H.A. Koch Says Degree Doesn't Insure Success

Omaha Insurance Firm Head Tells of Advantages Of College Work

WORKING STUDENT HAS ADVANTAGE IN BUSINESS

Editor's Note: This is the fourth of a series of articles The Daily Nebraskan is publishing in which the problems of the college graduate in the business world are discussed by business executives. Today's article was prepared for The Nebraskan by Harry A. Koch, president of the Omaha insurance firm of that name.

The question of the adaptability of a college education to the practical problems of business, and the results that have been achieved by the college graduate in business, probably always will be a matter of debate. The man who has gone out into the field of business and has gained his measure of success without the advantages that the training in college would give him, naturally feels a sense of sufficiency, and is inclined to belittle the advantages of college life.

A college education is not an assurance of success. College men have failed, and if the number of those who have failed, or who have

TWO OFFICERS WILL NOT RETURN IN FALL

Eggers Goes to Canal Zone; Foster Is Transferred to Fort Missoula, Mont.

Capt. Albert D. Foster and Capt. Lewis W. Eggers have been notified that they are to be transferred from their present position as instructors at the University of Nebraska at the end of this year.

Captain Foster is to be transferred to Fort Missoula, Mont., and Captain Eggers is to report for duty in the canal zone. Lieut. Col. F. F. Jewett, commandant of cadets, is serving his third year here. Next year he will be transferred in keeping with the usual four year period that is the rule of the war department.

Two Replace Them
Capt. Earl C. Flegel and Capt. Theodore A. Baermeister, both of Fort Benning, Ga., have been assigned to the University to replace the two that are leaving.

Captain Eggers had been engaged as coach of the rifle team, and has been in general charge of the rifle range. Captain Foster is instructor in the theoretical work with the seniors.

Major T. F. McNeill, of the United States army, who has been instructor of the Nebraska national guards, will be transferred to Fort Snelling, Minn.

Welpton Is Chosen to Head Pershing Rifles

Officers for Next Year Are Elected At Meeting; Lyon Will Continue Sponsor

Sherman Welpton, '30, was made captain of the Pershing Rifles for next year at an election held last night in Nebraska hall. Welpton has been prominent in activities on the campus for the past two years, especially in the military department.

Preceding the election of officers a resolution was passed to the effect that Captain Lyon, who has been sponsor of the organization during the last year, continue in the capacity of advisor for the year to come.

Those elected are:
National Colonel, Jack McKnight; National Adjutant, Ray Sabate; Captain, Sherman Welpton; First Lieutenant, Harry R. Hansen; Second Lieutenant, King; First Sergeant, Brown.

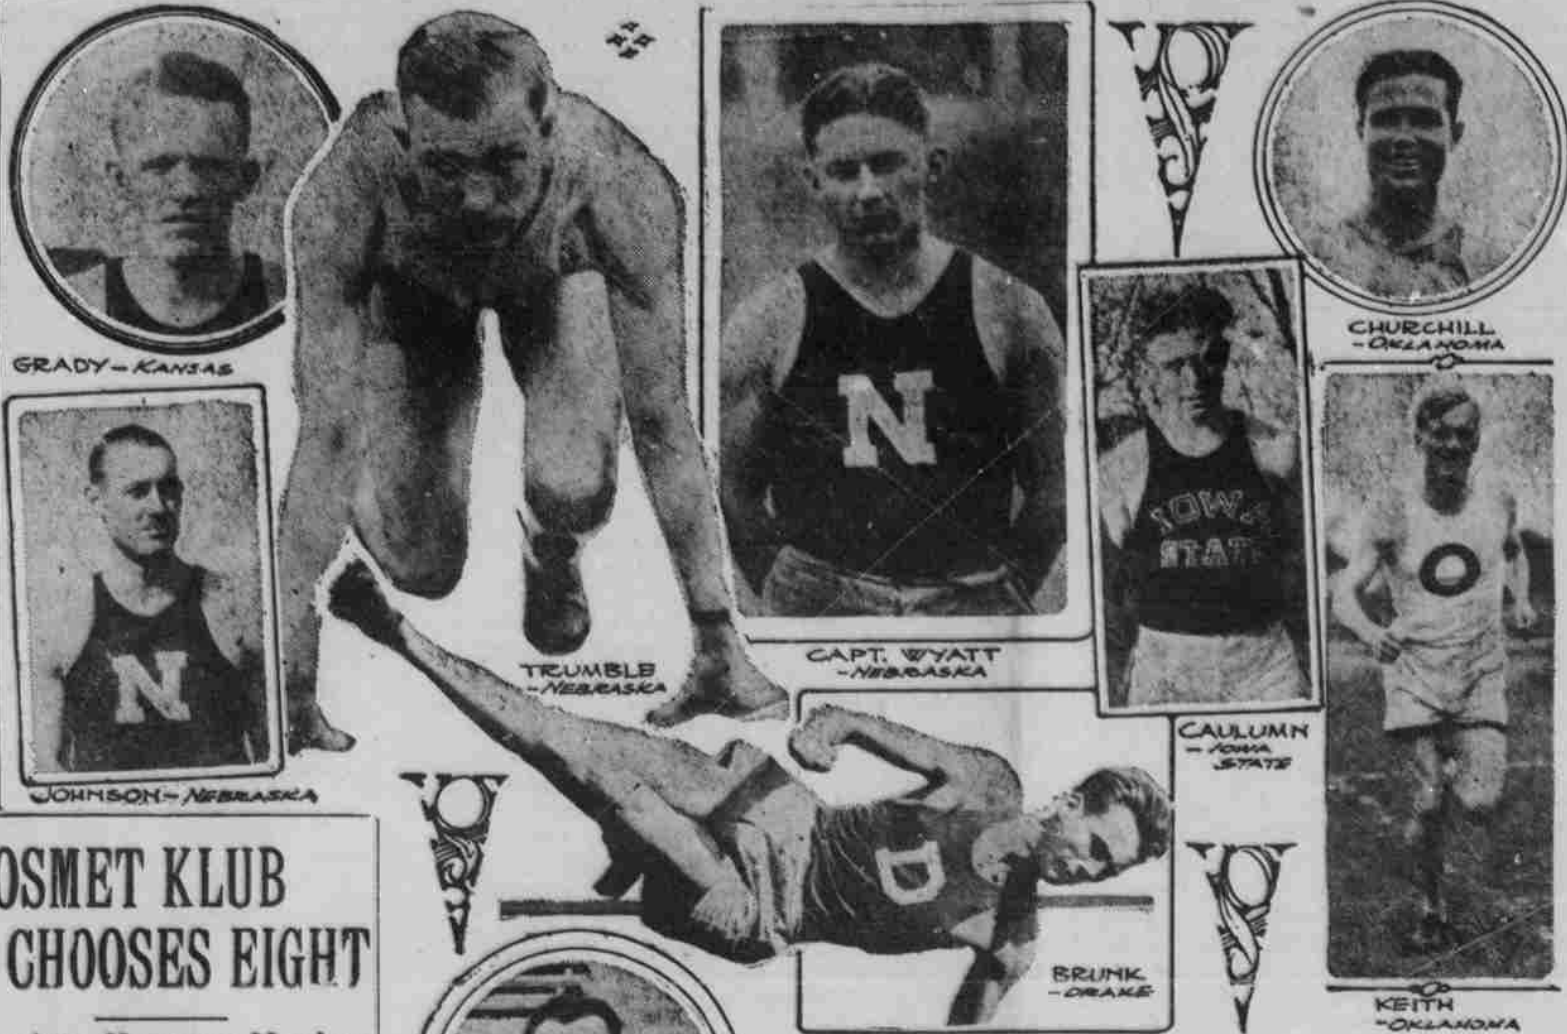

Rifles Are Expanding
The past year an extensive campaign of national expansion has been carried out. Within the last two months three universities have sent in applications for membership and the right to organize a chapter of Pershing Rifles at their respective schools.

At a recent national meeting of Scabbard and Blade a resolution was passed to the effect that all encouragement and inspiration possible would be given in the organization of Pershing Rifle chapters in their respective schools.

R. B. Wilcox Delivers Commencement Talks

Prof. R. B. Wilcox delivered the principal address at the annual commencement exercises of Waco, Nebr., high school, last night. He will be a speaker at the Gresham, Nebr., high school graduation exercises tonight.

Valley Stars to Appear in Annual Meet

KOSMET KLUB CHOOSES EIGHT

Associate, Honorary Members Are Elected for Work in 1928 Show

INITIATION IS TONIGHT

Kosmet Klub announced late Thursday evening the election of eight new active members, one honorary member, and four associate members to its membership. The men elected to membership are:

Charles Cox, '29, Omaha; Paul Burger, '30, Lincoln; James Musgrave, '30, Omaha; Neal Bailey, '30, McCook; Sherman Welpton, '30, Omaha; Joyce Ayres, '30, Lincoln; Don Kelley, '30, McCook; Clarence Schultz, '29, Scribner.

Four associate members were elected to the organization for their outstanding work in the 1928 Kosmet Klub show. The associate members serve for one year only and cannot vote because they are not active. The new associate members are: Howard Payne, '29, Red Oak, Iowa; Zella Lerner, '29, Kansas City, Mo.; Jack Wheelock, '31, Kearney; and George Gessman, '31, Omaha. Lamar Burling, '30, Lincoln, was elected to honorary membership in the club.

The new members will be initiated in conjunction with the banquet for all the old and new members to be held at the University club at 8 o'clock this evening.

Co-Ed Gym Classes Feature All Sports

Closing Sessions Include Archery, Track, Paddle Tennis, and Fencing Meets

Tournaments in all spring sports are being featured in the closing sessions of co-ed gymnasium classes. Saturday an archery tournament and a track meet will be held. Tournaments in paddle tennis and fencing are being run off during regular class hours.

All members of the track classes are invited to take part in the final track meet, scheduled for 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Relay races, high and broad jumps, and basketball and baseball throws are the events to be offered. Keen competition in the high jump is anticipated since some of the girls have been jumping four feet, two inches regularly. Each girl may enter three events and the award will be points which can be counted toward W. A. A. awards.

The two best shots from each archery class have been selected to compete in the archery tournament at 9 o'clock at the stadium. The girls (Continued on Page 3.)

Capt. L. W. Eggers

Capt. Lewis W. Eggers, who has been transferred from the University of Nebraska to the canal zone. He has coached the rifle team while being connected with the University as instructor in military science.

MANY YEARBOOKS ARE DISTRIBUTED

Cash Sales Exceed Expectations of Staff; More Than 1400 Books Given Out

More than 1400 Cornhuskers have been distributed to date, according to Charles Bruce, business manager of the 1928 yearbook. Students who have not yet called for their books, are urged to do so at once. They may be secured from room 107 U hall from 9 to 12 o'clock in the morning and 1 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Extra Cornhuskers are available for five dollars. Students who did not subscribe and wish a yearbook, should purchase them as soon as possible. Cash sales have greatly exceeded expectations, the business manager continued.

Book Depicts Campus

The 1928 Cornhusker is dedicated to the spirit of Nebraska university. This tone is carried throughout the various sections, and results in a work that might be termed a treasure book. It catches the atmosphere of our campus, both at work and at play.

Letters of praise for the 1928 Cornhusker continue to reach Dwight Wallace, editor. The originality and individuality of the whole book has caused much comment.

The opening pages are finished in a dull blue Della Robbia. Views of campus buildings follow the opening pages. The engraving, in the hands of the Minneapolis engravers, is said to be the finest piece of workmanship (Continued on Page 3.)

Gold Team Loses to Purple in Two Games

W. A. A. Baseball Tournament Contests Are Played Wednesday and Thursday

In the W. A. A. outdoor baseball tournament played Wednesday and Thursday afternoons the Purple team defeated the Gold team, 19-13 and 18-7. The teams have been practicing for several weeks and the games were well played.

The line-ups of the teams were as follows: Purple: Sue Hall, Louise Er, Eleanor Dam, Ruth Diamond, Lily Westover, Della Hoy, Eleanor Cooper, Frankhauser and Mildred Kellenbarger. Gold: Evelyn Parker, Edna Schrick, Maude Stewart, Dorothy Zimmerman, Darlene Day, Ruth Kess, Helen Smetana, Della Frazer, and Cornelia Weaver.

C. M. Hicks Is New Symphony Treasurer

Clifford M. Hicks, instructor in business organization and management, has been chosen to act as treasurer for the Lincoln Little Symphony association during the year 1928-29. In addition, Mr. Hicks will take over the management of the advertising for the orchestra programs.

The Lincoln Little Symphony association has been sponsored for the past two years by the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce, of which Mr. Hicks is a member.

Missouri Valley conference track and field performers who will appear in the annual championships at the Memorial stadium Friday and Saturday. Grady, of the University of Kansas, holds the present sprinting championship. Glenn Johnson, Nebraska, cross-country captain, has been devoting most of his time to the half-mile, and is looked to as one of Nebraska's best bets in this event. Harold Trumble, Cornhusker hurdle flash, has turned in some sensational times this year. Captain Perly Wyatt will make his last appearance in the meet this week-end.

Moody, of Kansas Aggies, is a middle-distance runner. Brunk, Drake, is entered in the high jump. Caullum, Iowa State, is another middle-distance man. Churchill, of Oklahoma, won the Kansas decathlon, and Keith, also of Oklahoma, has been doing well in the mile and two mile races.

Tickets, With Money, Will Admit to Meet

Students of the University will be admitted to the preliminary events of the Missouri Valley meet on presentation of their student ticket and twenty-five cents. Admission to the final events will be granted for fifty cents accompanied with the student ticket. Regular prices for the preliminaries will be fifty cents and tickets to the finals will cost one dollar.

Student Teams Plan To Conduct Services

Student teams will conduct services next Sunday in neighboring congregational churches. In the morning, Agnes Gumbel, Carolyn Leavitt, and Martha Buerkle, with the university pastor, Mr. Leavitt, will speak at Crete.

Members of the Pilgrim Fellowship, Belle Dunn, Eloise Keefe, Dorothy Nott, Wendell Groth, Melvin Perry, and Lloyd Strombeck will give the program for the young people's meeting and the evening worship at Ashland.

Title Holder

Harris Coggeshall, Grinnell, who is the Valley champion in tennis singles, and who will appear in competition again this year. The games will be played Friday and Saturday, being part of the annual Missouri Valley meet.

Drawings for the tennis matches will be made this morning and play will begin immediately afterwards.

AG COLLEGE VOTES IN SPRING ELECTION

Farmers' Fair Board, Officers of Ag Club, Are Elected to Serve Next Year

Robin Spence, '29, Crab Orchard, was elected manager for the 1929 Farmers' Fair at one of the largest elections ever held at the College of Agriculture. The fair is the largest activity staged by the students in the college and this year drew a crowd of 10,000 people.

The treasurer for next year's fair will be Austin Goth, '29, Red Cloud. Goth will serve in this capacity because he received the second highest number of votes. Clarence Bartlett, '29, Holmesville, will be the third male member of the board. The girls elected are: Marjorie Brinton, '29, Lincoln, secretary; Helen Suchy, '29, Omaha, and Mildred Hawley, '29, Lincoln.

Rooney Heads Ag Club

James Rooney, '29, Tecumseh, will be president of the Ag club, official student organization at the College of Agriculture. The other officers of the club are: Howard McLean, '29, North Platte, vice-president; Everett Kreizinger, '30, Bellwood, secretary, and Howard Alexander, '29, St. Paul, treasurer.

Last Ag Mixer Will Be Kosmet Klub Benefit

Ag Club Will Sponsor Affair to Be Held in Student Activities Building Saturday

The last Ag college mixer of the year will be a Kosmet Klub benefit, according to James Rooney, chairman of the committee in charge. The dance is to be held in the Student Activities building at the College of Agriculture Saturday evening, May 19.

The party is in charge of the Ag club, of which Gordon Hedges is president. Mr. Rooney stated that an excellent orchestra has been secured, and that Emerson Smith has been secured for entertainment during the intermission.

Mr. Rooney says further, "Since this is the last Ag mixer of the year and a Kosmet Klub benefit besides, we are expecting a record crowd for Saturday night."

Professor Scott Passes Doctorate Examination

A letter received by Dr. A. A. Sherman, chairman of department of English, from Professor Gray of Columbia reports that Prof. R. D. Scott of the Department, has passed his examinations for the doctorate with high distinction. Professor Scott sails with Mrs. Scott for London, May 17.

VALLEY TRACK STARS MEET FOR ANNUAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

Athletes From Ten Schools Gather to Participate in Last Missouri Valley Meet; Dopesters Rate Oklahoma, Nebraska, Kansas Probable Winners

PRELIMINARIES SCHEDULED FOR THIS AFTERNOON

Several New Records Are Expected With Outstanding Men in Competition; Track and Field Are in Excellent Condition for Meeting of Contenders

With the weather man promising a favorable day, and University of Nebraska's Memorial stadium track and field in shape for any record breaking performers that may compete, the curtain is set to rise on the twenty-first annual Missouri Valley conference track and field championship meet opening this afternoon with the preliminary events, to be followed by the finals Saturday afternoon.

Coach Henry F. Schulte, Husker mentor, his assistants, and members of the coaching classes spent Thursday in rolling, dragging, shoveling, and stamping so that the red cinder oval and runways of Memorial stadium will be in the most advantageous condition for the invading cinder athletes of the ten Missouri Valley schools. The meet will mark the closing battle of the famous and historical Missouri Valley conference.

"It's going to be a cracker-jack meet," declared Coach Schulte as he overlooked the field Thursday afternoon to see that nothing had been forgotten in the preparation for the contest. "The meet will lie between five strong teams," "Indian" Schulte prophesied, "Oklahoma, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, and Iowa State, with Oklahoma probably the winner."

Sooners Doped to Win
And that is the cry of track writers, dopesters, and enthusiasts throughout the Valley this year—"Oklahoma the winner." Coach John Jacobs of the Sooner school has a powerful cinder aggregation this season with not only many first place favorites but in addition, that factor which usually determines a championship track team, several lower-place bidders.

The dope sheet points to an Oklahoma win with Nebraska second; Kansas, third; Missouri, fourth; and Iowa State, fifth, according to the compilations of Coach Schulte and (Continued on Page 2.)

SCHOOLS STUDY COURSES MORE

Attention Is Given Curricula By Institutions, Says Dean Thompson

RETURNS FROM MEETING

"The most heartening thing about the educational situation at the present time, it seems to me," stated Dean T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs, yesterday afternoon, "is the fact that more and more institutions are studying their curricula, giving attention to the content of courses."

In regard to the recent tenth annual conference of the Association of Deans and Advisers of Men held at the University of Colorado, at Boulder, May 10, 11, and 12, which Dean Thompson attended, he stated that "the general impression at the conference was that the thing we all want to do is to develop on the part of the student, individual responsibility for his own education as well as for the development within himself of appropriate personal qualities."

Convention of Alpha O Is Being Held Here

District Meeting of Mid-Western Chapters Is Opened by Dinner at House

Alpha Omicron Pi opened its mid-west district convention in Lincoln yesterday. The local chapter is acting as host. The district superintendent and the grand treasurer of the sorority came in from St. Paul, Minn., Thursday. Many delegates of the sorority from all mid-western states are coming in for the convention.

An informal dinner was held at the chapter house on Thursday evening, and was followed by a program of stunts and songs given by the various groups.

Co-Ed Tennis Enters Championship Round

Kathryn Indoe and Gretchen Standeven defeated Lois Brynner and Lela Marshall 6-2, 6-3 Thursday afternoon in the semi-finals of the co-ed tennis doubles tournament. The games were played on the court in the Armory.

Finals in the tournament were scheduled for Thursday but have been postponed until Monday when the outdoor courts can be used. Edna Schrick and Sue Hall will meet Kathryn Indoe and Gretchen Standeven to determine the championship.
