Nebraska Professor Is Appointed Professor of Law At Illinois School

ON FACULTY SINCE 1923

Prof. E. Merrick Dodd, of the College of Law, will leave the University early in June, for the University of Chicago where he has been appointed acting professor of law to teach the subject of equity.

Mr. Dodd came to Nebraska in 1923. He is a graduate both of Harvard College and of Harvard Law School, and has had several years' experience with important law firms in New York and Boston.

Dean H. H. Foster, of the College of Law, made the following statement concerning Mr. Dodd: "Mr. Dodd is a man of such modesty that persons not closely associated with him are unaware of his ability."

The fact that both Harvard and Chicago have recently picked men from our law faculty affords us some consolation in that it involves a recognition of the character of the work that has been done here.

Arthur M. Hauke, '28, chairman of the Exhibits committee gives a detailed report for the Exhibits for the Ninth Annual Farmers Fair which will be held at the College of Agriculture on April 30.

The Home Economics Pageant committee have worked out a very unique story on "The Quest," the pageant that will be given at this year's Farmers Fair.

Emil Glaser, editor of the magazine, gives a very intimate story about various workers on the Fair this year. The story, entitled "Peeking In On Farmers Fair Workers," goes deeply into the private workings of the large affair and shows that all of the production is hard labor.

Although the issue is mainly a Farmers Fair number, Dorothy J. Morris, '29, has an article in it on "Rayon—The Wonder Cloth." This is an educational article and should be of great interest to the girls and women in general.

CHANGE OF RULE IN BASKETBALL

National Basketball Committee Restricts Dribbling to Single Bounce

CAUSES MUCH COMMENT

The National Basketball Committee on Rules which recently met in New York took one of the most drastic steps in the changing of the present basket ball rules, since the game was first organized.

Oswald Tower, Andover, Massachusetts, editor of the rule book, states: "Seventy-five per cent of fouls and violations of the rules have resulted from the dribble. Observing that basket ball is essentially a team game the restriction of the dribble would reduce the element of individual play and encourage passing."

Coach Black stated: "I would favor a rule that would prevent the guards from using the slow, deliberate dribble in bringing the ball up the floor, sometimes turning and dribbling back. But I think it is a mistake to eliminate the dribble altogether."

Clark Smaha, Captain of the 1926-27 squad and All-Valley forward, stated: "The new ruling will hold down the game, and slow it up considerably. It will not improve the game at all. There are so many times when the dribble is actually necessary."

Another change provides that time shall be taken out on all fouls. Officials and coaches agree that this is a good rule, because it will add at least five minutes more to the game.

The dribble holds an important place in basket ball, and the game of basket ball has shown such a marked increase in interest that it seems unwise to tamper with the rules as they stand," stated Coach Browne of the Lincoln High School.

Dr. Allen, Coach of basketball and director of athletics, University of Kansas, commented: "I also believe the rule body has been unnecessarily alarmed about contact in the game and are wrong in trying to do away with the dribble. Contact is not unwholesome when both contestants are playing the ball. Take away legitimate contact and combat from any game and you take away much of its virility."
