

GIRL LEADERS ADDRESS SPECIAL CONVOCATION

men girls especially. Ruth Lindsay will tell about the Student Council and Marjorie Barstow about Woman's Athletic Association.

Faye Curry is the Senior Advisory representative.

Lois Melton and Dorothy Wright are to inspire "pep" in the meeting by leading the yell. At this time there will be an election to decide who shall be cheer leaders for the football games this fall.

The idea of having a special convocation for Freshmen was started for the purpose of introducing the Yearlings into University life, to teach them about everything he does not know and it is essential to become acquainted with every phase of school activity possible. Therefore, each and every girl should be there to hear about her Alma Mater.

DEDICATION AT FARM CAMPUS

cannot satisfy those who are eager to use remedies developed in commercial institutions.

Dr. Smith congratulated the state on the completion of such a splendid and complete plant. He declared that it would not only benefit Nebraska but all territories having similar problems.

Chancellor Avrey presented certificates of agricultural achievements to S. C. Bassett of Gibbon and ex-Regent W. G. Whitmore, formerly of Valley now living in Lincoln. Mr. Bassett could not be present because of poor health.

The approximate cost of this new plant is $150,000. All the buildings are fireproof. There are four buildings arranged about a closed court thus making work on communicable diseases safe by isolation. These buildings contain laboratories, offices, a library and museum, class rooms, operating rooms, isolation stalls and an incinerator.

CAMPUS NOTES.

Lutheran Club.

In spite of the rain a large number of Lutheran students came out Saturday evening for the first meeting of the club this year. The meeting was held in Faculty Hall, Temple Building. Twenty-two new names were added to the list of members. The following officers were elected for the coming year: James J. Raun, president; Helen Harder, vice-president; Anna Osthoff, secretary; Adelheit Dettman, treasurer, and Hoiger Strandskov, correspondent.

Entertainments were given by various groups of the club. Numerous games were played, giving all a chance of getting acquainted. Refreshments were served as the last part of the evening's program. The club will continue its meetings during the coming school year on the third Friday evening of each month. All Lutheran students are requested to come.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Regents twenty appointments were decided upon and five resignations were accepted. The resignations are: John W. Calvin, associate professor of Chemistry; Claude K. Skedd, manager of Tractor Tests; C. E. Green, assistant professor of Modern Languages; Fred L. Orr, tractor testing engineer; H. A. Evans, purchasing agent.

The following appointments were confirmed: Edith Cone, home demonstration agent, Saunders county; J. C. Russell, assistant professor, of Agronomy; Elizabeth Burritt, assistant in Latin; E. W. Carlton, assistant in Mechanical Drawing; Arthur H. Schmidt, instructor in Clinical Dentistry; Ferris W. Norris, instructor

in Electrical Engineering; Hermine J. Poet's Pen

Registration.

I waited in line sixteen hour,
And really it pained me to see,
Some bird rush in at the head of the line,
Who had more "Anatomy."

When finally I reached the office,
A languid young lady arose,
And leisurely looked at my time card,
(Meanwhile she powdered her nose).

When this inspection was over,
She gave me an icy stare,
As though she thought me a burglar
Who really should not have been there.

"You should go to room seventeen fifty,
In building six seventy-three,
You really should have known better,
Than to come here bothering me."

When I found that room seventeen fifty,
After searching near and far,
The lady in charge said in sub-frigid tone,
"Return to the Registrar."

I knew all the halls on the campus,
Before my long search was through,
Until I was nearly exhausted,
Did it ever happen to you.

When I was so weak and weary,
I knew I could walk no more,
I gave one long shriek of horror,
And fell comatose on the floor.

Disillusionment.

' stood in the moonlight and held her hand,
And assured her that I was hers to command
I kidded and argued to beat the band,
But I didn't get by with that.

I pictured a future of wedded bliss,
She gave me a wonderful lingering kiss,
But how did I know it would come to this,
Hard luck! I got by with that.

I promised a dear little car of her own,
And now each promise has rapidly grown,
'Til I'm reaping the crop of lies I've sown,
I'll never get by with that.

Although I confess I'm in love with her,
Things aren't as wonderful as they were
When I look at my poor little ninety per,
How can I get by with that?

It is estimated that there were harvested this year in Kansas 1,500,000 acres of "volunteer" wheat worth about $100,000,000. The wheat was not planted but sprang up from the neglected harvest of a year ago when the crops were deserted.
