

NEWS FROM CAMP

J. W. Buchta, ex-'18, is now in Company L, 344th infantry, N. A., located at Camp Funston, Kan. The department of electrical engineering has received a very interesting letter from F. C. Holz, ex-instructor in the department, now with headquarters company, 355th infantry, Camp Funston. He says the men in the camps are receiving the best of care and feeling fine. He says "Don't know how soon we are to leave for France, but if I feel any finer than I do now, it will be a difficult job to keep me from going."

Herbert Reese, '16, of Randolph, commissioned second lieutenant at Fort Snelling, is now in France receiving further military training.

ENGINEERS MEET TO ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Agricultural Society Will Hold a Meeting Every Four Weeks During the Present Year

The Agricultural engineers held a meeting at the home of Prof. L. W. Chase Wednesday evening at which the following officers were elected: J. M. Root, president; R. L. Sims, vice-president; R. P. Lintz, secretary and treasurer; J. E. Turner, representative and Whitnah, chairman of the committees, which were elected to make posters.

A social hour was enjoyed after the business had been disposed of. Many new students were present beside the regular members. It was decided to hold a meeting every four weeks.

Illinois and Minnesota to Meet Iowa in Debates

Plans for another year of inter-collegiate debate work have been formed. Prof. G. N. Merry announced that both Minnesota and Illinois have accepted the question our debating league presented to them "Resolved, that congress should adopt legislation providing for the compulsory arbitration of all labor disputes as a permanent policy, constitutionality agreed."

George Murray of Sheldon, Ia., senior law, will coach both teams. Mr. Murray has had much experience in debate work here in the University and is a member of the Delta Sigma Rho. He will start immediately to work with the men. The first debate will take place November 7th.—Daily Iowan.

ago. Mr. Quiggle appealed to the students to support the team to the last word and he was confident the team would perform their part of the contract to win for Nebraska.

Throughout the hour Dwight Thomas led the cheers when ever there was an intermission.

At the close of the program "Dusty" Rhodes led the team in a rousing recitation of "Number One."

Women Students Have War Work Council

A woman's war work council has just been organized by women students at the University of Wisconsin to systematize and direct the work that women students undertake to aid the nation. The project is under the women's self government association.

The four branches of the council are: committee on regulation of activities, headed by Miss Helen M. Davis, Delavan; Red Cross committee, headed by Miss Helen P. Bull, Oak Park, Ill.; state council of defense committee, headed by Miss Alice R. Van Hise, Madison; and the Y. W. C. A. emergency work committee.

The committee on regulation of activities will carry on a campaign to prevent extravagance in student social affairs and to encourage same, athletic living to keep students at the highest point of efficiency. The Red Cross committee will further develop the work started last spring of holding classes in bandage making, knitting for soldiers, and other Red Cross work.

74 Wisconsin Faculty Absent in War Work

Some seventy-four members of the faculty and instructional staff of the University of Wisconsin are absent in various kinds of war service this fall, according to a summary prepared by President C. R. Van Hise at the opening of the college year.

Of these at least thirty-five have commissions in the army and navy, and at least seventeen are attending officers' training camps or have been drafted into the national army. Four are majors, ten are captains, and a number are lieutenants.

About ninety-four members of the faculty, other than those having commissions, were reported at the beginning of the autumn semester as having given to war work all or a large part of their time since the outbreak of the war; and many more participated in various directions to a less extent. Many of these men who have been giving the major portion of their time during the summer to war work are now back at the university, but seventy-four will continue in war service for a part or all of the year.

THE DRESS IS THE MAIN THING IN

Women's Attire

Your Fall and Winter wardrobe should be built around your Dresses. So it behooves you to select them with more than the usual care, and to make sure that they show some of these trifling, yet tremendously important, touches that denote them as out of the common place.

To satisfy our Customers' requirements for distinctive dresses they can yet be bought at reasonable figures, for we have exerted all our buying powers in the big dress markets of this season and lead in the showing of dresses to which we now invite your attention. It speaks eloquently of our success in combining originality of style with moderation of price.
