

VARSITY TALLIES TWICE AGAINST NUBBINS ELEVEN

Williams, Sauer Plunge Over Twice to Score a Pair Of Touchdowns.

FROSH DEFENSE IS GOOD

Husker Pass Attack Works Nicely for a Time But Fails Later.

Ripping through the line on running plays and cutting the air with a deadly passing attack, the first string Varsity forged their way to a touchdown over the freshmen within the first four minutes of play at the memorial stadium Wednesday afternoon.

Opening the scrimmage with drives inside tackle, the Varsity squad tore open the yearling line with ease during the first part of the conflict. Exhibiting a smoothly co-ordinated offense for the first time this season the Husker squad didn't have much in the way of opposition, until after the first touchdown.

The aerial attack clicked at this time in like manner. A pass from Sauer to Masterson was good for twenty yards. Miller added another gain of about fifteen yards. Topping this off with end runs and center plunges the ball was finally placed on the 5-yard line. Sauer carried it over.

Two new lineups were then inserted, composed of the second string varsity and another freshman squad, the first and second yearling teams not having been selected as yet. Coach Weir intends to postpone this selection until the players have settled down to their respective playing ability.

With these new teams installed the freshmen presented a stonewall defense, the second string varsity failing to make the required number of yardage for a first down several times. Finally Coach Bible dismissed the two teams, giving the victory to the freshmen.

The starting lineups were then replaced. However the Varsity met much more defense this time as repeated tries for gains went for naught. The blocking began to get ragged and the Varsity didn't click as before. However the freshmen had gotten over the awe of playing the Varsity and were putting up a better fight, this accounting much for the repeated failures of the Varsity in the second battle.

The only other touchdown of the day was made by the second string Varsity when Williams lunged through center for the tally. LaNoue placekicked goal, thus making more points than did the first string, as Masterson's try for point was blocked.

The various lineups are as follows:

Varsity:
Ends—Penny, Roby, Kilbourne, Yelkin, Wilson.
Tackles—O'Brien, Pflum, Keria-kedes, Thompson.
Centers—Meier, Jones, Mehring, Justice, Hubler.
Backs—Sauer, Boswell, Masterson, Miller, Williams, LaNoue, Parsons, Skewes, Benson.
Guards—Bishop, DeBus, Meh-ring, Heldt.
The freshman lineups were:
Ends—Hale, Chapman, O'Sulli-van, McDonald, Ambs.
Tackles—Scotfield, Chase, Monamier.
Centers—Ray, Getters.
Guards—Castle, Cahoons, Ugui, Woods.
Backs—Falkner, D. Brown, An-tram, Hopt, Francis, Douglas, R. Brown, Howell.

IT SEEMS TO ME by Irvin Ryan

Harry Kaufman, runnerup in the Lincoln city golf tournament and a junior in the school of journalism, has entered the Nebraska Open Golf tournament to be held at the Shrine club this coming Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Harry has been prominent in golf circles for the last four years competing in various state tournaments and winning the junior tournament several years ago. Kaufman is also a four-forty man in track, running that event in good time. Coach Schulte expects him to do things in track next year.

Speaking of track reminds me of the fact that Coach Schulte wants all men interested in track to report at the stadium as soon as possible. Varsity men are "request-ed" to get in shape and go to work immediately. The Nebraska track prospects for the coming year are very good, having most of last year's material back in addition to several promising men who were outstanding in freshman circles in the Big Six telegraphic meet last year.

Times must be getting hard of late as a freshman had $20 and his pants swiped from the dressing room while he was at football practice. I am not sure which he minds losing most, the $20 or the pants. If I had my choice I wouldn't mind going without the pants. I would be able to get several more at Montgomery Ward with the money. The trusting souls of human nature always get stuck in the long run.

Above is pictured Kenneth Sutherland, senior in law college from Fremont, who was recently appointed to coach the varsity swimming team for the coming year. Sutherland, who lettered for three years on the Nebraska tank team, will also instruct classes in swimming. Sutherland is well known as a diver, having formerly held the Big Six championship. He is also a proficient gymnast, for he recently took fifth place in a national A. A. U. meet. While he is not busy with swimmers now, Sutherland pursues his studies with the idea of becoming a lawyer.

However, joking aside, it seems to be quite a dastardly trick to relieve someone of their necessary money, which may or may not mean their staying in school. It reflects upon the reputation of the school and upon all members of the teams, no matter how innocent, to have one thief in the crowd.

The Huskers and Texas Longhorns have made an agreement whereby they will not scout each other for the coming conflict between them here in the memorial stadium Oct. 7. This agreement has been made due to necessary economy restrictions. However this will not greatly hinder either team as both know quite a bit about each other. The Longhorns scouted Nebraska at one of our games last year and we have motion pictures of one of their games, thus making it about equal.

This idea is only going to be carried out however in connection with the game with Texas, as it is usually considered poor policy for a team not to openly scout another team. In the first place if two teams agree not to scout, there are always characters approaching the coaches and offering their secret information and managing to convey to the players in sly underhand methods just what they would be best. Thus openly scouting each other does not create bad feelings between colleges, and no college or university is always attributing underhand methods to their opponents.

Iowa State college is charging only 75 cents, as compared to $1 previously, for the opening game this year, while all grade and high school students will be admitted free. Only one other Big Six school, Oklahoma, is putting into effect so great a reduction in prices.

There is much joy and high spirits (?) in the Manhattan camp at the present time. Doug Russell, flashy halfback of last year, has changed his mind and decided to return to school. Russell is the boy with the high knee action and is exceptionally hard to bring down, especially on returning punts. He played a great game last year against Nebraska and furnished the Husker squad plenty of trouble.

WOMEN COMPLETE GYM ENROLLMENT

New Classes in Tennis and Dancing Were Filled Early.

The new sections added to the tennis and dancing departments of the girls' gym classes were quickly filled at final registration Wednesday, according to Miss Helen Rice, secretary of women's physical education. A number of girls desiring to take tennis were disappointed because the classes were full.

Wednesday's registration also indicated that swimming was one of the most popular sports. Free hours have been arranged for women's swimming classes and will meet first on Friday of this week. They are at four on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, seven and eight on Monday and twelve to three-thirty on Saturday.

A semester pass to student council dances will be awarded the student who submits during the next week the best title for the dances this year at the Oklahoma university.

The Y. W. C. A. of Kearney State Teachers college is sponsoring a style show. The dresses are those seen on the campus and the models are to be chosen from the student body.

SORORITY WOMEN GET INVITATIONS TO GOLFERS' BALL

Tournament Brings Guests From Many States To Lincoln.

GOODMAN WILL BE BUSY

The Nebraska campus is to be duly represented at the Nebraska Open golf tournament. Members of the sororities have been invited with Lincoln debutantes to attend the Nebraska Open Tournament ball, Saturday night at the Shrine club ballroom, to act as dancing partners for out of town golfers who will play in the tournament.

The entry list of golfers for the Nebraska Open has swelled with each day of the past week. From all parts of the country come the entries—from California, Illinois, Iowa, Tennessee, Arizona, and Utah. The entry list for the Nebraska Open looks like an official "who's who" in golf.

Early this week, Ky Laffoon and several well known golfers were already practicing on the Shrine club course. MacDonald Smith arrived in Lincoln Wednesday, and Thursday morning a special car will arrive on the crack train Ak-Sar-Ben bearing a delegation of Chicago professionals and members of the Illinois P. G. A.

Many Gun for Goodman.

Johnny Goodman, of Omaha, who once matriculated at Nebraska, will have his hands full of golf opposition at the Nebraska Open. Goodman won the National Open and by so doing leaped into the national golf limelight. Many of the world famous entries in the Nebraska program are gunning for Goodman. Harry Cooper, Chicago pro, when wiring his entry in the Nebraska Open petitioned the committee, "Pair me with Goodman." Cooper was runnerup in the 1927 Nebraska Open which was won by Hank Decker, now of Excelsior Springs, Mo.

The contestants will play eighteen holes on Friday, eighteen on Saturday and thirty-six holes in the finals, Sunday. With such a brilliant array of stars in the field, each day should hold plenty of thrills and surprises for the gallery.

From all indications now, the Nebraska Open will surpass any sporting event of its kind ever held in Nebraska. Word is in from the far corners of the state that many outstate delegations are coming to attend the Nebraska Open. All in all, it is going to be a great show and one that will go down in Nebraska golf history for a long time to come.

FIFTY PRACTICE TEACHING Seniors Make Own Plans Under Supervision of Instructors.

According to W. H. Morton, principal of Teachers college high school, there are fifty university seniors doing practice teaching in the Teachers college high school. They are teaching in major subjects and are given directions under supervision of the instructors of the different departments. The students make their own plans according to their instructions.

SOCCER WILL START MEN'S INTRAMURALS

Fees Must Be Paid Before Groups' Entries Will Be Considered.

Entrants in interfraternity soccer competition, the first sport to be scheduled for this season, must report to Harold Petz, intramural athletic director, by noon Saturday or they will not be allowed to participate, according to the intramural office.

Departing from their custom of last year, entries will not be considered until fees are paid by the individual organizations. "Heretofore too much leniency has been allowed the respective groups and they have taken advantage of that fact," Petz stated.

However to alleviate the financial stress which the fraternities have been up against of late, the fee has been reduced from twelve to ten dollars.

Other matters discussed at the meeting of the representatives from over twenty-six fraternities held in the "N" club room of the Coliseum Tuesday evening were such projects as an all university swimming meet and a "learn to swim week."

Petz believes that sponsorship of a "learn to swim week" would be met with approval by a great number of the student body. Such a program would be very beneficial and helpful to students out in the state who have not had the opportunity of learning. Hours would be arranged for the convenience of those who would not be able to attend at definite times.

It is expected that an all university swimming meet would provide both recreation and enjoyment to spectators in addition to the benefits received by the contestants.
