HUSKERS LACK EXPERIENCE

Schellenberg and Jackson Star—Team
Plays Tigers Tonight and Tomorrow
Night—Remaining Games at Home

The first venture of the University of Nebraska's inexperienced basketball team into Missouri Valley circles ended disastrously, when Washington university drubbed the Huskers in Wednesday night's game at St. Louis, by a score of 44 to 17.

Although the score was lopsided, the game was no walk-away, and the Nebraskans lived up to their promise that they would fight till the last whistle. There were small hopes of winning from the minute the two teams appeared on the floor. The St. Louis aggregation was much the heavier, and had the advantage of being made up of players who had had long experience in the game. The inexperience of the Cornhuskers was undoubtedly the chief factor in their defeat. They were not self-confident or experienced enough to work their own plays effectively, and could not see through the masked plays of the Washingtonians in time to prevent disaster. Schellenberg and Jackson played the best games for Nebraska.

Tonight the team will play the first game of a two-game series with the University of Missouri at Columbus, Mo. The Tigers have a team that is even stronger than Washington, and so far have been looking like winners in the conference for this year. There is small chance for a Nebraska victory in these two games, unless the team shows a great lot of improvement. These will be the last games of the season to be played away from home. These are probably the two hardest teams that the Huskers will be called upon to face this year. Therefore the team is thought to have a good chance of winning most of the remaining games on the schedule.

The Line-Up

The line-up for the game with Washington was as follows:

Nebraska	Pos.	Washington
Jackson	rf.	Duncker
Thomas	lf.	Benway
Hubka	c.	Marquerd
Adkins	rg.	Powden
Schellenberg	lg.	Kamp

Substitutes: Nebraska—Gerhart, Spears; Washington—Stapleton, Russell.

Field Goals: Thomas, 2; Jackson, 1; Gerhart, 1; Schellenberg, 1; Duncker, 4; Benway, 3; Marquerd, 6; Stapleton, 6; Rowden, 3; Kamp, 2.
Foul Goals: Jackson, 7; Marquerd, 8; Stapleton, 8.
Referee—Allen.
Time of Halves—Twenty minutes.

CALL FIRST PRACTICE FOR NEW ORCHESTRA

Meet Tomorrow at 10 O'clock
—Is Being Organized by
Prof. Herbert Grumann

The first practice of the new University orchestra, which is being organized by Professor Grumann, will be held tomorrow from 10 to 12 o'clock. After the first of March an evening practice will be held once each week in addition to the regular Saturday meetings.

Mr. Quick is to be the leader of the orchestra, and it is his request that every one who is interested in the new organization, and who might wish to join the same, hand in their names today to Professor Grumann in the Library building.

Nebraska is at present the only university in this part of the country that does not boast of an orchestra. Kansas, Iowa and Missouri all have such organizations, and have done good work along this line. About fifteen students have already expressed a desire to join the orchestra, but it is the wish of Professor Grumann that two or three times that number will report. For further information about the new work, all students are asked to speak to Professor Grumann.

WAR SAVINGS DRIVE WILL CLOSE TODAY

"Baby Bonds" Will Be Important Factor in Winning War

NOW COST $4.13 A PIECE

Pay Nearly 4½ Per Cent Interest—200 Students Form Campaigning Committee to Sell Stamps

The big drive in the interest of the war savings which has been carried on in all earnestness since the first of the week will close today noon. It is expected that every student in the University will have purchased a thrift stamp.

War savings stamps come within the reach of everybody. Where it requires $50 to buy a liberty bond, it requires $4.13 to purchase a war savings stamp and 25 cents to buy a thrift stamp. With the purchase of the first war savings stamp you are presented with a war savings certificate. Lick the stamp, place it on the certificate, and you have helped lick the kaiser.

When you buy the first thrift stamp you are given a thrift card. Put these together and keep adding 25-cent thrift stamps until the card is filled with sixteen of these stamps. Then it can be exchanged for a war savings stamp upon payment of the difference between $4.00 and the price of a war savings stamp.

The war savings stamp which sells for $4.13 this month is redeemable in cash, but a thrift stamp is not. It is pointed out by the treasury department that thrift stamps are not made redeemable for the reason that these stamps are simply intended as a convenient method for the small savers to accumulate enough to purchase war savings stamps, which bear interest and are redeemable in cash.

Will Economize Thrift

The government expects to raise two billion dollars within a year by the sale of these stamps. Thus it can be seen that these "Baby Bonds" are playing an important part in financing the war. But of greater importance than this is the fact that they will encourage thrift in this country. Each person buying a stamp is impressed with the idea of thrift and saving and it is expected by the government that this will result in relieving much of the pressure upon the industries of the country and will make it possible for them to turn more attention and aid toward the carrying on of the war. Factories will be able to increase their war output and this will be one of the largest factors in helping to win the war.

Under the direction of Prof. R. D. Scott, a permanent committee of 200 has been formed for the purpose of patriotic campaigning for liberty bonds, Red Cross, Red Triangle and all other branches of war work. The committee consists of 100 boys and 100 girls under the direction of twenty captains. Walter Johnson is overseeing the solicitation of all the boys and Marlon Hall of the girls. The committee aims to see every student on the city campus in regard to subscribing for the war saving.

On account of the fact that this is the beginning of the second semester, many addresses are not correct and many of the new students do not have cards. Those, who for this reason are not solicited, should consider it their patriotic duty to buy them at T. A. Williams' office, where they will be on sale.

NEW CANDIDATES SWING INTO LINE

Bruce Raymond and Jack Landale Registered Yesterday

FILINGS CLOSE TONIGHT

Work Mostly in Secret in Preparation for Big Drive to Last After 5 O'clock Today Until Tuesday

The first bit of known rivalry developed in the political campaign yesterday with the filing of Bruce M. Raymond of Lincoln for business manager of the 1919 Cornhusker. Lester W. Hansen of Omaha is the other man in the race. The single other filing yesterday, that of Jack Landale of Omaha, filled in the vacancy that had existed in the freshman ballot.

The registration closes at 5 o'clock tonight and all those who intend to get into the second semester scrimmage must make their registration with the registrar before that time. A number of rumors of last-minute candidates were abroad on the campus yesterday afternoon but most of the work is being done on the quiet and among those of the inner circle, preparatory to the big drive after the filings close.

Co-eds were busy yesterday in secret consultations and there seems little doubt but that they will pull down one or two of the important offices. Two co-ed filings are expected before the filing is closed this evening. Some new entries are expected in all four of the old classes and the aspirants for Ivy Day orator will probably record themselves this afternoon.

Election Next Tuesday

The polls at the west end of the Armory will be open next Tuesday at 9 o'clock and will remain open until 12 o'clock. In the afternoon the votes may be cast from 2 until 5 o'clock. The place the farm vote will be taken is not known at present but the polling place will be open the same time there as on the city campus. The Daily Nebraskan issued at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning will contain a complete list of the candidates and the records in school.

Following is the way the ballot looks:

For Senior President	Elizabeth Erazim
For Junior President	D. V. Stephens
For Sophomore President	Lawrence Shaw
For Freshman President	Jack Landale
For Editor 1919 Cornhusker	Robert Wenger
For Junior Managing Editor Cornhusker	Harold Gerhart
For Business Manager Cornhusker	Lester W. Hansen
	Bruce M. Raymond

But the Co-Eds Are Prettier

When it comes to effectually blocking a sidewalk, barbed wire entanglements have nothing on three or four co-eds walking with locked arms.

SORORITY QUINTETS TO CLASH TOMORROW

Co-Ed Basketball Tournament Starts at 1 O'clock

CRACK TEAMS ENTERED

Good Games Are Expected—Played in Armory and No Admission Charged—Everybody Urged to Come

The inter-sorority basketball tournament will start tomorrow at 1 o'clock. Final arrangements for the meet have been completed by the Women's Athletic association, and all is in readiness for the games.

The games will necessarily be short, for it is planned to play off the entire schedule in the afternoon. Five minute halves will be played. At the close of the first half of the game, the next two teams will take the floor and play the first half of their game while the others are resting.

Inter-sorority basketball is something new for this University. The plan is patterned after the annual inter-frat basketball tournament. So far, so much enthusiasm has been exhibited over the idea that it is planned to make the tourney an annual affair. Every sorority in school is going to have a team on the floor tomorrow, and every team is a good one. Fast games are expected when they clash for the semi-finals.

The games are to be played in the Armory, and there will be no admission charged. Everyone interested in athletics is urged to turn out for the tournament, and is promised a series of hard-fought games.

The Schedule

The schedule will be as follows:
Chi Omega vs. Delta Gamma.
Delta Delta Delta vs. Gamma Phi Beta.
Alpha Omicron Pi vs. Alpha Xi Delta.
Kappa Alpha Theta vs. Alpha Delta Pi.
Alpha Phi vs. Achoth.
Alpha Chi Omega vs. Delta Zeta.
Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Kappa Gamma drew byes.

The Line-Ups

The teams are composed of the following girls.

Alpha Xi Delta: Jane Beachler, captain; Irma Quesner, Helen Larsen, Agnes Olson and Lucille Kleth.

Gamma Phi Beta: Bertha Bates, captain; Eleanor Frampton, Gertrude Henderson, Katherine Helzer, Doris Bates and Vera Goodhand.

Kappa Kappa Gamma: Marguerite Lonam, captain; Josephine Strode, Daisy Parks, Irma Stephens and Josephine Burkett.

Alpha Omicron Pi: Doris Hostetter, captain; Mary Waters, Lucile Manck, Margaret Carnaby, Mildred Gillilan, Jeannette Adams and Edna Hathway.

Delta Zeta: Blanche Higgins, captain; Grace Nichols, Gertrude De Sautelle, Helen Hewett, Myrtis Downing and Bess Ertel.

Delta Delta Delta: Ruth Welch, captain; Claribel Hager, Dona Gustin, Dorothy Roach, Eleanor Bennett, Marion Hompes and Gertrude Squires.

Delta Gamma: Jeannette Thornton, captain; Elizabeth Brown, Ruth Lindsay, Ruth Sprague, Helen Black and Jean Burroughs.

Alpha Phi: Beatrice Dierks, captain; Madeline Girard, Betty Doyle, Marjorie Barstow, Mae Youngquist, G. Doyle and Blanche Stidworthy.

The officials are: Referee, Mrs. Jessie Lee; score keeper, Lillian Wirt; time keeper, Irene Springer.

Officers Elected for Cidemerp Round Table

The Cidemerp Round Table elected officers for the second semester last evening. President Thomas and Secretary Kretzler were re-elected. Chas. Constantine was elected vice-president. At the next regular meeting, Thursday, February 14, the subject of legalized medical death will be discussed. The meeting will be open to everyone.

STAGE IS SET FOR "FETE OF NATIONS"

Final Dress Rehearsal to Be Held Tonight

PAGEANT IS THE FEATURE

Ten Nations to Be Portrayed With Native Settings, Costumes and Music

Final dress rehearsal will be held in the Temple tonight for what will be the biggest exhibition of University talent that has been attempted.

Nearly every organization in the University will be represented in the big University party, "The Fete of All Nations," to be given tomorrow night and every phase of entertainment possible will be staged. From the laughs of a negro minstrel show through the charm of the native Hawaiian songs, sung by Al Alapaki, to the tense moments in the drama, "America," in the big pageant, there is given a range of entertainment that is guaranteed to satisfy every visitor.

Every means possible has been made use of by the committee in order to give the University a chance to see what its talent can do. For the past week a number of those in charge have put in nearly full time in the preparing of skits and representations and in the staging of the pageant. Native costumes for the representatives of the various nations have been secured in most cases.

The first of the ten portrayals of nations will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock, as shown below. A second group will begin their exhibitions at 8 o'clock. At 8:30 o'clock the pageant, "America," will be staged in the Temple. This will be followed by the pageant of the Philosophy club, "The Ideal Republics," which will close at 9:30 o'clock, when the second exhibitions of the organizations begin. The Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. will serve refreshments from 9 till 10:15 o'clock.

Pageant is "Headliner"

Work on the pageant is going rapidly forward and this feature will be the headliner of the program. The pageant is arranged in three parts. The first part is a musical prelude, telling of the glories of America in song. Gertrude Munger has the leading part, assisted by a chorus, consisting of Thelma Detweiler, Esther McKennan, Margaret Perry, Lucille Caine, Genevieve Rose, Ruth Leech.

The second part, the one-act drama, entitled "The Call of 1917," pictures the University campus at the time of the call for volunteers at the beginning of the war. Katherine Pierce, as Joan, a school girl, has the leading role. Mildred Gillilan and Margaret Harmon as Janice and Josephine, her chums; Alex Crause, as Tom, Joan's brother, a schoolboy; Floyd Rivett, as Dick, Tom's chum; Alfred Reese, as Harry, a militia captain, and Katherine (Continued on page two)

CORNER STONE WILL BE LAID TOMORROW

New Social Science Building
—to Be Best Structure
on Campus

One of the most important of the plans for the enlargement of the University campus will be formally begun tomorrow when the corner stone of the new Social Science building will be laid. The ceremonies will start at 10 o'clock.

The ceremonies will be of rather an informal nature, but will be of widespread interest in University circles. The departments that will occupy the building will all be present, and the usual program will be carried out. Several short addresses will be made, and documents from each of the departments will be placed in the stone. The general student body and public is cordially invited to attend the services.

The new Social Science building, as it is now planned, will be the finest building on the campus. It is being erected on "S" street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets. Work is expected to progress rapidly, and it is hoped that regular classes will be held there within a year. As the (Continued on page two)

An Original Song of Springtime

By the Staff Observer

Spring has come. We have all the evidences of this fact. The usual phenomena of spring were missing but the campus yesterday was crowded with evidences its advent.

What is the first thing that struck you as you walked in at the Eleventh street entrance? Was it the fact that the snow was almost all gone? Surely not, it must have been the sorority belles that had blossomed forth so suddenly on the Library steps. Or was it the gay birdies who were scattered about on the campus benches doing their best to keep comfortable?

What was it that you noticed when you walked into your room yesterday? Was it not the atmosphere of laziness and sleepiness that dominated everyone? Even the professors were so anxious to get out of their stuffy class rooms that they ventured to dismiss their classes on time.

Yes, but we cannot forget the "fusers."—They were busy again. The campus and the nearby streets were lined with couples who sought pleasures outside of the shows. We surmise that they have decided to economize.

This early touch of spring does not seem to be in accordance with the tradition about the ground-hog. Last Saturday was ground-hog's day and the sun was shining brightly. The only way that we can cope it out is that being as Saturday was meatless day, Mr. Ground-hog did not come at his usual time but is making his presence known now. At any rate, we hope that spring has come to stay.
