

MAY ALTER JUNIOR PRESIDENT'S DUTIES

Junior Executive Would Continue as Member of Prom Committee But Chairman Would Be Elected by Council if Group Adopts Motion.

SUGGEST CHANGES IN REPRESENTATION PLAN

Proposed Revisions Provide Membership on Governing Body in Proportion to Number Men and Women Or From Major and Minor Organizations.

Meeting on the eve of filings for the junior and senior class presidents, the Student Council expressed approval Wednesday of a motion to alter the duties of the junior class president in connection with the Junior-Senior prom committee, but tables the motion until the next meeting to allow time for objections to be voiced.

Under the proposed revision, the junior president would continue to be a member of the prom committee but would not necessarily serve as chairman. The council would elect the chairman and co-chairman under the new plan. Opposites under the plan failed to develop within the council, but it was thought best to await campus opinion.

Suggest Revision Membership.

A second project of great importance brought before the council Wednesday was the report of the committee on reorganization, which contained two prospective plans for membership revision. Under the first plan, representation to the number of men and women in the university. A second proposal submitted provided for representatives to be elected by the major and minor organizations on the campus such as Interfraternity Council, A. W. S. board, Y groups, pep groups, and others, instead of by popular student vote.

Cheers at Manhattan Depots At Noon, Then Parade Thru Streets.

The annual Nebraska homecoming stamp sale sponsored by A. W. S. board will get underway Friday evening at 5 o'clock with a meeting of all salesmen at Ellen Smith hall.

CHAPERONS ARE NAMED

Students Driving to Aggie Game Will Assemble At Station.

Sending the cry, "Beat the Wildcats!" echoing thru the streets of Manhattan, six hundred Nebraska students will march together in a parade headed by the R. O. T. C. band, the Corncocks, and Tassels, upon the arrival of the special football train, according to Lloyd Loomis, head of the innocents committee in charge of rallies.

The trainload of rooters will arrive in Manhattan at 12:30 p. m. and the parade will start after a short rally, which will be held at the depot. "We were disappointed in the Iowa send-off rally," Loomis said, "so we want to make this parade the biggest pep meeting ever held for a football game in Kansas. With Nebraska spirit and co-operation, we can do it." He urged all students who were driving down to the game to assemble at the station to join the parade.

The Corncocks and Tassels, men's and women's pep organizations, who will aid in organizing the rally and parade, have reserved a special section in the stadium. A block of seats has also been reserved for the student body by John K. Selleck of the athletic department, and are on sale at the Coliseum for $2.20. Round trip tickets on the special train may also be obtained at his office for $2.75.

The student council announced yesterday that Margaret Buol and William Crabill were selected as chaperones on the special train.

A.W.S. SPONSORS ACTIVITIES GROUP FOR BARB WOMEN

Organization of Unaffiliated Women Will Be Sought By Committee.

In an attempt to give non-sorority girls a greater opportunity to participate in activities, the A. W. S. board is sponsoring a committee of unaffiliated girls who will make plans for a definite organization.

The members of this committee, which is working under the direction of Carolyn Van Anda, are Evelyn Diamond, Marjorie Filley, Margaret Medlar, Marjorie Smith and Bonnie Spangard. Each of the members is to be in charge of a group of twenty-five girls, with whom they are personally acquainted. These groups will, it is thought, have a recognition service for the members and will sponsor participation in activities in much the same way that the sororities do.

Seek Activities Attendance. Definite plans have not yet been completed, but it is probable that points will be given for attendance at activities and that, at the end of the year, the girls having the greatest number of points will fill the places of the committee which works with the A. W. S. board.

Committee members are at present selecting the members of their groups and it is hoped that the organization can be completed as soon as possible.

"The board feels that this plan, which is being tried for the first time this year, will increase the interest of unaffiliated girls in activities and will make for more co-operation among them," stated Margaret Buol, president of the A. W. S. board, in regard to the plan.

Identification Photos Available for Students

Students whose pictures were taken at the beginning of this semester should call for them at the Registrar's office in Administration building, room 103. It will be necessary to present identification cards.

Two freshmen will comprise a team and prizes will be given to the two teams who sell the most stamps.

Distribution of homecoming stamps is sponsored as a part of the homecoming program. The stamps are to be used to encourage Nebraskans to take part in the event. Stamps are sold at the price of ten stamps for ten cents.

BEST SUGGESTION ON MILITARY BALL TO RECEIVE PRIZE

Ed Fisher Asks for Plans on Presenting Honorary Colonel.

The plan for presentation of the Honorary Colonel at the Military Ball December 8 will be taken from ideas submitted by students, according to Cadet Col. Ed Fisher, chairman of the committee in charge of the presentation. A prize of $15 will be given to the student who presents the plan adopted. Any student may enter the competition.

Plans must be in by Nov. 11, according to Fisher. "It must be kept in mind that new decorations afford a clearance of thirteen feet," he stated.

"The ideas last year were very good and the one used made a very favorable impression," stated Col. W. H. Oury, "but we feel that we will have another one equally as good this year."

The committee suggested that students who plan to submit ideas, make their plans simple and the cost of construction less than the cost of last year's presentation.

Norman Hansen won the contest last year. A miniature garrison was the setting on the stage and Honorary Col. Jane Axtell was revealed as the flag was raised.

This year's honorary colonel will be chosen at the regular fall election which will be held Oct. 24. Filings for the position closed today.

BLUESHIRTS NAME PARTY OFFICIALS TUESDAY EVENING

Larger Party Confident as to Its Ability to Win in Oct. 24 Election.

STILL THREE PARTIES

Power of Barbs Is Unknown Quantity to Other Two Groups.

BY POLITICUS III.

Rejoicing in the break between the Barbs and Yellowjackets, ending the coalition and heralding the founding of a third party, Blueshirts Tuesday night settled their own internal differences and offered a solid backing to their candidates for the junior and senior class presidents.

Yellowjackets, apparently resigned to defeat but still determined not to go down without a fight, met Tuesday night also and selected their candidates for the two offices as well. Aspiring and conspiring politicians within the faction are planning something for a last minute surprise.

The Barbs, setting out on their own feet for the first time in a number of years, also met Tuesday night and nominated their slate of candidates. Their organization and power is still indefinite and practically indeterminate, but as dark horses they stand an even chance to run off with at least one of the offices in the fall political grab-bag.

Howard White, Farm House, was elected president of the Blueshirt group Tuesday night. This action seems to indicate that the faction, at one time headed for civil war, has patched up its differences.

MEN'S PEP CLUB ACTS TO REVISE ITS CONSTITUTION

Kosman Appoints Committee To Perfect Plans for Reorganization.

Rewriting of the constitution for the Corn Cobs, men's honorary pep organization, will be undertaken by a committee of the group working with Henry Kosman, president, according to a statement made by Kosman. Included in the reorganization will be provision for election of a faculty sponsor by the Corn Cobs.

Constitution Obsolete. "The constitution was obsolete," declared Kosman, "and did not conform to the existing conditions. There was not organization of the Cobs on routine matters and an attempt will be made to make the group more efficient in the fulfillment of its general duties."

The members of the committee working on the revision of the constitution are Fred Nicklas, Syracuse; Charles Steadman, Lincoln; Tom Davies, Lincoln; and Charles Flansburg, Lincoln; who will work with Kosman as ex-officio member.

Barbs Will Be Included. The constitution in its proposed form will specifically provide for the inclusion of representatives of unaffiliated students. The constitution will be presented to the Student Council for approval after it has been drafted in a form favorable to the pep group. The draft will be subject to further revision and amendment by the council.

Students Interested.

Results of the first days drive indicated that students were interested in helping the national administration lift the country out of the depression. The drive, being held in conjunction with the "buy now" campaign being staged by the city as well as the nation, has received hearty support of state, federal, as well as civic and campus officials.

At the end of the drive Friday, the university will be one of the few universities in the country to stage a campus wide drive to end the depression.

Sign at Nebraskan Office. Students intending to sign the consumers pledge cards are urged to stop at The Daily Nebraskan office today or tomorrow and fill them out.

Indications pointed yesterday to the fact that a majority of the students on the campus would sign the consumers code, interest being especially evident among the fraternities and sororities, and other organized houses. By the end of the drive all organized houses are expected to have signed the pledge cards.

NEBRASKAN CONTINUES SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE

Few Sales First Day, But Increase Expected Later On.

PRICE TEMPORARILY $1

Lowering the subscription price of the Daily Nebraskan to a figure far below that of any other college paper, Bernard Jennings, business manager, yesterday announced his paper's co-operation with the NRA drive by opening a campaign at $1 for the remainder of the year.

The Nebraskan, known as the lowest priced of all college publications with a subscription price of $1.50, is offering further benefits to the students through the special campaign being conducted as a part of the NRA drive launched yesterday by this paper.

Expect Many Subscriptions. Although the first day of the campaign netted but few new subscriptions, Jennings stated that he anticipates a large increase in circulation by the end of the campaign which will be on Friday, Oct. 27, one week from tomorrow. After then the price will again be $1.50.

Many students indicated that they expect to subscribe for the paper before the low price now in effect is withdrawn.

The extremely low price of $1 is made possible by a large increase in advertising. The paper is now rated among the fourteen highest student publications with respect to the amount of advertising carried.
