

The Store
Ahead

Young Men's Style

--and the wise purchase

Style that satisfies your desire to create the right impression---to stamp yourself as a man of discrimination.

Society
Brand
Clothes
$35
and up
Knox Hats
$5
and up

Sam Peck
Clothes
$15
and up

Styleplus
Clothes

Quality that satisfies your demand for good clothes and that tells in their faithful wear.

Price that satisfies your sense for wise economy---your desire to keep in step with the thrift spirit of the hour. The combination of all these qualities commends

Styleplus Clothes
$21 AND $25

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

Each grade the same price the nation over

Concentration of great resources on two grades makes possible such unique values.

The two grades for Spring are $21 (green label), $25 (red label.) Each the big value at the price.

America's Only Known Priced Clothes

We are The Only Styleplus Store in Town

Mayer Bros. Co.

ELI SHIRE, President

PICTURE OF "U" HALL REACHES BATTLEFRONT

L. I. Morris Receives Greeting from Patriotic League on Way Back From Line

The alumni office has just received a letter from L. Irwin Morris, '16, who is now on the battle front in France. He states that he received the Christmas greeting sent out by the Patriotic League, just as he came out of the line and that it was the first mail that he had received for six weeks. The men in France are not allowed to give their address or tell in what section of the front they are stationed. Following is a copy of the letter.

Guess Where? France
Feb., 19th, 1918.

My Dear Friends:

The little Christmas greeting reached me as we came out of the line. After I had sent my clothing and equipment to be sterilized, and while wrapped in an army blanket I read the "Benediction" sent out last Christmas.

The picture of "U" hall was all that I needed to bring back the days of Dean Engberg and Chancellor Avery. 'Twas the first mail we had received in six weeks and I am afraid that a suspicious dampness appeared on my eyelashes.

I am grateful to you for the remembrance, for it brought me back to the campus. Over here we lead a higher intensified life. Events that take years crowded into a few moments. Therefore to happen in ordinary times are often fore we are prone to forget our happy days spent under Dean Hastings and Professor Robbins.

Thanking you many times and wishing you lasting joy and peace, I am,
Sincerely and Fraternally,
L. IRWIN MORRIS,

Lieutenant 28th Infantry, American Expeditionary Forces, France.

Alumni Office Wants Data Regarding Class of 1916

The alumni office wishes to be informed in regard to the addresses and occupations of a number of alumni. Following is a list about whom nothing is known. The alumni office would appreciate it very much if members of the faculty and students could offer any information in regard to these people who are all graduates of the class of 1916.

Class of 1916--addresses and occupations wanted:

- Anderson, Harriette Beatrice, A. B.
- Dawson, Flora May, A. B.
- Day, Harriet, A. B.
- Fleck, Harlow Conrad, A. B.
- Gable, Charles Hugh, B. Sc.
- Givits, Helen Marie, A. B.
- Golden, Bernice Ellen, B. Sc. in home economics.
- Herold, Matthew Gering, A. B.
- Huntley, Grace Mildred, A. B.
- Johnson, Rudolph Eugene, B. Sc. (Rohrer) Minnie Elsie, Mrs. Walter E. Liberman, A. B.

Littlefield, Sarah Jane, A. B.
Myers, Alice Neva, A. B.
Nielson, Arthur Lawrence, B. Sc.
Owen, Donald Robert, B. Sc.
Rands, Julia Frances, A. B.
Sanmann, Jerden Ferdinand, B. Sc. in agriculture.

Siebert, Rudolf Carl, A. B.
Stayner, Fay, A. B.
Steenburg, Edmund Kenneth, A. B.
Sughrue, Anna Genevieve, A. B.
Vieregg, Frank Ray, A. B.
Warner, Ruth Ashley, M. D.
Williams, Sarah Lane, A. B.

Translates "The Ninth Night"

Cyril Hrbek's translation of "The Ninth Night" by Victor Dyk was published in the Post-Lore, for January, 1918. Mr. Hrbek is a nephew of Prof. Sarka Hrbkova, head of the Slavonic language department.

Prof. A. A. Reed to Chicago

Prof. A. A. Reed left Monday for Chicago to attend the annual meeting of the Central Association of High School Inspectors and State Superintendents. He will be gone all of this week.

MISS ME YUNG TING TELLS OF CHINA

(Continued from page one.)

Ting. "I happened to be one of an English class, at home, and the teacher, who couldn't be there on a certain day, asked me if I wouldn't take the class.

"I remember well, on the front row, there sat six girls of one family--a very wealthy family in Shanghai. One little girl was about six years old, and the woman who sat beside her was about thirty-six.

"I told them to turn to page fifty-six, but the woman didn't seem to understand.

"Then the little girl turned to the page and said: 'This is the page, mother.'

"Then and there," declared Miss Ting. "I asked myself if I should ever be a mother, would I be willing to be led by my own daughter, as this woman. But this woman is so humble and so anxious to learn, that she comes every day, to study.

"In China is ever going to be Christianized, it will be through her own leaders. Our republic is too young to do it alone. We need, especially, America's help, because America has helped us--and we are looking to America to help us in this troublesome period.

"You can mold us," said the young Chinese woman, "into any shape you want to. We are going to start a new chapter. We will say to the world that America has helped us. Perhaps you may be able to read this new chapter. Wouldn't you be proud to remember that you had a part in making it so?"

"There is an Oberlin in China. Why? Because Oberlin sends thousands of dollars a year, and some of its best men and women to China. There is a Harvard in China. Why? Because there is a Harvard medical school in China, and the school here is supporting it and sending some of their first class men to it.

"There is a Yale in China," continued Miss Ting, "with a literary school and a forestry school.

"And now you want a Nebraska in China. You can make it possible through this alumna of yours, Miss Coppock," she concluded.

COPPOCK CAMPAIGN GETS EARLY START

(Continued from Page One)

"The Chinese desire contact with the world outside of China. They get this through the foreign secretaries, and the Oriental students who come to this country.

"We must lay foundations for the future as well as for the present crisis," declared Miss Taylor. We must expect wonderful contributions from Oriental women in the building of the new world.

"There are fifty-eight student associations in China. They are doing the same things, the same kind of association work as here. Miss Paxon addresses great companies of women anxious for western experiences. Dr. Roberts gives health talks to assemblies of women often five thousand in number. He doesn't give them unless there is a Y. W. C. A. to take care of them. And so you are sending Miss Coppock to do these things for the Chinese women who long for an all-around development.