CHARLES W. KALEY, ONCE REGENT, DIED IN CALIFORNIA

News of the death in Los Angeles, Cal., of Charles W. Kaley of Red Cloud, a former regent of the University, was received by Chancellor Avery yesterday. Mr. Kaley left Nebraska December 26, in good health. In Los Angeles he contracted a cold which developed into pneumonia and ended in his death last Saturday.

The body is being brought back to Nebraska for burial. The funeral will be held at the home in Red Cloud, Thursday. Chancellor Avery and other Lincoln friends of Mr. Kaley expect to attend.

Prominent alumni whose photographs are in the picture are Willa Cather, '95, a successful writer of New York city; Dr. H. B. Alexander, '97, professor of philosophy here; E. C. Elliott, '95, chancellor of the Montana university; Keene Abbott, who is connected with the Omaha World-Herald; Olivia Pound, '95, A. M. '97, instructor in the Lincoln high school.

CO-ED NEWS NOTES

The girls' basketball teams will be chosen soon. Hard practice has been going on since Thanksgiving vacation.

There will be no make-up classes held in gymnasium this semester. Those who are unlucky enough to have too many skips will be compelled to make it up next semester.

Examinations in the aesthetic dancing classes will begin today. Note books are due this week.

MISS EDITH M. DABB WILL SPEAK AT Y. W. C. A. VESPER TODAY

Miss Edith M. Dabb of New York city, who is supervisor of the associations in Indian schools and reservations, will speak at vesper service at 5 o'clock this afternoon. She has visited practically every school and reservation in the country and comes here from the schools of the west and north. She has just finished organizing an association at Genoa, Neb.

Miss Dabb has had an opportunity to know Indian girls and Indian life very well and can tell many interesting stories. She has ridden many miles with Indian guides in getting to reservations and has had all sorts of queer adventures. She is now on her way to the Haskell Indians at Lawrence, Kas.

Special guests at the service will be Miss Eliza R. Butler of New York city, national secretary for secondary schools, and Miss Edith Helmer of Minneapolis, who is one of the student secretaries for the north-central field. Both are in the city to hold a conference of high school associations. Four high schools of this vicinity will comprise the conference. The Lincoln high school, the Temple high school and the state agricultural school, and the University Place high schools will be represented.

Katharine Schooler, '28, of Superior, who has been attending the University of Wisconsin, registered at Nebraska yesterday.

Helen Kendall, '19, who has been at her home in Superior, is again attending college.

LIVE STOCK MEN COME NEXT WEEK

RECORD BREAKING ATTENDANCE FOR ORGANIZED AGRICULTURE

Strong Series of Programs Arranged—Interest Keener Than Ever

Live stock men at the University farm predict a record-breaking attendance at annual meetings of live stock associations in Lincoln during Organized Agriculture Week, January 15 to 19. Interest is said to be keener than ever before.

One of the reasons for this expected increase is that the National Western Live Stock show is scheduled at Denver, January 22 to 27, the week following Organized Agriculture at Lincoln. Heretofore, this event has been in progress during the winter meetings at Lincoln. This year, however, stockmen will be able to attend both meetings.

A strong series of programs has been arranged for the live stock meetings. E. C. Stone, secretary of the American Hampshire Swine Record association, of Peoria, Ill., will appear at the meeting of the Swine Breeders' association, January 16 and 17. He will give an address on "Pigs is Pigs," and will give a toast at the Nebraska Improved Live Stock Breeders' banquet, January 17. Mr. Stone has a national reputation, having put the Hampshire in almost every state in the union.

Prof. W. J. Kennedy, of Sioux City, is another drawing card on the live stock programs. He was head of the animal husbandry department at Ames for many years and later of the extension department of the same institution. He has a world-wide reputation as a stock judge and animal husbandry expert.

Missouri Man Coming

Prof. Howard Hackedorn, of Columbia, Mo., will speak at the sheep breeders' Wednesday, January 17. He will also lead the discussion Tuesday on "Self-feeders for Swine."

Charles Escher, Jr., of Botna, Ia., owner of the largest pure-bred Angus herd in the world is to appear on the cattle program Thursday, January 18. He is said to have fitted more grand champion carloads of fat steers at the International Live Stock show than any one exhibitor in the United States.

Prof. W. A. Cochel, head of the animal husbandry department, Manhattan, Kas., a leader in experimental work with beef cattle, also appears on the program. W. L. Miller, of Omaha, Neb., appears January 18. Clarence Bock, David City, Neb., one of the largest sheep breeders and feeders in the state speaks January 17.

Complete programs of all meetings of Organized Agriculture may be secured upon application to the agricultural extension service of the University of Nebraska.
