SIX CO-EDS TO BE CANDIDATES FOR PROM GIRL

Student Council Changes Manner of Selecting Socially Popular Girl

PLANS FOR BALL PROGRESS

Upperclassmen to Vote for Nominees at Regular Election; Six Highest Will Run

Nomination of six co-eds who will be candidates for the Prom girl, Nebraska's socially popular senior, will be made at the second semester elections to be held in the Temple the third Tuesday of next semester. Juniors and seniors will be given ballots upon which they will place their choice. The six co-eds receiving the highest number of votes will be candidates voted upon the evening of the ball.

The system is entirely different from the one used last year and the Prom committee in requesting the ballot at the Student council meeting last evening, pointed out that this method would eliminate possible difficulties which might arise from too large a scattered vote.

The Prom girl is presented at the Junior-Senior Prom and is an outstanding honor, being chosen by up-

LUNCHEON IS GIVEN BY WOMAN VOTERS

Mrs. Brando Will Honor Meeting of Campus Group in Ellen Smith Hall Today

The Campus League of Women Voters will have as honor guests, at a luncheon in Ellen Smith Hall Thursday noon, Mrs. M. Brando, of Omaha, who is one of the vice-presidents of the State League. Mrs. Brando is also in charge of all college leagues of women voters. Miss Ruth Gauke, new State secretary, will be present.

The Campus League of Women Voters, a junior organization of the Nebraska League of Women Voters, was organized at the University of Nebraska several years ago. Their main work this year has been an inclusive study of civic, state and national government. Grace Grosverner is president of the campus group, and Maurine Drayton is secretary.

The luncheon at Ellen Smith Hall Thursday noon is open to all women interested.

Y.W.C.A. OFFICER TO VISIT LINCOLN

Hasel K. Allen, National Secretary Plans to be in City January 25, 26, and 27

Miss Hazel K. Allen, national secretary of the Y. W. C. A., will be in Lincoln January 25, 26, 27 to get the qualification of girls applying to her for summer camp positions at Camp Okoboji in Milford, Iowa, and at Camp Maque in Maque, Maine.

All applications for positions must be given to Miss Appleby before January 25. Interviews with Miss Allen must be scheduled ahead in the hours which she has set aside. Her hours on Wednesday afternoon are already filled.

Positions will be open to fourteen general workers, one office manager, one stenographer, one housekeeper, one dietitian, one head swimming counselor and two swimming assistants, one store manager, one assistant store manager and one book store manager. Details of the work and qualifications required of applicants for these positions were announced in the Daily Nebraskan Sunday.

Last year Asenath Schill, Lucille Gillette and Eugenia Hampton went to Camp Okoboji and Helen Asch received a position at Camp Maque in Maine.

KAPPA B.T.A. HOLDS SUPPER

Women Students of Christian Church Entertain Rev. and Mrs. Joneson

Kappa Beta, national organization for university women students who are members of the Christian church, held a covered dish supper Tuesday evening at the First Christian church. Reverend and Mrs. O. A. Joneson who are soon leaving the East Lincoln Christian church were special guests.

Following the dinner Rev. Joneson gave a short talk.

The next meeting of the organization will be held Tuesday evening, January 31.

Pre-Medics to Select New Members Tonight

New members of Theta Nu, honorary pre-medical society, will be "tapped" this evening at the pre-medical banquet at the Grand Hotel, at 6 o'clock. All new members will be selected from the sophomore class of the pre-medical department.

MATMEN MEET CORNELL TEAM

Complete Line-up Has Not Been Determined for Initial Clash Saturday

Nebraska's wrestling team will meet Cornell College at Mount Vernon, Iowa, Saturday. Coach Kellogg predicts a hard battle, in view of Cornell's 22-0 defeat of Northwestern, and 21-0 victory over Wisconsin. This is the Husker's first meet of the season.

The complete line-up of grapplers for the meet has not been decided, but in the 135 lb. class Evert Reimer will wrestle; in the 145 lb. class, Earl Luff; in the 158 lb. class, Mark Simons; and in the 175 lb. class, Joe Toman. Lynn Cox and George Koehnke are still competing for heavy-weight representation.

Upsets Occur

Yesterday's 125 lb. class trials turned out unexpectedly when Kenneth Mallette won over Aubrey Hurren; Max Karrer defeated Mallette, and Hurren staged a come-back and won over Karrer. No decision has been reached as to the representative in the 115 lb. class, the competition being among Kish, Kellogg and Kososky.

"We are expecting a much stronger team next semester," stated Coach Kellogg, "because four valuable men were ineligible this first semester."

New Evidence Shows Man Is Old In America

Norman, Jan. 18.—That man is a considerably older "institution" than the North American continent than has heretofore been believed, is the opinion of Dr. Leslie Spier, head of the department of anthropology at the University of Oklahoma.

Dr. Spier studied specimens of spearheads found in direct contact with bones of an extinct type of bison near Raton, N. M., while attending the winter meeting of the American Anthropological association at Andover, Mass.

The spearheads are unlike anything made by modern Indians and are all essentially similar to each other, Dr. Spier said. The discovery is much more convincing of the possibility of the existence of an earlier human beings than previously believed, than were the discoveries made near the shell of the prehistoric gyttton moster near Frederick, Okla., Dr. Spier declared.

Smallest Man To Compete in R.O.T.C. Events Is Horacek

Stanley T. Horacek of Seward has the distinction of being the smallest man to compete in the R. O. T. C. events. He stands five feet in height, and weighs just over 100 pounds. He is a member of Company F. Company E has the biggest man to compete, in the persons of G. C. Reid of Albion. He is six feet tall and tips the scales at 235 pounds.

When Horacek appeared for the events he was ridiculed on account of his small size. His work on the track made one look up and take notice. The records show that the little fellow gained 1045 points for his company by taking the high hurdles in 5:5 seconds. He ran the lap or 258 yards in just 36:7 seconds. His other efforts yield the following totals: broad jump, 13 ft., 6 inches; total 35 pound weight, 14 feet; high jumped 4 feet; low hurdles 8:1; shot put 20 feet; 50 yard dash 6:8 and also ran on the relay team.

Tear Gas Disperses Student Politicians

Jan. 18.—(Special)—Chicago's bloody election days seem to have found a miniature reproduction in the affairs staged semi-annually on the campus of the University of Oklahoma. A political rally of one of the major parties, held recently prior to the mid-winter student elections, was temporarily put to route by the explosion of tear gas in the Engineering auditorium.

PUBLICATION BOARD MAKES APPOINTMENTS

Oscar Norling Editor of Daily Nebraskan; Alan McIntosh Heads Awgwan

BOARD WILL MEET AGAIN

Kezer Will Manage Paper; Larson Placed in Charge of Awgwan Business

Oscar Norling, '28, Litchfield, was appointed editor-in-chief of The Daily Nebraskan for the second semester of this year, and Munro Kezer, '29, Fort Collins, Colo., managing editor, at a meeting of the Publication Board late yesterday afternoon. Alan C. McIntosh, '28, Sioux City, Ia., was appointed editor-in-chief of the Awgwan, and Eldred C. Larson, '29, Oakland, business manager.

Other appointments are: Assistant Managing Editors—Dorothy Nott, '28, Elgin; and Gerald E. Griffin, '29, Greenwood.

News Editors—Pauline Bilon, '29, North Loup; Paul F. Nelson, '29, North Loup; Dean E. Hammond, '30, Holdrege; Maurice W. Konkel, '29, Cheyenne, Wyo.

Ass't. News Editors—W. Joyce Ayres, '29, Lincoln; Lyman P. Cass, '29, Ravenna; Florence Seward, '29, Omaha.

Business Staffs Chosen Later

Action was deferred on appointments of the business staffs of both the Nebraskan and the Awgwan, in order to study further the applications. This meeting will probably be held sometime this week.

The assistant business managers of the Awgwan will be announced tomorrow, according to a member of the publication board. The board appointed a committee to consider the appointment of associate editor of the Awgwan and junior managing editor of the Cornhusker.

PICTURE DEADLINE IS SATURDAY NIGHT

Fraternity and Sorority Pictures Must be Taken by Six O'clock January 21

The deadline for all fraternity and sorority pictures for the 1928 Cornhusker has been definitely set at Saturday, January 21, at 6 o'clock. It was originally set for January 14, but so few students appeared at the studios, that the date was postponed a week.

Organization heads should arrange to have the organization pictures taken before Saturday of this week, at the Campus Studio. Students are advised to have the pictures taken as soon as possible, because Saturday is the deadline for all fraternity, sorority and organization pictures for the Cornhusker.

DUBOIS WILL HEAD ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Heller is Vice President; Taylor Hess, Weber, and Dean are Elected Officers

Robert Dubois, '28, Cheyenne, Wyoming, was elected president of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, at the election held at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Commercial club rooms. Mr. Dubois will succeed Ralph S. Wagner as president of the organization.

Enos Heller was elected vice-president; Harold Taylor, secretary; Dale Hess, treasurer; Bert Weber, warden and Raymond Dean, master of rituals. Mr. Dubois, who was elected president, previously held the office.

BOXING TOURNEY WILL BEGIN SOON

Meet Scheduled to Start on First Night of Intra-mural Athletic Carnival

On the night of the intra-mural Athletic Carnival the fuse of the Inter-fraternity boxing tournament will be set off. A few of the first bouts of the tournament will be staged that night and it will continue through the eliminations.

The tournament will include entries in the 108, 115, 125, 130, 138, 147, 156, 175 pound and heavyweight. Within this large entry list come active battles should be found. Each match will be governed by national intercollegiate rules; that is, each bout will be three rounds of two minutes each, and a 20 point advantage will stop the bout.

Contest Entrants Are Asked to Turn in Names

All university students, entering the poster contest being sponsored by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, are asked to turn their names in to either the Daily Nebraskan office or to Professor A. N. Newsens in the Conservatory building. Pamphlets containing the rules and regulations governing the contest may also be secured at these offices.

STUDENTS GIVE UP SELF-GOVERNMENT

University of Wisconsin Senate Recommends that Regents Abolish Charter

Madison, Wis., Jan. 18.—Self-government, in a centralized form, of men students at the University of Wisconsin is expected to be officially buried at the January meeting of the University Regents.

The recommendation of the Student Senate, since 1916 supposedly the highest authority in student governmental affairs, that its charter be abolished has been approved by the faculty and will be submitted to the Regents for final action at the January meeting.

The Student Court surrendered its charter in June, 1926.

Student self-government now is carried on by five boards, formerly under the nominal authority of the senate. These are the Union board, the Badger board, the Cardinal board of control, the Athletic board, and the Forensic board.

The retiring Senators, when they voted dissolution last October, recommended that their major activity—the supervision of student elections—be left to a board of the heads of the five administrative bodies, plus four appointed members from the general student body.

The Senate voted to leave its funds to the disposition of the University Regents.

Y. W. CABINET ENTERTAINS

Dinner is Given for Colored Women Students of University

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet entertained sixteen of the colored women students of the university at a dinner at Ellen Smith Hall Wednesday evening at six o'clock. Following dinner, Ruth Davis led a discussion on "The Possibilities of a World-wide Student Christian Movement."

About forty girls attended the affair, including the sixteen honored guests, the members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, and other members of the Inter-racial Commission. A motif of red and white was carried out in the table decorations; the dinner in charge of Mary Hess.

Clogging Is Added to Activities of W. A. A.

Clogging will be introduced as a new activity by the W. A. A. next semester, according to announcement made yesterday afternoon. All women students are eligible for competition, and all those who wish to take part are urged to sign up for the event on the bulletin board, east of the Armory. No special costume is required for this activity, but low heeled shoes are recommended for the dancing.

NOVEL DANCE PLANNED FOR COMING PARTY

"Off-Color" Dance Is Feature of Intra-mural Athletic Carnival in Coliseum

FEBRUARY 3 IS DATE SET

Plans for Affair Near Completion; Number of Athletic Events to Precede Dance

A novel dance idea will be introduced to University students at the Intra-mural Athletic Carnival, Feb. 3, at the Coliseum. It will be called the "Off-Color" dance.

The Carnival will include a championship basketball game, boxing and wrestling bouts, inter-fraternity and cadet relays, and a sorority needle and thread relay. All these events will be crowded into two and a half active hours. At ten o'clock the "Off-Color" dance will begin.

'N' Men in Charge

Each person will be given a colored ticket at the door. These will be assorted colors and each dancer must hand this ticket on coat or dress. During the dance, someone will be stationed in the balcony with a group of large cards corresponding to the colors down below. At a signal, the cards will be paired and the dancers must select a partner with the same colored ticket. The rules of the game will be enforced by "N" men stationed about the floor, who will collect a fine of a nickel for each infraction.

Preparations for the party are not complete, and music has not yet been arranged for.

Vaccination For Smallpox Is Advocated

A young English girl, consulting Dr. E. T. Jenner, was asked whether she had ever had smallpox. She replied, "No, but I have had cowpox." Dr. Jenner became interested in the study of smallpox and in 1798 announced that he could protect people by the introduction of cowpox virus.

Since that period, vaccination has proved so successful it has reduced smallpox almost to the vanishing point, according to Prof. H. H. Waite of the Department of Bacteriology. To successfully immunize a person, he should be vaccinated within a year of his birth, re-vaccinated when he enters school and at periods of from five to seven years thereafter, with revaccinations in case of epidemics. Previous to the discovery of vaccination the death rate for smallpox was 1 in 10. The present rate in United States is 1 in 2500.

Prof. White advocates compulsory vaccination in public schools. Dr. H. M. Ayres writing in "Fight Against Disease" gives experimental data on the vaccinal condition of the first 1230 cases in his county between February and July 1927. Not a single case of disease occurred in a child who had been successfully vaccinated before the epidemic, while among the unvaccinated school children of less than fifteen years, there were not less than 355 cases.

HANEY WILL READ PAPER AT MEETING

"Smoke Abatement" is Title of Address before Engineers Club in Kansas City

J. W. Haney, chairman of the department of mechanical engineering, will read a paper on "Smoke Abatement" before the Engineers Club of Kansas City Monday, January 23. Mr. Haney has studied very extensively the smoke nuisance prevalent in many American cities, and is prepared to give a very good account as to how this nuisance can be eliminated.

This department is planning to establish several new courses in Automotive Engineering in the near future which will strengthen the department considerably.

The annual senior ball at the University of Illinois may be cancelled this year because of rowdiness displayed at the senior informal.

Palladians Will Hold Meeting Friday Night

There will be an open meeting of the Palladian Literary Society, in its room on the third floor of the Temple building, Friday evening, January 20, at nine o'clock.

The program will be under the direction of Ned Fisher. It will consist, among other features, of a recitation of literary selections.

'N' Club Head

Vinton Lawson, '28, who was elected president of the "N" Club at their meeting Tuesday evening, "Vint" has been active in football and basketball during his athletic career at Nebraska, playing end on the football team and guard on the basketball quintet.

LAWSON ELECTED TO HEAD 'N' CLUB

Lettermen Receive Radio for Club Rooms; Pressnell and Randels Relate Trip Experiences

Election of officers was the main feature of the "N" Club meeting Tuesday, in their Coliseum club rooms. Vinton Lawson was chosen president to succeed Glenn Pressnell, whose term had expired. Other new officers are: Ray Randels, vice-president; Glenn Davis, sec.-treas.; Merle Zaver, sergeant-at-arms.

A complete radio set was presented by George Holmes, Lincoln member of the athletic board of control. The set will be used in the club rooms, and will add to the extensive furnishings already there.

Interesting talks on the East-West football game were given by Ray Randels and Glenn Pressnell, Nebraska representatives. They described the game, as a clean, hard, battle for every man; told of the royal entertainment given by the Shriners organizations, and other personal views.

During the business session, the "N" Club pledged its support to the Intra-Mural Athletic Carnival, which is to be staged at the Coliseum, February 3.

Several Graduate Chemists Return To Visit Campus

Several graduate chemists of the University have visited the department recently. Practically all of the graduates are teaching in colleges and universities throughout the country.

A list of the visitors follows: Dr. Randall Major, M. S. C., instructor and research assistant at Princeton University; Dr. R. H. Edge, M. S. C., '25, Nebraska, Ph. D., Northwestern University, associate professor of chemistry at Hamline University, St. Paul, Minnesota; H. J. Wayne, M. S. C., '25, instructor of chemistry at the State Agricultural College, Brookings, South Dakota; Miss Dora Burnell, M. S. C., '25, professor of chemistry at Houghton College, Houghton, New York.

Miss Josephine Graves, M. S. C., '19, who is now instructor of chemistry at Principia University, St. Louis, Mo.; Miss Viola Jelinek, M. S. C., '27, principal of the chemistry department of Hebron Academy, Hebron, Nebraska; Irwin Clark, B. S. C., research chemist for the Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation, Tulsa, Okla.

Don Loder, B. S. C., '27, who recently received a fellowship in chemistry from Northwestern University, and Robert Maxwell, B. S. C., '26, who has been research chemist for the Mid-West Refining Company of Casper, Wyoming, and received a fellowship in chemistry at the University of Illinois, where he completed his work for a Ph. D. degree.

WOMEN HOLD CONVENTION

Informational Course Will Be Open To Girl Reserve Advisors

All women interested in Girl Reserve work are invited to attend the State Adult Guidance Council convention which will be held in Lincoln February 3 and 4.

An informational course about Girl Reserve work requiring six hours of attendance will be given early in February and will be open to Girl Reserve advisors. The course will take up the history of the movement, the growth of the work with younger girls, the national requirements, the importance of advisory committees and the place of the Girl Reserve movement in the world today.

ARMY OR NAVY MAY APPEAR ON 1928 SCHEDULE

Possibility of Huskers Meeting Army or Navy on Gridiron Is Rumored

HOWARD FAVORS PLAN

Vice-president Dawes and General Pershing Support Movement; Prospects Favorable

Nebraska may have the Army or Navy football game on the 1928 Husker schedule according to rumors dispatched from Washington last night. Reports from the national capitol suggest the Nebraska Cornhuskers as a possible opponent for either the Army or Navy eleven on the gridiron next fall.

The Nebraska congressmen from the Cornhusker state are discussing the possibility and the plan is being sponsored by Congressman Edgar Howard of Columbus, representing the third Nebraska district. The Nebraska congressman stated yesterday that he intended to get in touch with athletic officials at the Cornhusker school to ask permission to schedule a game for November 24, the date of the annual Navy-Army game, which has been cancelled.

Congressman Howard interested Howard said he would ask athletic officials at Annapolis to invite the Cornhuskers to play at Philadelphia, while he suggested that a Nebraska-Army game be scheduled for the Nebraska stadium. Nebraska alumni in the national capitol stated that both Vice-president Charles G. Dawes and General John J. Pershing former Nebraskans had already pledged themselves to support the movement.

University officials have no definite information on the proposed game but are perfectly willing to consider a game with either of the schools. Athletic Director Herb Gish stated that he had no official information on the subject but was heartily in favor of the game.

Gish also stated that it would be necessary for Nebraska to secure permission from the Big Six officials to schedule a game. The Big Six ruling is that only one outside game may be scheduled a season and Nebraska has already filled that date with Montana State at Lincoln in October.

DR. WILLIAMS IS FORUM SPEAKER

Sociology Professor Expresses Views on "Companionate Marriage"

"I agree with the statement of Judge Lindsey of Denver, that the industrial revolution and the democratic movement will change marriage and marriage must change with it," declared Dr. Hattie Plum Williams in her talk before the World Forum yesterday noon. Before more than 175 students and members of the faculty, Dr. Williams expressed her views concerning the question of "Companionate Marriage."

Dr. Williams began her talk with the statement, "What did Judge Lindsey mean when he said companionate marriage?" She continued, "he meant that no children are to be born during the probation period. If this condition is evident, the marriage at once becomes a family one, exactly the same as the family marriage of today. If the companionate marriage is not agreeable to both parties, the man and woman may meet in court and announce their separation and it is recorded. The main similarity between companionate marriage and the family marriage is the fact that a ceremony is used for both."

Financial Problem

"The outstanding differences between companionate marriage and family marriage are: the couple is free to live apart, the question of self-support is the fundamental one because the man is not responsible for the support of the woman, they are independent financially and occupationally. The man pays the woman no alimony in case of separation. According to Lindsey the economic order of living today makes it impossible for a young man to support a family. The other main difference is the fact that divorce is used for both."
