Nebraska Alumnus to Assist in Selection of Winning Peace Plan

(University News Service)
The naming of Dr. Roscoe Pound, dean of Harvard Law School and distinguished Nebraska alumnus and formerly dean of the College of Law, to sit on the jury of seven eminent Americans who will choose the winning plan for the $100,000 Bok peace award comes as another recognition of Dr. Pound's achievements. "These seven have been chosen," the policy committee who selected the judges explained, "after weeks of careful consideration, on the basis of selection which aimed, not to securing a jury made up of representatives of varied groups and sections, but which aimed instead at getting seven men and women generally recognized to be eminently fitted by experience to deal with the exceedingly difficult and complex subject of our international relations."

Serving with Dr. Pound are Elihu Root, prominent jurist who served

PLAN RALLY FOR HUSKER TEAM AT STATION SUNDAY

Innocents Urge Students to Gather at Station and Show Gridmen That the School Is Loyal to Them.

FOLLOW PLAN STARTED AFTER SYRACUSE GAME

Dawson's Protesges to Return From Illinois Contest on Burlington at 5:45 O'Clock This Afternoon.

Every loyal student is urged by the Innocents to be at the Burlington station Sunday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock to give Nebraska's "Fighting Cornhuskers" a rousing welcome home. The Innocents intend to notify every campus organization of the rally, so that all students may have an opportunity to attend.

When the Husker grid warriors returned from Syracuse last year after having been defeated by a small score hundreds of students gathered at the station to meet them. Coach Schulte in a speech made last Thursday when the team left for Urbana made it plain that the greeting the team got after the Syracuse game was one of the greatest factors in turning out the team that eventually beat Notre Dame.

The Innocents feel that it is even more important to be at the station to cheer the team when they come defeated than it is when they have won. The members of the senior honorary are asking everyone to be at the station this afternoon and to show the team that the student body is still backing it.

While serving on the faculty of the Puget Sound Marine and Biologic laboratories at Friday Harbor, Washington, last summer, Dr. R. H. Wolcott, chairman of the department of zoology, made a collection of the fauna of the northwestern coast region which he brought back with him for class and laboratory work.

NEBRASKA BEATEN BY SUPERIOR GENERALSHIP AND VETERAN LINE

Running and Punting of Lewellen for Nebraska and Spectacular Game Played by Grange of Illinois at Halfback Are Stellar Points of Contest.

CRITICAL FUMBLES CONTRIBUTE TO HUSKER DEFEAT

Versatile Attack of Illini Helps Crumple Up Defense of Scarlet and Cream Warriors; Schulte Says Team 50 Per Cent Stronger After Game.

(Special Wire Report by Nebraskan Reporter.)

URBANA, Ill., Oct. 6.—Nebraska lost but went down fighting in the initial contest of the season. Superior generalship and the veteran Illinois line caused the 24 to 7 defeat for the Huskers, who were out-experienced, out-weighted and out-played. The green Husker line was weak during the first half, but came back strong in the second half. Illinois has a great team.

"Nebraska is a 50 per cent stronger team after the Illinois game," stated Coach Henry F. Schulte.

The Nebraska backfield was weak on defense. The breaks were against the Cornhuskers. The running and punting of Lewellen was a feature of the game. Grange of Illinois played a spectacular game at the halfback position. The versatile attack of the Illini was a potent factor in the defeat of the Huskers.

Two critical fumbles, coupled with the five green men on the Nebraska line were responsible for the scores in the first half.

Nebraska scored in the first five minutes of the second half after Bassett had recovered a fumble of Illinois, through a long run by Lewellen. An Illinois pass in the second half was good for twenty yards and a touchdown. Grange returned a punt sixty-five yards to a touchdown.

Summary of First Quarter.

Britton kicked off sixty yards for a touchback. Nebraska made a first down in three tries. After two ineffective tries by Nebraska, Lewellen punted, Illinois fumbled and Nebraska recovered on her own 35 yard line. Noble and Dewitz made a first down. Nebraska fumbled and Illinois marched to Nebraska's 35 yard line, trying a place kick which went wide.

Score, end of first quarter: Nebraska 0, Illinois 0.

Second Quarter.

Lewellen punted to Illinois' 45 yard line. Britton returned the ball to Nebraska's 5 yard line. Grange carried the ball over for the first touchdown on an end run. Britton kicked goal.

Score: Illinois 7, Nebraska 0.

Noble kicked off to the Illinois 15 yard line, out of bounds. After a couple of tries at the line, Britton punted to H. Dewitz, who ran the ball back to the Illinois 43 yard line. Dewitz fumbled, McIlwain recovered, (Continued on Page 4)

RECEIVE CORNHUSKER APPLICATIONS MONDAY

Staff of Eighty-five Will Be Picked; Work Starts at Once.

Applications for all staff positions on the 1924 Cornhusker will be received Monday at the office in the northeast basement of University hall. Positions to be filled are: Department editors, assistant editors, business and circulation aides, typists, copy gatherers, advertisement salesmen, and "writeup" men. Blanks may be secured at the Cornhusker office.

About eighty-five persons will be on the staff when it is fully organized. The annual will be larger this year than ever before, according to the editor and business manager, who plan an early start for that reason. Robert Craig, editor, and David Richardson, business manager, who were appointed last spring, made a skeleton outline of the book during the summer.

Photographs of the "grid-graph" of the rally last Thursday, of the track and baseball teams of last spring, and of all important events since the publication of the 1923 Cornhusker have been taken so that no activity would be missed.
