THE CANDIDATES.

The annual Student Council election takes place today. National politics at a time like this centers on party organization. It is time for Nebraska politics to center on the man. The candidates elected will be expected to carry out the principles of the Council and you should stop and analyze the possibilities of the various nominees in the relation to the work to be done. How does each man or girl stand on the issues at hand?

The present Student Council has acted very successfully this year, with perhaps the exception that it has suffered somewhat from a tendency to over-legislate. So, since the present Council leaves behind the president of that legislation, it must be inherited by the new men. The attitude of the ones to be elected tomorrow is an important point when one considers whether he wished that precedent to be retained or not. The voter should watch for the man who makes clear-cut statements of his beliefs and then prepares to back those statements up.

The honor spirit, University parties, campus boosting and legislation are all things to be considered for the next Council term. Pick your candidates by ability rather than from fraternity or organization loyalty and be sure that you know how he stands on the question that you are interested in.

Have you been noticing the announcement of the Memorial Drive? Be thinking about your pledge and remember that every loyal student and graduate of the University of Nebraska is being counted on for a share in the Memorial building. This must be a truly worthy memorial to Nebraska's soldiers and to her high athletic standards and ideals.

THE SENIOR PLAY.

Tuesday, the eve of Ivy Day, the Senior class will present the play, "If I Were King" at the Lincoln High School auditorium. It has been three years since there has been a Senior play, and in order that this old tradition might not be lost here, the 1929 class voted to have their play in spite of the rush and flurry of final school year events.

The tickets are on sale now but are not going as fast as could be wished. Every Senior has pledged himself responsible for four tickets and if you have not sighted your men for those four, do it right away. The play is a truly good one of love, a gambling chance, a week of frolic with the over-hanging penalty of death, all in a breathless two hours. Unlike most class plays, there is a large cast so that many Seniors are representing the class in the production. This should be a month of true Senior spirit—begin it by boosting your play.

THE CHILD'S CHANCES.

Figures presented by an Indianapolis bank show that of 5,000,000 children with no schooling thirty-one attain distinction. Of 33,000,000 with elementary schooling the number to gain distinction is 808. Two million, with a high school education, show distinction gained by 1,245. Out of 1,000,000 who go through college, 5,768 become distinguished in some walk of life. Less than 1 per cent of the men in America are college bred, yet this small percentage has furnished 55 per cent of the American Presidents, 54 per cent of the Vice-Presidents, 62 per cent of the secretaries of state, 50 per cent of the secretaries of the treasury, 62 per cent of the attorneys-general, 47 per cent of the Speakers of the House and 69 per cent of the supreme court justices. With a college education the child has one chance in 173, with a high school education one chance in 1,606, with elementary schooling alone one chance in 40,841 and with no schooling one chance in 161,290.

The bank's object in presenting such statistics is to create new business. It seeks parents who are willing to start an educational account for their children, arguing that unless there is systematic saving no fund will be available for higher education when the time comes for it.

The bank might have shown by its own figures that the educated man, being more successful than his fellows, has money to deposit in banking institutions. The further down in the educational scale, the less likelihood there is of finding thrift or money with which to open bank accounts. To one college failure there are thousands of those who had no opportunity to make a fair fight for success. Education is not an experiment; it is an investment that nearly always pays big dividends.—Indianapolis News.

Orpheum's Final Week of Vaudeville

William Rock With "1, 2, 3, 4, 5 Girls and Two More" at the Orpheum.

This is the final week of Lincoln's vaudeville season, hence your last chance to see a big-time vaudeville here until fall. For this occasion the management has assembled the costliest bill of the entire season with Mr. Rock and his girls topping the bill in the most gorgeous and dazzling dance revue ever produced. Patrons are urged to secure seats early for all performances as the demand is expected to be unusually great.

HOW THEY GO

We are training men daily. The biggest records in years are being made.

Our large United States World map featuring the principal auto highways on the U. S. side with the new World and new boundaries on the reverse side has surpassed in popularity and volume of sale all other National Publications.

We can only care for 600 men this season handling this—the greatest of our sellers. A letter to us will be an invitation to submit facts and figures.
