FARMERS' FAIR IS UNDER WAY

Snorpeum and Cornfield Follies Committees Are Planning Main Attractions

The Snorpeum and Cornfield Follies committees came together in a combined meeting at the Temple Friday night. These two features of farmers' fair are the headliners in amusement attractions.

The Follies, with a cast of over twenty girls, met at the same time. Wilma Perry, chairman of this fair entertainment, was not prepared to say definitely just what the follies would consist of this year.

Publicity Committee Busy: The publicity committee has been busy the past week. They plan to distribute over 5000 blotters announcing farmers' fair...

Meet at Ag Campus: During the coming week there will be three or four meetings every evening on the Ag campus.

The fair board will meet in the Countryman office at 7 o'clock on Wednesday evening. The Snorpeum and Cornfield Follies committees...

Susie Smart --our shop scout says: Dress Up For Easter in Magee's "Grey Room!"

you need look no further in your search for clothes that will make you a pleasing figure for reflection! Particularly irresistible at this time, are Magee's dresses of Georgette.

Crocheted Hats Hold Sway at Magee's! --wait till you see them in their colorful array! Then, if you can leave Magee's millinery section without buying one, you've either a strong character, or are already wearing one.

Monday is the Correct Day to Call the Globe Laundry! --just as, in mid-Victorian times, women used to rub-a-dub, personally, this first day of the week, now do they call B6755! A minute or two at the phone, and your clean-clothes worries are over for the week.
