

FOOTBALL MEN IN SCRIMMAGE

Bearg Starts Gridsters With Actual Playing; Signal Drill Today

GAMES WILL BE PLAYED

Coach Bearg started his gridiron men in on actual playing yesterday afternoon. After a few drills on fundamentals, he held the first scrimmage of the season. Men were chosen for two teams, and after they had had a good workout, they were relieved by others, so that in all, four or five teams were scrimmaged. Practice today will probably consist of a light signal drill, to let the men recuperate from the early scrimmage. It is hoped that in a couple of weeks a regular game can be played. By that time the various men will have had a chance to show up to advantage.

LARGE ENTRY LIST FOR KANSAS RELAYS

Universities, Colleges, and High Schools Will Send Delegates To Lawrence

LAWRENCE, Kan., March 18.—Practically all of the one hundred universities, colleges, junior colleges and high schools that sent athletes to the Kansas Relays last year have indicated intention to again enter the fourth annual holding of this outdoor track and field carnival held here April 17 in the University of Kansas Memorial Stadium. In addition to these institutions, some half dozen new schools already sent word they will enter athletes for one or more of the fifteen relay races and nine special track and field events that make up the program.

Large University Class

In the University class, South Dakota, Michigan, and Utah Universities will swell the entry lists with their outstanding athletes for the first time in the history of the Kansas games. In the college classes new entries include those from the Doane College, Crete, Neb., and Oklahoma City University; new high schools to appear will be Picher, Okla., Galesburg, Ill., and Patkensburg, W. Va.

As usual, most all members of the Missouri Valley conference will send athletes to the Kansas games, and already five other Western Conference members other than Michigan, have planned to send entries, including Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Northwestern.

The Oregon Aggies and Occidental College, Los Angeles, will again represent the Pacific coast, while the University of Texas will probably be the entry from farthest South.

Yost Will Referee

Fielding H. Yost, director of athletics at Michigan University, who coached the University of Kansas football team to three victorious championship seasons in 1899, will be referee of the Kansas Relays this year. John C. Grover, Kansas City, Mo., attorney and widely known Missouri Valley conference sports official, will be the starter for the third consecutive year.

It was announced by Dr. F. C. Allen, director of athletics at K. U., and manager of the Kansas Relays, this week, that reduced rates had been granted by railroads for contestants coming to Lawrence for the relays.

TENNIS COURTS ARE OPEN TO STUDENTS

Use Is Free of Charge Because the University Is Financing Upkeep This Year

Fourteen double tennis courts on the city campus were opened yesterday afternoon to University students. The use of the courts is to be free of charge. It is made possible this year by the University financing the upkeep instead of the Athletic Board.

Six of the usual courts had to be abandoned to make way for the building of the new University Museum.

Plans are already in preparation for a men's tennis team. Other competitive work has not been started as yet.

The courts will be open every day the weather permits from now on.

Much Interest In Drill Question

the drill by the American Legion posts of Hastings and Grand Island.

Bee Has Interview

In Omaha prominent display was given in The Bee to an interview on Thursday with Colonel Tenney Ross, chief of staff of the seventh corps area. Army officers questioned about the objection that the training breeds a military spirit, stated that they did not regard military drill as having any such influence. They thought that it was an aid to physical development, a measure of national defense, and a duty which every able-bodied man owes to his country.

The Hastings post of the American Legion, acting in accordance with a resolution passed by the National Executive Committee of the Legion, passed a resolution Wednesday in favor of the compulsory military training now in practice at the university.

The resolution holds that compulsory military training in tax-supported institutions is an important feature of the National Defense Act, and that the movement against it is being fostered by a "certain united body of notorious draft-obstructionists and enemies of organized government."

The Farm House resolution which was printed in the Lincoln city papers follows:

TO THE UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA BOARD OF REGENTS:
WHEREAS: We have carefully considered the Resolution passed by the Aescia Fraternity on March 15th inst., concerning the agitation for the abolition of compulsory military training in the University of Nebraska; and

Hosiery Wardrobe

A few pairs of hosiery no longer suffice. Today hosiery is an important item in one's wardrobe, if one would be smartly dressed at all times. Different colors, different weights, different styles — these are essential if one would be well-groomed. You will find that it is not an expensive proposition to acquire what you need if you make your selections at Rudge & Guenzel's — moderate prices, beauty of weave and sturdiness of texture are features we lay particular stress on. For sports, daytime, or evening — Rudge & Guenzel's have hosiery for every hour of the day and for every taste and purse. Gotham Gold Stripe Chiffon, every color, silk from top to toe $1.85 pair.

Abolish Compulsory Chapel

Prof. Karl F. Wettstone has abolished compulsory daily chapel attendance at Duquesne University. He states that such a requirement is out of harmony with present conditions and that it tends toward mere formality.

"It's a great aid to scholastic efficiency"

ONE professor makes this remark, and countless others are saying the same thing. They know the value of a typewriter as a time-saver, as a means of compiling data, and as a help in the expression of thought. Then too, it frees the "prof" from that tedious task of deciphering longhand, and keeps him in perfect "reading humor." And perfect "reading humor" tends to mean better marks. Historic Spots To Be Honored advent of this company and a contemplated rival town, offered them one-third of the Omaha townsite if they would locate there; but they pushed on until they came to what is now Fontanelle—which is in the western part of Washington county. This place was named after the Omaha Indian Chief, Logan Fontanelle. Here the Congregationalists established a college which flourished for a number of years.

In order to reach Fontanelle it was necessary to cross a wide creek. James A. Bell, a member of the party was picked to cross it. It was necessary to crawl along on a tree that had fallen across the creek, and in doing so, Bell lost his balance and fell in. From this incident Bell creek derived its name. Later, in 1872, and for several years after, the town of Bell Creek was one of the enterprising towns in the country.

Historic old DeSoto, once the metropolis of the county, was laid out in 1854. It was the steamboat landing in territorial days. The Mormons who were there for a number of years, had located a few miles from it in 1846.

Cuming City is another of the historic spots. It was taken as a claim in September, 1854, and in 1855 it was a flourishing village.

The town of Humbolt was planned in 1867 and named by E. P. Tinker, who was quartered at Humboldt, Tennessee, while a member of the fifth Iowa cavalry during the war. Young Tinker liked the name and persuaded his father, who was the founder of the townsite in Nebraska, to give it to the town.

On May 26, 1885, four families of Bohemian emigrants in three covered wagons drawn by ox teams, camped in Richmond canyon about midway between Bartley and Cambridge, at a point where the D. L. D. highway now crosses. About 9 o'clock a wall of water came down the canyon and swept the entire camp away. Of the seventeen members of the party, men, women and children, three women and six children were drowned. To commemorate this incident in the early history of Red Willow county, a monument has been erected close to the place where these emigrants camped for the night.

These spots, besides various others, are of interest to all citizens of Nebraska. The Daughters of the American Revolution are marking historical spots all over the United States, in the belief that by so doing, they will foster an appreciation of pioneer qualities and will bring a consideration of the more serious things of life closer to mind.
