KEYHOLE PEEPS

It is reported that Douglas Fairbanks Jr. has been neglecting Dolores Costello lately and is quite often seen with Joan Crawford. (I'd shout for joy but I'm afraid that Doug. Jr.

might hear it and change his mind.)—If you get what I mean.

Clara Bow's stepmother who is about Clara's age has been freed from her husband, Robert Bow. Rather, Mr. Bow had the marriage annulled, claiming that he had been vamped into marrying her.

A certain hairnet company reports that they are having a remarkable increase in the sale of hairnets since the tendency among the movie stars recently, to neglect the scissors.

Roscoe Arbuckle is working steadily in vaudeville these days.

perhaps as Estelle Taylor Dempsey, is back on the job for the first time in five years. She will play opposite George O'Brien in "Honor Bound."

In one of the recent issues of a certain movie magazine, a doctor exclaimed that the movies have a peculiar effect on the minds of the spectators. Of all the things that might be attributed to the strange effect of moving pictures, one thing is certain. They cause absentmindedness. It is interesting to watch people strolling out of a theater as if they didn't have a care in the world than suddenly remember that they left a hat, a book or some other accessory at the seat they occupied. An extreme case was reported the other day when a lady went as far as foyer before she noticed that her shoes were missing. She had removed them because they were too tight.

If the girl who signs herself as "Betty" will disclose her identity, I will attempt to reciprocate as far as I am able to do so, for the clever letter she left me in the lobby of one of the theaters. In case you don't show up, Betty, I want to thank you for what you taught me. The endearing terms you used are gems,—in case I ever fall in love.

Lon Chaney has an offer from the makers of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, to write an article on 'make-up.'

Try this one on your girl when she's 'down' on you.
"I didn't mind the parties he went to," testified Marie Prevost at the hearing of her divorce case, "but I just simply couldn't stand his habit of calling me up every hour or so and telling me what a good time he was having."

Charles Rogers is blessed with an uncommon lot of good sense. He rooms and boards at the home of a friend and to quote him, he gets "all for sixteen dollars a week—and that includes everything I eat."

Bill Hart, the two-gun man that used to thrill us as kids, is receiving so much fan mail asking why he doesn't return to moviedom, that he is contemplating a 'comeback.'

John Barrymore will do the film version of "The Last of Mrs. Chaney." At that rate Clarence Raish and Blue Howell ought to be able to do an imitation of the Duncan sisters.

Dolores Del Rio is seriously ill with flu.

Richard Arlen is playing opposite Clara Bow in "Ladies of the Mob."

Lon Chaney is to follow "Laugh, Clown, Laugh," with "Chinatown."

"China Bound," has just been completed, starring Ramon Novarro.

Nancy Carroll who is starred in "Abie's Irish Rose," is playing opposite Richard Dix in "Easy Come, Easy Go."

Tom Mix, the czar of the silver screen as far as salary is concerned, is going to South America for a vacation, where incidentally he will make a few westerns with the pampas as a studio.

On a par with "LIGHTNING," "MOTHER'S MILLIONS," "THE LITTLE SPIT-FIRE," as far as success is concerned, yet a decided change. Had a record breaking run of two years at the Booth Theatre, New York.

Chico, worker in the Paris sewers, and Diane, broken hearted wife of Montmartre—these are the lowly characters whose shining romance provides the theme of "SEVENTH HEAVEN." The story of how, through courage and a sublime faith, Chico leads his Diane from the depths of despair to the very "Seventh Heaven" of happiness is one of the loveliest stories ever staged. JOY SUTPHEN.

to the other professional schools. Consequently, students who indicate inability to proceed with advanced and professional work, can be eliminated at the end of two years.

Entering students will be permitted to indicate a major interest, on the basis of which they will be assigned faculty advisers. Common interests in subject matter and specialization will guide these appointments. The whole program permits variation, and it is expected eventually to grant its registrants opportunity to work on their own initiative.

Fine Arts Receive Four New Etchings

prize winner, until now there are twenty-three etchings in the collection.

Names of Etchings

"Amiens," by John Taylor Alms, "Memorial Gate, University of Pennsylvania," by G. A. Bradshaw, "Friend or Foe," by Dean Roberts, and "Weeding," by Carmen L. Bkowne are the four new additions to the collection.

"Amiens" was awarded the National Arts club prize in 1927, and it is a portrayal of a street scene in the French town of Amiens. It is an exceptionally beautiful piece of work, and shows to good advantage the skilful technique of the notable artist.

"Friend or Foe" is an attractive picture of two terriers, and it is a favorite of all dog-lovers.

Impressionistic Technique
"Weeding" is done in the "new" manner, tending to impressionistic technique rather than detail. Many people feel that the manner in which it is done causes it to lose all the delicacy, all the minutely detailed workmanship, which are the chief charm of the etching.

This collection is proving to be very popular among visitors to the exhibits, because it has a wide range in subjects portrayed, in style and technique, and in names of prominent etchers.

University officials have made it possible for all students registered in the University to see these etchings along with the exhibition of paintings in the galleries on the second floor of Morrill Hall, and a collection of original cartoons by America's greatest cartoonists in room 204, Morrill Hall at no charge to the students. Admission for the general public is twenty-five cents.

Travel Talk Is Offered Today

Visitors in the building who are interested in hearing about the pictures on display are asked to gather promptly at four o'clock in Gallery A where Mr. Kirsch will begin his tour. The points touched upon in his talk will be the message that the artist wishes to convey and the means at his disposal for its expression.

The members of the art department of the Women's Club which has been under the direction of Mr. Kirsch for the past season have made reservations for this hour.

In Room 204 at 3 o'clock an illustrated lecture on civic art will be given. Much interest was manifested in this feature last Sunday when examples of American painting were shown and it is thought that even more pleasure may be derived from the views of splendid buildings and beautiful parks to be shown today.

TRACK STAR HAS TO DROP FROM SCHOOL

Ill Health Forces Ames Captain and Record Holder to Quit Sport Until Spring Meets

Ames, Iowa, Feb. 25.—Lindus Caulum of Sioux City, captain of the Iowa State track team and holder of the Missouri Valley half mile record, has left school, according to word from the athletic department. Caulum has been on the sick list for a month and has dropped out of school to regain his strength. He is expected to be back in the spring quarter of school in shape for the outdoor track team.

Caulum was taken sick before the Millrose games a month ago, and was unable to run as anchor man for the Cyclones. His loss has been felt by the two-mile team, although without him it defeated the University of Iowa a week ago and lowered the two-mile record at the K. S. A. C. meet Saturday. Caulum will first get into action at the Texas and Rice Institute relays.
