

HAWKEYE SQUAD ARRIVES TODAY

Powerful Iowa Team Ready for Huskers after Surprise Victory Over Purdue; Will Stay in Beatrice Until Time for Contest Saturday.

SAUER MAY BE ABSENT FROM NEBRASKA LINEUP

Biblemen Face Heaviest Weight Disadvantage of Year; Laws and Crayne, With Imposing Record of Long Dashes, Are Boys to be Stopped.

Ready with a powerful running attack, that managed to overwhelm Purdue, and a passing threat that was able to fool Michigan, the Hawkeyes will arrive in Lincoln Friday morning, take their final workout of the season, and then retire to Beatrice to take it easy until Saturday noon when they return to give their utmost to down the Huskers in Iowa's last game of the season.

Ready for Huskers.
Reports from Iowa City state that everything that can be done in the way of preparation for a victory over the Biblemen has been completed by Coach Oskie Solem's squad and they are out to bag the final game on their schedule. If they manage to defeat the Huskers they will have emerged victorious over some of the strongest teams in the country. Having swamped Purdue, the Iowans are eager to trounce Nebraska.

Huskers Not Underestimated.
However they want it known that they do not underestimate the ability and skill of the Huskers. Considering the Biblemen as one of the strongest grid teams in the country the Hawkeyes are taking the game seriously and intend to put everything into Saturday's battle.

Statistics from the Hawkeye camp show that the Iowans have made 11 of their 19 touchdowns on startling trick and fake plays which have originated from between 27 and 90 yards of the goal lines, averaging 43 yards a gallop for the spectacular scoring plays. When it is least expected the Solem-men break loose on long jaunts which completely demoralize opponents, and before the victims can collect themselves, the Iowans, namely Dick Crayne or Joe Laws, have repeated the performance.

Laws and Crayne Star.
"It was Laws' 31 yard sprint which scored the winning touchdown on Northwestern and his 27 yard dash around end which started Iowa's drive to win over the highly touted Purdue outfit." "Crafty master of the art of returning punts, Laws lugged the ball 55 yards to make certain the defeat of Purdue, and took a 37 yard spin to cross Wisconsin's goal," Eddie C. Wilson, editor of the Iowa News Service commented in regard to the Hawkeye's wins. He also made the following statement:

"Crayne's feats include runs of 42 and 34 yards in the Iowa State tilt, the 90 yard return of a Bradley Tech kickoff, and the 55 yard sprint with an intercepted Minnesota pass."

Boast Other Long Gains.
"Other touchdowns from far afield are Bernie Page's forty-two

INTRAMURAL GAGE ENTRIES MUST BE BEFORE VACATION

Class A Basketball Games to Start Dec. 7 and Class B Begins Dec. 11.

Basketball entries are due now at the Intramural office, according to Harold Petz, director. All entries must be in by the twentieth of this month, and immediate action is urged if participation is intended. Class A basketball games will start on the seventh of December, immediately after the Basketball Free Throw contest, and Class B competition will commence on the following Monday, Dec. 11.

Entries may be made at the Intramural office in the Coliseum. Fraternities entering both classes will have to register for each separately. Schedules and rules of procedure will be issued as soon as the entries are closed.

Three Champs Already.
Fraternities have completed a fourth of their sports program for this year with three fraternities leading the parade, each having won one of the three contests engaged in. The champions so far are: Delta Sigma Phi, soccer; Sigma Nu, tennis; and Phi Kappa Psi, water polo.

Soccer was the first sport on the intramural program this year, and Delta Sigma Phi and Phi Kappa Psi were finally determined as finalists. These teams battled for a full game and two extra periods before Delta Sigma Phi emerged victorious by a score of 2 to 1.

Sigma Nu Wins Tennis.
Tennis followed, played in bracketed form. Sigma Nu and Beta Theta Pi worked their way to the finals in this event, and Sigma Nu defeated Beta Theta Pi two matches to one, to win the championship.

Water polo found Phi Kappa Psi and Delta Sigma Phi battling each other once again for the championship, and this time Phi Kappa Psi retaliated for the early season beating in soccer by coasting to a 19 to 12 victory.

Phi Kappa Psi and Delta Sigma Phi have built up quite a rivalry for first place honors in Interfraternity competition. They have met twice, in the finals of the soccer and water polo games, and each has defeated the other once. They are the leaders, so far, in the race for points.

Free Throw Contest Soon.
The next sport on the Intramural program is the basketball free throw starting Dec. 4. Fraternities interested should see Harold Petz at the Intramural office at once. Rules of procedure are as follows: Monday, Dec. 4, each representative of the fraternity will take ten free throws. The five highest of each group will be chosen to represent the fraternity in the finals Wednesday. The team with the highest totals Wednesday will be declared champion.

IT SEEMS TO ME

by
Irvin Ryan

At the Creighton university of higher learning, Tom Johnson, Creighton tackle who played football on the Creighton football team had some difficulty in selecting an all-star opponent tackle. Not that he didn't know who bowled him over the most, for he undoubtedly knew that, but he couldn't seem to be able to spell the word "tackle." Having played that position for four years I suppose it was an imposition to ask a mere college senior how to spell the word of the post he occupied every year since matriculating. When he asked one of his fellow members how to spell the difficult word he was notified "How should I know, I play end."

Joe Laws, the idol of the common people, the supreme god of Iowa City folks, was made fireman by the mayor of the city. Such a distinction was given to the hero of past wars because of his ability to carry the ball. Therefore he becomes a fireman. Easy! Lug a ball through your college life and you may attain the position of fireman, at least in Iowa City. However, much to the chagrin of Mr. Laws the city refuses to install a fire alarm in his room, but the city has promised that they would get in touch with Mr. Laws and notify him before attending any fire.

Mayor Breene's speech in behalf of Mr. Laws reads as follows: "To the end that befitting recognition may be extended to Joe Laws for his outstanding achievements on the Iowa university football team, it is deemed by the city administration of Iowa City a very great privilege and honor in being afforded opportunity to appoint Mr. Laws to the position of honorary chief of the Iowa City fire department."

"We feel that in the superior attributes demonstrated by Mr. Laws both off and on the football field that he is eminently qualified through courage, prowess, integrity and intellectual attainments to reflect the same high degree of excellence to any appointment within the gift of his state, his university or this community, all of whom he has so signally honored and who by the same token delight to honor him."

"Husky Husker Line Bothers Iowa Mentor," is a headline on the Des Moines Register's sport page which immediately greets the eye when glancing at Wednesday's paper. It seems that no matter if the Husker line is outweighed fifty pounds to the man the opposing coaches will continue to fear the huge Husker line. Iowa possesses a line merely outweighing the Schulte forward wall over twenty pounds per man from tackle to tackle and yet Mr. Solem is scared to death of them because of their bulk, so reports go.

Because of the size of the Scarlet line the Iowa mentor has been working on passes during the week in order to gain yardage in that manner. Because also the only score made against Nebraska by Pitt was by the aerial route the Iowa mentor has chosen that method to trying to score Saturday.

With Jim Milne playing in the contest and Lee Penney captaining the game there ought to be some rather dubious opinions expressed as to just what is going on. Penney, because of his broken arm will watch or captain the game from the bench. Milne, promoted to regular right end in view of his remarkable performance against Pittsburgh, will be starting at the regular post for the first time in his three years of varsity competition.

John K. Selleck, business manager of athletics at this university, believes the stands are certain to be filled for the Hawkeye-Husker tilt Saturday. Already about 1,000 tickets have been sold at the Iowa university to students and persons intending to make the trip to Lincoln to view the game. Besides these and the usual football fans which attend, twenty to thirty bands, comprising between 500 and 600 musicians will also be present when the wallows starting the contest.

If negotiations can be satisfactorily reached by both teams, Nebraska will most likely play the Oregon State team again in 1935 here in Memorial stadium. Coach Bible intimated Tuesday morning in a conference. Following this game, if it were scheduled, the Huskers would make the trip to the coast the following year in 1936 to meet the Stinemmen. Due to the radiant personality of Coach Bible, mainly the Cornhuskers are gradually scheduling the best teams in the country and it will most likely not be far in the future when Nebraska will have contracts with teams from all sections of the country.

HUSKER INN OPENS TODAY.
The Husker Inn, 14th and Q, newly decorated and newly equipped, under new management, will open for business at noon today. Management: Mrs. Velma Smaha in charge of the dining room and Carl von Brandenfest, Mrs. Halstead cooking. Best food in the city at lowest prices. Guaranteed to please you.—Adv.

PHI PSIS SWIM WAY TO VICTORY IN POLO GAMES

Winners Compile Margin in First Half; Delts Take Consolation Tilt.

Retaliating for an earlier defeat in soccer, the Phi Kappa Psi water polo team splashed its way to victory in the interfraternity water polo tournament, by defeating Delta Sigma Phi 19 to 12, Wednesday.

Joyce proved the big factor in the Phi Kappa Psi victory, scoring 8 of his team's points as well as preventing numerous goals from being chalked up against him. Dahms and Wiggenhorn scored three points apiece for the winners, and Wiemer five. Hopp and Pixley provided all of the losers points, each scoring six of the Delta Sigma Phi's twelve.

Hold Opponents.
The Phi Psi swimmers compiled a winning margin in the first half while holding their opponents to a score of four. In the second half the Delta Sigma Phi outscored the Phi Psis eight to six, but the damage had already been done and no amount of hard playing could overcome the Phi Psi lead. In the consolation for third and fourth places Delta Tau Delta defeated Lambda Chi Alpha 15 to 6. As in the finals, an early lead enabled the Delts to win. They made 13 points in the first part of the first half, more than doubling their opponents score.

Give Exhibition.
Between games exhibition swimming was presented by university and high school stars. Hagelin, a Lincoln high school stalwart, swam the 100 yard backstroke in one minute nine seconds, only three seconds over the A. A. U. record. Galitsky won the breast stroke race from a field of four, including himself, Gellar, Stall, and Gibbons, in one minute and nineteen seconds. This race also was 100 yards.

In the free style Pixley swam fifty yards in 26 seconds, while Lynde swam 100 yards in one minute six-tenths of a second, one-tenth of a second slower than Big Six record time.

COACHES HAWKEYES

OSSIE M. SOLEM

Coach Oskie Solem, of the Iowa State Hawkeyes, is a former Drake coach and has faced Husker teams for quite a considerable length of time in addition to the Iowa-Husker tilts during which time he coached the Hawkeyes. Drake formerly held annual tilts with the Nebraska teams. This is one of Coach Solem's most successful years at Iowa and he plans to complete it by trouncing the Biblemen.

yard end sweep against Wisconsin; the forward pass, Dwight Hoover to Russ Fisher, which gained thirty-five yards in the Bauger game; and the pass play of George Teyro to Bernard Page good for twenty-nine yards against Michigan."

With the above formidable array of yardage which the Solem squad has run up against some of the strongest teams in the nation, the Huskers have good reason for fearing the attack of the Hawkeyes.

Have Powerful Line.
Furthermore there is more to fear than just the Iowa backfield. The Iowa line is equally powerful. This same line outcharged and outblocked the famous Purdue forward wall which was noted for aggressiveness.

Also heavy weight odds favor the Hawkeyes when they meet the Huskers. Averaging over twenty pounds advantage per man from tackle post to tackle post, the Solem squad will possess a distinct advantage over the light Bible team.

Sauer May Be Missing.
Furthermore there is the grave possibility that George Henry Sauer, whose dependable and furious backing of the Husker line has been largely responsible for the strength of the forward wall this year, will not be able to participate in the Saturday fray. Even if he does start his injury may prevent him from continuing in action for the whole game period. With Sauer out of the tilt the Husker chances of emerging victorious would be considerably diminished.

Miller May Play Fullback.
In case of Sauer's incapacity to perform this week end, then Jack Miller will most likely take over the role of fullback with Master-son playing safety and Hubert Boswell and Bud Parsons assuming the halfback posts.
