

Wheel Display Is Destroyed

The fire alarm. The display which was placed in front of the Administration building, was nearly demolished, and the motor used in propelling it was quite badly damaged. Few spectators saw the fire.

Early Tuesday morning a meeting of the College of Law was called and a letter claiming innocence was written and sent to the engineering students.

Exchange Letters
At a mass meeting of engineers late Tuesday morning, the letter was acknowledged and a reciprocal letter was sent back, relieving the Laws from any charge of guilt. The engineers will erect a sign where the display was, to advertise their Engineers' week program.

The letters follow:
May 1, 1928
Mr. Harold W. Zipp,
Chairman, Engineers' Week.
Dear Sir:

Because of the destruction of the Engineers' display, the students of the law college wish to state that in so far as it is ascertainable at the present time, they are in no way responsible for this destruction;

That the Engineers may be assured that the law students will in no way interfere with their program for the week, and in so far as is possible will prevent interference with or any altercations between the two colleges which may arise as a result of said deprecation.

Engineers' Reply
May 1, 1928
To the Students of the College of Law,
Dear Sirs:

The students of the College of Engineering are very much pleased and gratified with the fine spirit shown by the students of the College of Law, as expressed in their communication to us this morning.

It is our belief that the destruction of our display and the defacement of your building were done by some one outside of either college. If, on the other hand, the act was committed by a member of either college, we know that he was not moved by the spirit of his school.

We value your willingness to cooperate during the remaining days of Engineers' Week, and accept this offer fully, in the spirit in which it was given.

Sincerely,
(Signed) Harold W. Zipp

Horse Show Added To Farmers' Fair

The prize will be a riding crop for each rider and will be awarded immediately.

Taylor Will Appear
Following this event Professor Taylor will give an exhibition with his high schooled horse Shibiam, a purebred Arabian stallion.

A contest for children under fifteen will be conducted and a riding crop will be given as the prize.
After this an exhibition of three and five gaited saddle horses will take place. Each rider will put his horse through the different gaits, walk, trot, canter, rack, slow pace, fox trot, running walk, and will be judged by the east and precision in changing from gait to gait. The best lady rider will then be chosen and the prize will be a laides riding habit which is being offered by Mr. Wasserman of Orkin brothers. The best gentleman rider will be awarded a fancy riding bridle.

Hurdling Is Scheduled
High hurdling will be the final event and this will give the audience some light on the subject regarding the numerous spills the Prince of Wales takes.

Entries have not closed for either riders or horses. Any one who desires to enter may do so by notifying Arthur Hauke, manager of Farmers' Fair of Keith Walker, manager of the Capital City Riding academy. Horses will be furnished free to those who have had some experience in riding.

Quite a number of horses and riders have entered at the present time. Several university students who are enrolled in the university riding classes have entered. From all indications this is going to be one of the most popular attractions of the fair.

Bizad Day Ticket Sale Begins Today

secure admission for all who want to attend the annual High School track meet to be held in the stadium, Friday afternoon. If this plan goes through, a full day's program will be put on instead of the half-day celebration as held before.

During the intermission at the Lindell, Harriet Cruise Kemmer, two clever clog-dancers, and several humorous skits will entertain the assembled dancers.

"Our slogan is 'A good time for everyone all the time' and we're going to provide a real frolic," stated Douglas Timmerman, chairman of Bizad Day. "With the tickets only a dollar, and the date a convenient one for all, we are planning for a record crowd."

Pharmacists Gather Today

E. K. Mulford Co., Burroughs Wellcome Co., Johnson and Johnson, Bauer and Black, Armstrong Cork Co., and Eli Lilly and Co.

A special exhibit of cosmetics will be on view this evening. The basic ingredients of face powder, toilet water, cold cream, vanishing cream and tooth paste will be shown and the method of manufacture will be explained. Several of the most popular lines of cosmetics will be shown.

Many Other Displays
Other exhibits and demonstrations will include food and drug analysis, pharmacopoeial testing, pharmaceutical dispensary, general pharmacy, chemical and galenical pharmacy, physiology and pharmacology, first aid, and pharmaceutical law and ethics.

On Friday afternoon a picnic is being given for students of the College of Pharmacy. A baseball game between the engineering and pharmacy colleges will be a part of the entertainment.

Banquet Is Final
The final event of the week will be the Pharmacy banquet at the Cornhusker hotel. Dr. C. J. Frankforter will act as toastmaster. Among the guests will be Regent Stanley D. Long, William Brookley, Chancellor Emeritus S. Avery, Chancellor E. A. Burnett, J. A. Porter, Judge James Chappell, and Judge Lincoln Frost.

Pharmacy week at Nebraska is distinctive in that it was the first school to organize an event of this kind. Eugene Bach is chairman of the arrangements.

Pre-Med Students Plan Omaha Visit

aha especially for their benefit.
Start at Hospital

The annual program for the week-end start Friday morning at 9 o'clock at the ne wuniversity hospital. Special clinics and operations will be given to the groups of visiting pre-med students. Dr. H. W. Menter, advisor of the pre-meds in Lincoln, will also make the trip to the Nebraska metropolis and assist in accompanying groups of students about the College of Medicine. Medical students will have charge of the groups which attend the clinics.

Phi Beta Pi, professional medical fraternity, will hold a special clinic for the benefit of prospective doctors at the Jennie Edmundson hospital in Council Bluffs, Iowa, Saturday morning.

Many Events Scheduled
Special clinics, tours of inspection of the various buildings, visits to the embryology and anatomy departments and lectures and operations will furnish the major portion of the special instruction for the visiting students.

Friday afternoon the annual double-header baseball game will be played between the pre-meds and the regularly enrolled medical students. This is usually one of the high lights of the week-end. The second game will be played between the A. O. A.'s and the S. O. L.'s, scholastic organizations at the College of Medicine. This is also a traditional tussle.

Women Also Attend
The annual Pre-Med week will close Saturday with entertainments at the various medical fraternity homes. This occasion in Omaha is equivalent to rush week on the Lincoln campus. It is the only time that prospective medical students are actually in contact with those attending the College of Medicine.

Women taking nurses training courses in Lincoln will also make the trip and be in attendance at the special clinics Saturday morning.

Student Chemists Plan Two Exhibits

volcano, and a demonstration of modern fire extinguisher. The action of thermite is one of the most spectacular in the whole field of chemistry, according to Professor Frankforter.

Iron at 4000 Degrees
Molten iron at a temperature of 4000 degrees fahrenheit will be produced in 15 or 20 seconds. Welding and the cutting of metals will be also shown in the exhibition.

All branches of the chemistry department will be open to the public Thursday evening, due to the courtesy of Dr. Fred Upson, chairman of that department.

Shanafelt Gives Talk on Clothes
Miss Marjorie Shanafelt gave a short talk before the Girls' Friendly Society of the University Episcopal church Sunday evening. "Peacocks, One and All" was the title of her talk, which dealt with the evolution of clothes.

Bizads and Teachers Will Tangle May 11

Baseball players of the College of Business Administration will meet a Teachers college nine on Bizad day, May 11, according to present plans. The game will be played on the diamond at Thirty-second and W streets. According to pre-game statistics the two teams are about evenly matched. The Bizad team defeated the teachers in a game played last spring.

All Land Cleared For Memorial Mall

The mall will be landscaped to form a park although its definite arrangement has not been decided upon. A tall "Nebraska" flag pole in the circle and a fountain at the east has been proposed as part of the plan. Shrubbery will border the drive.
To have the pavement running directly parallel to Bessey hall would necessitate a new entrance to the

Teachers College and Aggies Will Play Ball

Jimmy Lewis has made arrangements for a baseball game between the teachers and the agriculturalists May 12, at the College of Agriculture. Willard Bronson and Bryant Holmes have been given the task of getting all baseball aspirants in the Teachers college out for their games this spring. They want all of the teachers to get in touch with them at once.
