows Success of Work

With an average attendance of approximately 135 out of an enrollment of 152, the Y. W. C. A. bible study classes last week closed a remarkably successful six weeks study of the life of Paul.

This is the first time for a number of years that any such classes other than those offered by the churches, have been given. Cecil Baldwin, '17, was chairman of the committee, which consisted of twenty members.

Eight meeting places were selected, and on Thursday evenings, the members of the class went to the nearest meeting place and spent the hour from 7 until 8, in study. The lesson outline was prepared by Miss Fannie Drake, the Y. W. C. A. secretary.

The third and sixth meetings were joint meetings held in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. Dr. H. B. Alexander, professor of philosophy, discussed the historical background of Paul's life at the third meeting. He told of the political and social conditions of that time.

Rev. H. R. Chapman of the Lincoln First Baptist church talked on the epistle of Paul at the last meeting.

DEBATING TEAMS READY FOR FRAY

cadet band will be there to cheer the Nebraska boys on to greater heights of oratory, and cheerleaders will lead the crowd in a little demonstration of what Nebraska can do with her yells when she gets right down and works. Members of both the Nebraska teams are in good condition, and will fight the battles of their lives.

An Exciting Battle

Those who listened to Nebraska's verbal victory over Kansas a year ago declare that the debate Wednesday night will be almost as exciting as a gridiron battle. The increased rivalry between the two universities and the conflicting opinions on the timely question to be argued both combine to insure a lively scrap.

The Lawrence debate has been set back to an unusual hour, 4 o'clock in the afternoon. It was originally scheduled for 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, when the argument at Lincoln will begin, but Nebraska was notified Saturday that the Jayhawkers would give a smoker that evening in honor of the football heroes who accomplished the defeat of Nebraska. Nebraskans are planning to take a little of the joy away from the evening's entertainment by giving Kansas a decisive defeat in the debate of the afternoon.

The Kansas teams are said to be happy in the anticipation of accomplishing something another debating team has never been able to do since either school began to keep an official record of debate—beat Nebraska. Since the football team ventured into the land of the enemy this fall, caught Nebraska, and impolitely threw away the goose-egg which Nebraska was in the custom of giving her, all Jayhawker intercollegiate activities have also developed a sudden determination to play the Jack the Giant Killer part. With a trio of veterans meeting Nebraska at Lawrence and one veteran leading the Jayhawker argument at Lincoln, Kansas is expecting to break another chain of Nebraska victories when the two universities debate.

Judge Can't Come

One of the judges secured for the debate at Lincoln, Prof. Paul Peck, department of history, Grinnell college, wired Prof. M. M. Fogg Saturday afternoon that he was ill and could not be present Wednesday evening. Professor FOGG immediately wired a member of the faculty of the department of economics, University of Iowa, but had received no answer late Saturday evening. The two judges already secured are Prof. Frank Horack and Prof. E. A. Wilson, both of the college of law, University of Iowa.
