

...even a blind date will like this party

As Woodie said in the B & F ad---"Hold everything for the opening nite."

Friday's the night---just write that down on your cuff. And it promises to be more interesting than Dan McMullen's course in Oriental Civilization. It's a big go with the combined nicities of a D. G. lawn social and the excitement of a Delt House party.

In speaking of high hat creep joints---there is one that ought to click according to our advance agent, Cousin Filthy McNasty, and that's the Lindell Party House. The Collegians take a bow and thanks for the buggy ride at Antelope Park and are chasing the moths out of their Tucs preparatory to entering their winter quarters. Let's give the boys a big hand.

And to impress the customers that this is really a big deal, our old friends, Gloomy Gus and Clyde Davis---static artists and horse collar experts of K. F. A. B.---will preside with plenty of hooie and other instruments of torture. And don't forget Hollis "Kep" Kepler will try and sing with the band.

The fare is one fish at the gate. And a thin dime for the trimmings, including the wrong derby, a pair of left-handed mittens, or what have you. Get Hot and Come!
