STRINGENT RULES ISSUED FOR SMALLPOX PREVENTION

Vaccination or Inspection Required of All on Campus

NEED OF CARE IMPERATIVE

Students Not Successfully Treated Within Last Year Must Be Treated at Once If They Enter Campus

Rules for the prevention of small pox to be observed by students, faculty and University employees have been issued by Dean R. A. Lyman of the college of pharmacy and physiology and chairman of the committee on the prevention of the spread of the epidemic.

It is necessary in view of present conditions to exercise the greatest precaution in this matter if a general epidemic of the disease, both in the city and the University, is to be avoided. University authorities are greatly concerned and are making every possible effort to combat a further spread of the disease.

Already a dozen or more cases have developed among students and there is a possibility of many more cases being contracted unless everyone pays the strictest observance to the rules given out by Dean Lyman. Monday noon only one new case had been reported to the department although others were known to exist.

The first day's vacation is expected to serve as an effective check to the spread of the contagion about the campus for the present.

Bar the Untreated

When the students return to classes next Monday morning they will find a censor at the University entrance to bar their admittance to classes unless the rules have been observed as issued.

Those who have been successfully vaccinated within the past year will be required to produce certificates of evidence from their physician. Persons having had smallpox will also need to show statements to that effect. All others must be examined or vaccinated. Students remaining in the city during the Thanksgiving vacation and those returning early Sunday afternoon must report for inspection or vaccination and receive an official card which will permit them to enter the campus on Monday morning. These cards must be presented at the Eleventh street entrance before admittance to the campus will be granted. Those not inspected Sunday afternoon will report to the Armory at the east entrance Monday morning for inspection or vaccination. Students not wishing to be vaccinated on account of religious and other reasons must arrange for daily inspection.

The Rules

Following are the rules prepared by Dr. Lyman which will be carried out under the direction of University authorities:

All students who have not been successfully vaccinated within a year must be vaccinated at once. Have this done by your family physician or some health officer and obtain from him a statement of the time when it was done.

If you have been successfully vaccinated within a year bring a statement from the physician who did the operation.

If you have had smallpox bring a statement to that effect from the physician who attended you at that time.

Students remaining in the city during the vacation.

ANNUAL FOOTBALL EDITION NOW IN PREPARATION

Daily Nebraskan's Sixteen-Page Review of the 1917 Season Out Thursday

A special sixteen-page football edition of The Daily Nebraskan with a complete review of the season's sport news will be issued Thursday. Regular subscribers may obtain their copies at Station "A" between 8 and 9 o'clock Thursday morning. Copies will be sold at the game Thursday afternoon at a charge of five cents. The purpose of this issue is to summarize the things of greatest importance in the schedule of the season and to pay permanent tribute to the Cornhuskers, especially to the third year men, who have represented their Alma Mater on the gridiron.

Among other articles the special edition will contain the review of the season. The Daily Nebraskan's first and second all-valley eleven and write ups of the individual members of the squad. As usual, two pages will be devoted to cuts of the squad and individual members.

There will be no more publications of The Nebraskan for this week after today. The first issue after the Thanksgiving vacation will be that of next Tuesday. All news to date and University notices will be found in the special edition of Thursday.

Members of Twins' Club Enjoy Wiener Roast

The members of the Twins' club had a delightful time at their wiener roast Friday night at Antelope park. Mr. and Mrs. Davis acted as chaperones.

Though one of the youngest organizations at the University, the club has grown until at present it has a membership of over thirty. It has adopted French orphan twins for a period of two years, besides subscribing liberally to the Red Cross and Red Triangle funds.

The social committee is planning a unique Christmas party to be held on Friday evening, December 14, at the home of Bess and Jess Ertel at 516 North Sixteenth street.

ANNUAL THANKSGIVING CONVOCATION TODAY

Governor Neville's Proclamation Will Be Read in Memorial Hall at 11

Governor Neville's proclamation will be read at the annual Thanksgiving Convocation at 11 o'clock this morning in Memorial hall. Chancellor Avery will preside. The University chorus, accompanied by a string orchestra, the organ and piano, will sing "The Pilgrims." Prof. Alice Howell, director of dramatics, will read "The Tribute to the Flag," by Dr. H. B. Alexander, professor of philosophy.

Chancellor Avery announced yesterday that although the laboratories will not be closed during Convocation time, those who wish to attend will be excused from laboratory work. Students from classes at the farm will also be excused to attend the meeting.

E. J. Walt will play the first violin, Mrs. August Molzer, second violin, William T. Quick, the viola, Lillian Eiche the cello, Allan Crosby the bass, Catherine Benner the piano, Mrs. Louise Zumwinkle Watson the piano.

The program follows:

"The Pilgrims"—Shadwick...Chorus

The readings of the Governor's proclamation.

"Tribute to the Flag," by Dr. Alexander, read by Prof. Alice Howell.

"America"—Chorus and audience.

Women to Sew for Bazaar During Coming Vacation

University women are requested to employ a part of their Thanksgiving vacation in making articles to sell at the bazaar which will be held for the benefit of the Y. W. C. A. The committee asks that the more expensive articles be eliminated and the time be spent in making those things which will require only an hour's time or less and which may be disposed of at moderate prices.

Everything must be handed in at the office of Miss Drake by December 8. The bazaar will be held December 12 in the rest room at Miller & Paines. The proceeds from this will be used for the purchase of furnishings for the Y. W. C. A. rooms.

Conduct Examinations for Aviation Corps

Mental and physical examinations are being given by the Omaha signal reserve aviation corps, for those who wish to enter aviation training schools.

The mental examination includes questions on astronomy, barometer reading and engine. The physical examination consists of four eye tests, three nose tests and three ear tests.

When an applicant has passed these examinations, he enlists as a first-class private in the U. S. signal reserve corps, and receives $100 per month while in the training school. If his work in the training school is satisfactory, he receives a commission.

FIVE HUNDRED STUDENTS IN SEASON'S FINAL RALLY

Pep Meeting in Armory Primes Huskers for Big Thanksgiving Giving Battle

Nearly five hundred students gathered in the Armory last evening in the biggest rally of the season to prime the Missouri valley champions for the big intersectional battle Thursday.

The pep session started with the singing of the "University Ode," Nebraska's alma matter song, the band accompanying, and a short preliminary run through the varsity yells. Captain Shaw gave the pith of the team's spirit in the opening talk when he said that the Cornhuskers would be out to do their best, and would fight through to the end. Johnny Cook promised the students that the team would have a few surprises in store for the easterners on Turkey day. Otonpalik, the last of the third-year men to speak, expressed his appreciation of the Nebraska spirit shown this year, and promised that if the coach would allow the hospital corps to get into the game Thursday the Syracuse eleven would have to go some to get within striking distance of the Husker goal.

Coach Stewart gave the dope on the Thanksgiving contest and showed by comparative scores that Nebraska was up against the hardest proposition of the season. "With the proper spirit and fight," he said "Nebraska has a chance to win." He said "he had told the team that if it put up the same kind of a fight as it did against Notre Dame that it would be able to hold the easterners to even points at least. He urged that the support of every member of the student body was necessary if the team was to be at its best.

O. J. Fee, an alumnus and a constant follower of Nebraska football, told the students of the spirit that was necessary to bring victory to the Cornhusker camp. "The fact," he said, "that the team members see you are behind them tonight and will know that you are boosting for them Thursday will make them fight just twice as hard."

Prof. G. E. Condra closed the rally in a talk in which he urged that students get the feeling that Nebraska men, Nebraska grit and Nebraska fight are just as good as in other states. The students must get behind the team, the team must get together and all must work with the idea that real fight and real spirit will bring victory. "If such are the conditions Thursday," he said, "Nebraska will bring home the bacon."

Lively Chosen Head of University Peru Club

Charles E. Lively was elected president of the Peru club, and Eliza Bodwell was made secretary, at a meeting of the club at the Women's building last Saturday evening. Bess Ertel was appointed program chairman for the next meeting of the club which will be held after January first.

This club is one of the oldest organizations of the University. It includes students and faculty members who at some time attended Peru Normal.

PRESIDENT COMMENDS WORK OF FOUR-MINUTE MEN

In one hundred and eighteen cities and towns of Nebraska the division of four-minute men of the United States Committee of Public Information is now organized, with a regiment of over 875 accredited government speakers to bring to the people, assembled in theaters, authoritative information on vital subjects connected with the war.

President Wilson, who authorized the organization of the division, the work of which he has requested be extended as rapidly as possible, has sent the following message to the Nebraska Four-Minute Men and the other 14,000: "My best wishes and continuing interest are with you in your work as part of the reserve officers' corps in a nation thrice armed because through your efforts it knows better the justice of its cause and the value of what it defends."

Eleven additional chairmen have been appointed by Prof. M. M. Fogg, head of the division of Nebraska—at Bloomfield, Chester, Clarks, Genoa, Grand Island, Guide Rock, Harvard, Long Pine, Staplehurst, St. Edward and Stromsburg.

Syracuse to Be Feared

Coach Stewart was much impressed with the play of the easterners last Saturday and described them as the cleverest and most intelligent team he has ever seen. The eleven men with two possible exceptions are short and heavy built, the type that move quickly, though not with a phenomenal amount of speed. Although not tall they all show marvelous physical strength and know no such word as quit, after they have once started.

The defeat of the Michigan Aggies last Saturday was accomplished by this team with four and through part of the game five substitutes. Finsterwald and Malone, two of the quartet of star backfield men were saved for Nebraska and both of the regular guards were missing from the lineup.

Prof. M. M. Fogg Appointed to War Savings Committee

Prof. M. M. Fogg, state director of the division of Four-Minute-Men of the United States committee on Public Information and recently made director of the bureau of speakers and publicity of the Nebraska State Council of Defense, has been appointed member of the government's state war savings committee.

This committee has charge of the sale of $26,000,000 of war savings certificates. These certificates are in amounts from 25 cents to $5. Banks will pay 4 per cent interest on them.

FRESHMEN AND JUNIORS PLAY TO SCORLESS TIE

First-Year Men Show Greater Strength but Overconfidence Hinders Efficient Work

The interclass football championship battle, engaged in by the freshman and junior teams yesterday afternoon, ended in a 0 to 0 score. For once, and it is a great exception in football, the score nearly indicates the comparative merits of the two teams, as they played in that game. There is little doubt that had the first year men gone into the game with the same spirit as the junior aggregation did the battle would have resulted in a victory for their eleven. Over-confidence was the cause of the poor showing made by the freshmen.

An injury to Melvin Bekins, freshman star back, retarded the play of the team somewhat as he was counted on for the kicking and forward passing as well as the big gains when carrying the ball. In his place Sherman, quarterback on the first year team, showed up as a heady player as well as one that could carry the ball for good gains.

For the juniors Pickett and Brown played the best games, although Reynolds let presence in the game be known by stopping several plays. The juniors took advantage of every misplay of the first year men recovering several fumbles and one of their own punts that had been blocked.

The next game between the two teams will be played sometime after vacation.

The Lineup

Receive Reclamation File

A complete file of the reclamation record beginning with 1909 has just been received by the state historical society from the Reclamation service at Washington, D. C., and the station at Mitchell, Neb. The record gives an account of the federal irrigation work in this state. The historical society will hereafter receive this record whenever published.

Speaks on Russia

Prof. Laura B. Pfeiffer, talked on "Russia," before a large audience at College View Saturday evening for the lecture club.

HUSKERS FINISH LAST SCRIMMAGE OF SEASON

Have Last Real Scrimmage With Freshmen

COUNT ON SPEED TO WIN

Practically All Old Men To Be in Game Except Riddell Who Is Out With Injuries

What is supposed to have been the last scrimmage of the season took place on Nebraska field yesterday, with the varsity lined up in a mild workout with the first-year men. Fearing injuries, as the varsity had previously designated the night as "kill-em-off night," when the freshmen were supposed to get "what was coming to 'em," Coach Stewart refused to allow any hard work.

All the men on the squad are in fair shape and by Thursday should be in as good condition as they have been in at any time this season. Riddell has not been out to practice since the Kansas game and will probably be in citizen clothes at the game, at least he will have no chance to participate. Practically every other man on the squad is in condition to go into the game if needed. Captain Shaw, Schellenberg and McMahon are suffering from minor injuries but will probably all start the game.

Field General Still Unchosen

Whether Cook or McMahon will start the game at right half is not certain as yet as both men have been playing the position in the practices of the week. It is certain that McMahon will get into the game in the early stages as his speed will be depended upon to gain ground when other sources fail. The other three backfield men are almost certain to be the same as those who started the Kansas game, Dobson, Schellenberg and Hubka.

In the line Kellogg and DuTeau will probably fill the only vacant spots. Rhodes and Kellogg will be at the ends; Shaw and Wilder at the tackles and Kositzky and DuTeau at the guards with gigantic Bill Day at the pivot position. Day will have the hardest opponent on the Syracuse line to combat. Robinson, the Orange center has been picked by many critics as a likely candidate for all-American honors. According to Coach Stewart, who saw Syracuse play Saturday, the big center plays hard and "dirty" throughout the game and takes all the punishment that is coming to him without flinching.

Women to Learn Red Cross Work for Homes

A Red Cross home nursing class will be organized the week following Thanksgiving, open to all women of the faculty and the administrative force. Mrs. Max Westerman, a Red Cross nurse, will direct the course which consists of fifteen one-hour lectures.

The object of the course is to prepare women for home nursing but does not qualify the members of the class to nurse outside their own homes.

The first meeting of the class will be held sometime next week, the exact date to be announced later in The Nebraskan. At this meeting the time of the meetings will be decided. More detailed information may be had from Miss Winifred Hyde at L 111.

RED TRIANGLE FUND NEARS $25,000 MARK

Individual Subscription Added Daily to Pledges Made at Rally

Daily additions to the Red Triangle fund have pushed the total near to the $25,000 mark. Although the active campaign closed officially with the big rally last Friday many individuals are still bringing in their pledges.

A count has been made of the subscriptions to date but no complete report can be made until after the Thanksgiving vacation.

Nebraska spirit has risen to its height in this work and although the financial campaign is at an end the (Continued on page two.)
