Persian Student at Kansas State Gives Views and Impressions of This Country

In yesterday's issue of the Daily Nebraskan appeared an article concerning a scholarship which was given to Fatulla K. Mostoff by the Persian government. Mostoff explained the reason why the Persian government offers these scholarships to her students and stated briefly the way in which they are used.

Another Persian student, S. M. Ahi, is at present attending Kansas State university. In an article which appeared recently in the Kansas State Collegian he sets forth his impressions gathered from four years of schooling in this country. He is, in a sense, a fellow student of Nebraska's Persian scholar, and it is interesting to read what Ahi has to say in the following article:

S. M. Ahi of Persia, a new foreign student at Kansas State college is taking graduate work in the department of funds, finds the American people friendly and pleasant to live with. In his four years work in the Colorado agricultural college he has made many friends and was greatly interested in their family life since it was so different from his own.

"I never have a family of my own," he said, "I shall rear them as nearly like the American stan-

CHILDREN'S CLASS IN DRAMA STARTS; STRESS AGE LIMIT

"Polly" Gellatly Instructs Individuals With Talent In Dramatics.

Miss Polly Gellatly's children's drama class will begin its work Saturday morning, at nine o'clock, in the university Temple building.

The class, which is given thru the university extension division, has been in charge of Miss Gellatly for the past five years. This year the children will be divided into classes according to age, and individual reading is planned as well as original group and play work. Often, when child talent is called for in a play by the children's theater, it is secured from this class.

The classes are still open and registration may be made in room 154 Temple building, Saturday morning from nine to eleven. All children from 4 to 16 are eligible.

ELMEN TALKS TO MEN'S CLUB WEDNESDAY NITE

Attorney Speaks on Group's Union With Lincoln Junior Chamber.

Mr. Winfield Elmen, Lincoln attorney, was the speaker at the Wednesday meeting of the men's Commercial club. His talk concerned the junior chamber of commerce of Lincoln, to which members of the men's Commercial club are now being welcomed as active members.

At present about twenty-five members of the campus club have signified their intentions of becoming active members of the Lincoln junior chamber of commerce. All men in the Commercial club except freshmen are eligible to membership in the junior chamber, and all active members urged to join at once, and to attend the regular Tuesday noon meeting next week.

DELAY IN ISSUE RELEASE

Alumnus to Appear Monday; Printing Difficulties Encountered.

The October issue of the Nebraska Alumnus, scheduled to appear Friday, Oct. 13, will not be released until Monday, according to Harry Becker, editor of the magazine. The delay in publication was due to difficulties in printing. The delay will not affect distribution greatly, Becker said, as the regular publishing date is the fifteenth of the month.

FALL REVUE CUP NOW DISPLAYED BY KOSMET KLUB

Magee Award, Presented to Winners, May Be Seen At Long's Store.

SKIT DEADLINE OCT. 19

Winners of Trophy Last Year Were Alpha Tau Omega And Beta Theta Pi.

The Magee cup, which is awarded to the organization presenting the most entertaining skit at the Kosmet Klub annual fall revue, is now on display in the window of Long's book store. The cup will again be presented to the organization whose skit the audience judges to be the best, according to Frank Musgrave, president of the organization.

Any student organization or combination of student organizations is eligible to enter an application for a skit in the revue. The usual university rules of scholasticism in the revue skit will be observed by the Klub, according to Musgrave. Applications will be accepted at the Klub office in the basement of U hall or by any members of the organization until Wednesday October 19.

The trophy which has been awarded annually for the last two years, was won by the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and Delta Upsilon fraternity in 1931. They presented a musical revue. In 1932, the cup was given to a skit presented by the Alpha Tau Omega and Beta Theta Pi fraternities.

In past years non-student committees have been appointed to pass the final decision on the skits as well as the applause, but this year the decision will depend entirely on the applause, stated Musgrave.

"Seven permanent committees who will be in charge of the revue, will be appointed as soon as the eligibility of the applicants has been checked," stated Musgrave. "Committees to take charge of production, music, business, advertising, scenery, costumes, and publicity will be named."

YERGAN, FAMOUS YMCA WORKER IN AFRICA, IS HERE

Attributes Varying Cultures To Many Different Backgrounds.

"Contrasts between the backgrounds of the white and black races in South Africa are the basis for misunderstandings between the peoples," declared Max Yergan, Negro Y. M. C. A. worker in a speech Thursday afternoon at Ag Hall. Yergan is appearing before local Y. M. C. A. groups in the interest of better international and interracial understanding.

"The individualistic organization of European society and the tribal grouping among the South Africans is one of the essential differences in background which leads to friction," in the opinion of Mr. Yergan. "The African native is bound to progress in education and other cultural fields," stated the lecturer, "and it would promote better feeling between the groups if the white owning classes in the country would help this advance."

Mr. Yergan will make another appearance on the campus when he will speak before Mrs. Hattie Plum Williams' Sociology class at 10 o'clock this morning. Mr. Yergan will be master of ceremonies at a fireside discussion at the Lincoln Hi-Y building as part of a retreat for university students this evening.

Mr. Yergan, an American born Negro, was a Y. M. C. A. worker before he went to South Africa and became interested in the problems of the native peoples occasioned by their sudden civilization during the ways of civilization. During the eight years he spent in that country he acquired a prominent position through his efforts toward better interracial understanding.

SORORITY DELEGATES LEAVE FOR CHICAGO

Representatives to Attend Bi-Annual Panhellenic Conference.

Martha Hershey and Dorothy Cathers left by train last evening for the bi-annual Panhellenic conference in Chicago. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson. Mrs. Thompson is chairman of the local organization.

The delegates and their chaperones will be entertained today with a luncheon and banquet at the Palmer House, where they are staying while in Chicago. The group will stay for a two-day excursion at the Century of Progress before returning to Lincoln Sunday night.

A new aim of the society is to have the various sororities present an accurate statement of the cost of room and board at their (Continued on Page 4.)

EXPLAIN WORK OF BIG SISTERS AT FIRST MEETING

President Urges Members to Help Freshman Women In School Work.

STRESS CHURCH SUNDAY

Board Issues Invitations For Girls to Attend Hobby Groups.

A Big Sister Board meeting was held Thursday at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall to explain the work of the board to those who are new in the organization and to refresh the minds of the old members.

Lucile Reilly, president, urged all Big Sisters to interview their little sisters either this week or next and find out about their living conditions, companions, church affiliations, and scholastic difficulties. If their living conditions are bad the board will endeavor to improve them. In the event freshman girls are having scholastic difficulties, the Big Sister Board will co-operate with Alpha Delta Lambda, scholastic society, in aiding them. The importance of doing this before six weeks reports are issued was stressed.

All Big Sisters were asked to take their little sisters to church on Nov. 5, which is all university church Sunday. Sorority mothers are also urged to take their daughters.

Freshman girls are invited to attend the hobby groups sponsored by the Big Sister board. The Charm school meets the second and fourth Tuesday in every month, and is in charge of Kathleen Becker, assisted by Vera Osenford. The Art group is led by Joan Rindour and meets once each month. The Sport group is in charge of Ruth Hornbuckle. Maxine Herries conducts the tap dancing group and Sylvia Schaeffer assisted by Adele Tombrink has charge of the Dramatic group.

It was decided that the board should hold meetings before university functions and the next meeting was set for Thursday, Oct. 19 at 4 o'clock.

ENGINEERING STUDENTS OPERATE POWER PLANT

Senior Mechanical Engineers Supervise University Heating Thursday.

Mechanical engineering students operated the university power plant yesterday to study the general performance of the unit as to efficiency. Senior mechanical engineers and juniors from other departments of the college ran the heat.

The purpose of the run was to make a complete study of the distribution of energy of fuel thruout the plant. Training methods of conducting tests were given all the students, putting them in charge of the plant during the day.

"The plant equipment is very modern," according to Prof. A. A. Luebs of the mechanical engineering department who supervised the tests. He declares that "reports compare favorably with those of commercial plants." These tests are run the first semester of every year.

The complete report on the operation will be made up according to the standard code of the National Engineering association, on the order of a commission report. Summaries of these results will be written during the next month.

Twenty-eight students participated in the experiment.

TESTING DEPARTMENT BUYS NEW APPARATUS

Machine, of Which There are Three in Entire World. Purchased Recently.

A new material-testing machine, one of three of its kind in the world, was recently purchased by the university highway testing department. The apparatus was invented by Dr. Ing G. Wazou of Germany, in which country the other two machines of this type are now in operation.

The machine is used for the testing of small pieces such as wire, wood and porcelain, for the properties of tension, compression, transverse bending, and for Brill hardness tests. It is pendulum type, is direct reading, and recording. The reading apparatus has not as yet been set up, but will soon be assembled so that the students may learn how the apparatus works. The recording is done on a piece of paper wrapped around a disk.

The weight of the load on the machine is found by a double pendulum lever balance. Both pendula are used in the high load ranges, but the left pendulum is disconnected for low loads. Testing speeds on the motor driven machine vary from very slow to 2 miles per minute, the speed is adjusted by means of a friction drive. Advantages are found in the facts that friction is minimized at low loads and sensitivity is increased. (Continued on Page 4.)

Near Eastern and Peruvian Textile Traveling Exhibition Is Second of Season to Be Shown at Morrill Hall

A collection of Near Eastern and Peruvian Textiles has been secured by the fine arts department for its second traveling exhibition of the season, and will be shown in Gallery B of Morrill Hall until Sunday, Oct. 29.

Selected from the collection of the Textile Museum of the District of Columbia, and from the private collection of George H. Myers, president of the museum, the textile exhibition comes to the fine arts department thru the courtesy of the American Federation of Arts of Washington, D. C.

Numbering thirty in all, twenty-two of the pieces in the exhibition are "Near-Eastern"; Egyptian-Hispano-Arabic and Persian; and range in time from the fourth to the seventeenth centuries. The remaining eight pieces in the exhibition are Peruvian.

Artistically interesting, the textiles are historically important, revealing as they do, a side of the civilization of the peoples who produced them that might otherwise escape attention. Only about fifty years ago did late antique fabrics begin to come out of Egypt, enlivening and in many points greatly modifying our pictures of Roman and early Medieval life. It was not until about 300 A. D. that the Egyptians gave up the practice of mummification and began to bury their dead in the garments they had worn during their life time.

Hundreds of these garments and thousands of textile fragments of the late Roman period have been preserved in the dry sands of Egypt, and have come down to us because of this fortunate climatic condition. It is often difficult to ascertain exactly the period of early textiles, for fashions changed slowly, and the same materials and techniques and designs were used with but slight variation thru the centuries. In the case of Arabic silk tapestries, however, the period can be exactly determined, for we have a number of speci-
