DODGERS WIN TWO OVER HUSKERS

Iowa Yanks Take Nebraska's Measure in Thrilling Two-Game Series in Basketball

Saturday Battle Never Before Equalled in Tense Suspense and Excitement

Scrapping, clawing, twisting and whirling, the Camp Dodge Twilighters and the Nebraska Cornhuskers battled a furious forty minutes Saturday night in the armory, first one, then the other jumping into the lead and only the timekeepers' whistle saved the Dodgers from a beating. The final score stood 25 for Camp Dodge and 24 for Nebraska, which gives an exact indication of the comparative merits of the two teams. They were perfectly matched and if the time had held out for two hours longer, the count would have been 100 to 100.

Tie it Up Four Times

Nebraska first broke into the score column when a foul was called on Beresford to which Captain Jackson promptly replied with a free goal. A goal by Sayer immediately afterward put the Dodgers in the lead 2 to 1 and from that they boosted their advantage up to 6 to 1. Two baskets by Jackson and one by Patty brought Nebraska on top 7 to 6 and from then on, the two quintets were not more than four points apart at any stage of the proceedings.

They tied the score at 13, 15 and 17 and then a free shot threw them out of plumb but again at the 22 point mark they brought the score to a tie. Sayer then tossed a basket and an exchange of blows between Reynolds and Maegher caused Referee Schissler to declare a double foul and banish the belligerent players from the game. Beresford hit the loop in his free throw but Jackson's shot fell short and the score stood 25 to 22 for Dodge and the finale only two minutes away. In that two minutes Neumann shot a goal and the Huskers were rushing things savagely. Father Time swooped down with his scythe and cut the proceedings short, giving the Twilighters the victory 25 to 24.

Jackson and Maegher Stars

Although the individual score column shows Jackson and Maegher far out in the lead with twelve points each, the members of both teams worked so harmoniously together that hardly any one man shone out more brilliantly than the rest. Jackson is the surest shot on the Husker quintet and his pals invariably would work the ball down to their captain and he would flip it into the cage. Schellenberg played a demon game on the defense and Neumann, Patty, Bailey and Gillian were terrors on the offense.

With the Twilighters, luck played a

DISCHARGED ENLISTED MEN CAN'T DRESS AS OFFICERS

Leather leggings and officers' insignia cannot be worn by discharged enlisted men, according to a telegram received this morning from the war department by Capt. W. A. Harth. Enlisted men appearing in uniform which they are not entitled to wear are subject to arrest on the charge of impersonation, according to the information received from Washington, and are subject to trial by court martial. Many men on the Hill who are not following these uniform regulations must do so at once, according to the military authorities.

Honorably discharged soldiers may wear a scarlet chevron on their left sleeves, point up, midway between the elbow and the shoulder, one on the coat and one on the overcoat, according to information from the war department.—Daily Kansas.

Cornhusker To Be Everybodys' Book Says Busy Staff of Annual

The Cornhusker this year is to be everybody's book. This is a broad statement, but true, the management asserts, and they are calling upon everybody to take advantage of their generous offer by supplying representative material.

The staff is planning to have all copy edited, all pictures taken and all art work ready for the engravers by the latter part of February.

The Cornhusker office is the busiest place on the campus just now. Even the customary Saturday afternoon holiday failed to provide any rest for members of the staff who spent the day at work. Editors sought frantically for new and original ideas,—which, by the way, they promise to have in abundance; while others scanned university records, pored over volumes of former years and searched their brains for blithe and breezy jokes.

And down at Townsend's, where individual pictures are being taken,—well, just ask any junior or senior who had delapidated to the last minute the ordeal of sitting for a photograph. To many the few minutes in the chair proved to be a rest for what seemed hours standing in the waiting line.

Because of the congestion at the photographers it has been found necessary to grant a two-weeks' extension on the time for individual pictures.

The management of the victory annual has also announced a prize of $3.00 for the best set of S. A. T. C. snapshots to be handed in at the Cornhusker office by February first.

more important part. Maegher played close to the goal and happened to get his hands on the leather oftener. Sayer, Beresford and Coughlin, the fleet halfback on the football team who made two runs of 45 and 62 yards respectively against the Huskers last November, were in the thick of the scrap all the while.

CAPTAINS APPOINTED FOR RAINBOW TOURNEY

Sport Leader Announces List—Choose Team For Basketball Meet

Captains of the girls' basketball teams that will play in the Rainbow tournament have been appointed by Gertrude DeSautelle, the sport leader. Those chosen are:

Gertrude Lear—Red.
Opal Lintz—Blue.
Irene Springer—Purple.
Mary Stephens—Yellow.
Ethel Hoagland—White.
Ruth Pickis—Red.

The captains will pick their teams from the non-sorority basketball players and will draw lots for their opponents. The teams will be picked immediately and the tournament will be played off as soon as possible after final examinations.

Last year the "Purple" team won the tournament and the members were awarded silver friendship bracelets by Mrs. J. B. Lee, their sport coach. It has not yet been decided whether the trophy this year, to be awarded by the W. A. A., will be individual or in the form of a loving cup bearing the team members' names to be kept in the W. A. A. room in Women's hall.

Ruth Fick is one of the new girls this year who is showing an original form of basketball, and Bess Cram, a new junior at Nebraska this year, is also showing up unusually well.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS HOLD INTERESTING MEETINGS

Twenty university girls who comprise the Wa-lo-hi camp fire group hold meetings every Monday evening at 5 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. room, and all girls who wish to become guardians are invited to attend any meeting. This camp fire was organized last year with Mrs. Frederick Teal as guardian. This year it has experienced the same difficulties as many other organizations. Miss Josephine Gordan is guardian, and the following officers have been elected: Martha Helner, president; Avis Russell, vice-president; Anna Jensen, secretary and treasurer.

Plans for the coming year have been made. At some of the meetings the girls will decorate their camp fire gowns, and plan their headbands. Other meetings will be devoted to first aid demonstrations, and at several meetings later on in the year the girls will study camp craft. Practical demonstrations of "fires that will burn" will be given, and the girls will practice cooking over an open fire. Besides their regular meetings the girls plan to take a number of hikes.

Last Monday evening a ceremonial meeting followed a two course supper, prepared by the girls themselves. The following program was given: Song, "The Game of Make Believe," Avis Russell, and "Seek Beauty," the first law of the Camp Fire, Mrs. Teal.

Dean of Women

Dean of Women, Amanda Heppner, announces the following revised schedule in her office hours since the opening of the new Women's Hall. She will be in room 105, Administration building, at 11 a. m. daily and at her office in Women's Hall from 2 to 4 p. m. daily. Women who wish to consult her should see her at these hours.

Nebraskans Find That "The Ol' Swimmin' Hole" Has Dried Up

It is impossible that in the not far distant future all Nebraskans will be excluded from ocean travel, moonlight boating and a surf boating, due to their general inability to safeguard their lives in the water. In case of another U-boat campaign on the part of some well-meaning but recklessly ambitious nation this rule without doubt go into force immediately.

As yet the university men and women who are desirous of reviving or experiencing the joys of "the ol' swimmin' hole" are stranded high and dry with no pool in sight. Diplomacy, such as would have averted the Crimean war, has been exercised by Dr. Clapp, but it has failed. Perhaps tears and entreaties have been used, we do not know, but the object of these exer-

STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN "SHRINER FOLLIES"

Uni Men and Women Make Up Chorus—Show at Orpheum Monday

Some real local talent will be displayed in the finished production, the "Shriner Follies," tonight and Tuesday night at the Orpheum theatre, when several university students will take part. Every year the Shriners offer a minstrel show and this year the cast is unusually talented. Joe Brem & Co. are putting the show before the public, and Joe Brem of New York will take the leading part.

A well directed chorus will support him. This chorus is made up of the following university students: Frances Whitmore, Vivian Hansen, Beatrice Montgomery, Doris Cole, Helen Giltner, Dorothy Doyle, Mrs. Bess Agor, Winifred Williams, Alfreda McPrang, Floreine Reed, Florence Lewis, Dorothy Pierce, Dale Reinhardt, Richard Spangler, Earl Hildebrand, Elmer Witte, L. R. Doyle, Glenn Gardner, Jack Halahan, and Ross Hammond. Winifred Williams and Dorothy Doyle have solo dance numbers.

This will be a very clever production, and well worth attending. It will be presented two nights only, no matinee. Those who remember last year's performance will look forward with pleasure to witnessing the Follies, tonight or tomorrow night. The scene is laid at a summer resort, and so one may expect all sorts of originality and ingenuity on the part of every one in the cast.

Silver Serpent

Silver Serpent will meet today at 5 p. m. in the Historical society rooms in the library. Members are urged to remember the dinner in the Women's hall immediately following the meeting.

VARSITY QUARTET WILL SING AT FRESHMAN PARTY

The freshman hop will be held at the Lincoln hotel Saturday evening, January 25. Only ninety tickets have been validated exclusive of complimentary, in order that a comfortable small crowd may be assured. Tickets are $1.50 including the war tax, and may be obtained from any member of the committee, as follows:

Floyd Paynter, chairman.
Kenneth Hawkins, master of ceremonies.
Dorothy Pierce.
Vivian Hansen.
Bruce McCullough.
Elizabeth Riddell.

Some novel features have been planned in the way of music and refreshments and music. The varsity quartet, the members of which are Cable Jackson, Paul Dobson, Herman Schroeder and Floyd Paynter, will sing.

It remains as remote as ever. The proud possessor of the treasured pools have turned deaf ears and swimming at Nebraska will soon become a memory to the older students and a myth to the younger unless our legislators and university regents soon recognize our distress and by means of an appropriation bill to supply our needs, prove that they still have the interests of our college at heart.

If we are to retain our faith in our law-makers we feel that Nebraska must be equipped with the new gymnasium that she has so long needed, which will include a swimming pool in which our students will become so proficient that Annette Kellerman's prowess in the briny deep will be rivalled by Nebraska swimmers.

NEW COURSE GIVEN UNI DRAMATISTS

Departmental Programs Formerly Given Each Month May Be Revived

Course For University Players to Be Continued Next Semester

An entirely new course in dramatics will be offered next semester to accommodate those students who have missed out on the work this semester but who wish to complete a year's work by next fall, so that they may be able to take part in plays. The course will combine the first and second semesters of beginning elocution and will be given at 10 o'clock every day. It includes five hours of recitation, and four hours of laboratory with five hours credit. It is open to all students.

The course in public speaking which has aroused much interest this semester will be continued next semester and will be open to new students who desire to enter. The five girls in the present class are doing their best to uphold the honor of women against the twelve or fifteen boys and they are hoping that more girls will join them next semester. Professor Grumann, who is now teaching the course, will continue to teach the class.

Continue University Players Course

Fine arts 58, the university players course, will come from three to five on Tuesdays and Thursdays and will be open to advanced students or those who have special permission. Besides working on the plays that the university players present from time to time, the class works up a number of one act plays in order to develop the dramatic ability and to be prepared for calls over the city.

All the other classes in dramatics will continue at the regular time.

May Revive Departmental Programs

The department hopes that it will be possible to revise the institution of departmental programs, which were formerly given once a month. These programs consisted of exhibitions from each class, including pantomimes, readings and scenes.

A letter received last week from Miss Howell stated that she is so busy in the work of readjustment that she is very uncertain when she will be able to come home. She is now in the southern part of France and although she is kept busy with her work, she thinks of the university and the dramatic department and is eager to be back.

Technical Expert for Conservation Department

Frank H. Shoemaker, a well known technical photographer, has been employed by the state conservation and soil survey to do still picture work for the department and to make lantern slides.

LE ROSSIGNOL FAVORS COLLEGE OF COMMERCE

Professor J. E. LeRossignol has the following to say regarding the needed expansion of the school of commerce at the university: "The school of commerce has made good progress during the past five years, and will doubtless very soon include the largest group of professional students at the university. It has grown up under the wing of the college of arts and sciences, but I believe that the time has come when it should be a separate college of commerce, standing in the same relation to the university as the other professional colleges. To allow the present relation to continue will hamper the development of the school of commerce, and will take away the individuality of the arts college by making it a mere federation of special schools."
