THANKSGIVING TO FEATURE BIG SIX TITLE GRID GAME

Huskies, Kaggies Battle on Nebraska Sod to Decide Conference Winner.

ODDS FAVOR WILDCATS

Capacity Crowd Expected to See Teams Meet in Fray Thursday.

Thanksgiving Day will hold something much more promising than Turkey and trimmings for either Kansas State or Nebraska's football teams.

Nebraska is the defending champ, a champ who has worn the mythical fillet for so many years a new one will have to be procured to fit another head.

The game is decidedly a "natural" from all points of view. Kansas State has been Nebraska's most consistent Big Six foe since the conference was formed in 1928.

COIFFURES SUBJECT OF CHARM MEETING

Agnes Schmidt Will Speak Tuesday Night in Ellen Smith.

Miss Agnes Schmidt, of the Agnes Beauty Shoppe, will speak at the meeting of charm school to be held tonight at 7 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall on the subject of proper coiffures and the proper use of cosmetics.

Jean Doty, Dorothy Bartos, Jean Marvin and Hazel Bradstreet, elected as chairmen of the charm school for the coming year will plan programs for the organization and preside at meetings.

Ann Pickett and Muriel Hook will supervise the group with Miss Elsie Ford Piper as sponsor.

ANNUAL LONG CUP DEBATE TOURNEY DATE SET DEC. 13

Delta Sigma Rho Sponsors Trophy Contest for Freshmen.

Freshmen with the gift of words and a penchant for argumentation will have a chance to show their wares Dec. 13, when the annual Freshman debate is scheduled to take place.

The contest sponsored by Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary society, was created for the purpose of uncovering and developing freshman debate talent to be utilized later on the varsity debate teams.

The proposition is: Resolved: That the federal government should establish some plan to provide for old age pensions.

The debate office asks that men wishing to compete be prompt in entering their names, the deadline being set for noon, Wednesday, Nov. 28, so that sides may be assigned and work started immediately after Thanksgiving vacation.

Present plans are to announce the assignments Dec. 3.

Last year the cup was won jointly by Arthur L. Smith, and Herbert Kaplan, from a field of nine contestants, on the proposition: Resolved: That the government should adopt a policy of price fixing.

Bibliographies may be obtained at 111 Andrews Hall or in the library.

3 RADIO STATIONS TO CARRY MUSIC OF LOUIS PANICO

45 Minute Broadcast to Be Carried Over Air From Floor.

THREE TICKET PRICES

Winner of Presentation Plan To Be Announced After Vacation.

Radio stations KFAB, KFOR, and KOIL are to broadcast the music of Louis Panico and a description of the grand march and honorary colonel's presentation, a special feature of the 1934 Military ball, according to Charles Steadman, head of the committee in charge of publicity.

The ball, scheduled for December 7 in the Coliseum, opens the university's formal season.

For forty-five minutes, between 10:15 and 11:00 p. m., the three broadcasting stations will carry the program over the air, direct from the floor of the huge ball room in the Coliseum.

The announcer will relate to his listeners a description of the ceremonies of the party. Permission for the broadcast has been granted by the Lincoln Musician's Union.

Panico, renowned trumpet player, and his Columbia artists have, for several years, broadcast over Chicago stations, and have recently completed an engagement at Chicago's Canton Tea Garden.

He is famed for his arrangement of "Wabash Blues."

CONCLAVE DELEGATES RETURN FROM CAPITAL

Seven University Faculty Members Attend Meeting At Washington, D. C.

CONVENE NOV. 19 TO 21

Influence of current affairs on the field of education constituted the principle topics of discussion at the convention of the nation's land grant colleges and universities at Washington, D. C. on Nov. 19 to 21, according to Dean O. J. Ferguson of the engineering college, one of the university representatives at the convocation, who returned to Lincoln the first of the week.

Others attending from Nebraska were Chancellor E. A. Burnett, Dean W. W. Burr and Professors W. H. Brokaw, H. J. Gramlich, J. C. Russell and M. E. Fiedle, all of the agricultural college.

General matters pertaining to the common interest of the land grant college group were taken up at the meeting, particularly the effect of federal, agricultural and industrial influences on education, according to Dean Ferguson of the engineering college.

VIVID GRAND MARCH TO FEATURE MILITARY BALL

Stunning Gowns Promise Galaxy of Color for Opening Formal.

The Grand March at the Military ball will be especially vivid this year—a veritable sea of color with the lovely coeds dressed in their most stunning gowns piloted across the coliseum floor by dashing uniformed officers.

With more sponsors this year than ever before, the grand march will feature a more attractive formal outfit worn on the night of the Military ball.

Lorraine Hitchcock, Alpha Omicron Pi, will wear a black crepe formal with beaded trim. The gown has a high square neck, a lined tunic, slight split train and the accessories to be worn with it are silver slippers and a white lapin jacket.

Black Wore by Elaine Cruise. Elaine Cruise will be wearing black taffeta trimmed in American Beauty of the same material. The dress has a full shirred skirt-slit on both sides, showing American Beauty of the same material.

Morrill Hall Displays New 700-Pound Skull Of Ancient Elephant

In the university museum in Morrill hall the newest specimen to go on display is a huge 700-pound skull of an ancient elephant. The animal which furnished these fossil remains was one of the early long-jawed, four-tusked beasts, technically named Trilophodon products.

A display rack showing a typical refining process for Pennsylvania grade crude oil was received at the chemistry department Monday and will be used for instruction in chemistry, according to Prof. C. J. Frankforter, instructor of courses in petroleum chemistry.

CHICAGO ARTIST TO SING SOPRANO SOLO IN MESSIAH

Miss Mary Ann Kaufman to Take Part in Presentation Oratorio Dec. 16.

CHORAL UNION FEATURED

Kirkpatrick Directs Annual Performance at Coliseum.

Mary Ann Kaufman of Chicago, will be the soprano soloist in the annual presentation of Handel's great oratorio, "The Messiah" on Dec. 16, Prof. Howard Kirkpatrick, director of the university school of music, announced Monday.

The oratorio will be sung at 8 o'clock at the coliseum under the direction of Kirkpatrick by the choral union, a combination of the university chorus and singers of the city. This will be the thirty-ninth consecutive performance that has been given here.

The three other soloists will be announced later, according to Mr. Kirkpatrick. "The quality of the chorus this year is unusually excellent," he declared. "It will number about three hundred, and we have planned a special setting in the coliseum which we believe will greatly enhance the effectiveness of the production of the oratorio."

Mary Ann Kaufman undertook her career in Chicago and New York, where she studied under Harrison M. Wild, Herman DeVries, Charles A. Baker, and the late Apollo Music Club. She has appeared with the Chicago North Shore Music Festival, the Cincinnati May Festival, and the Chicago, Minneapolis, San Francisco, Cincinnati and numerous other symphony orchestras.

Harrison M. Wild, conductor of the Apollo Music Club, Chicago, Ill., has said of Miss Kaufman, "Mary Ann Kaufman possesses a brilliant, full, warm, and well schooled voice. Her singing is temperamental, is imbued with insight (Continued on Page 5.)

LAW BULLETIN READY FOR PRESS THIS WEEK

First Quarterly Edition Will Be Available Soon.

The first quarterly edition of the Nebraska Law Bulletin, official organ of the state bar association, will go to press either Thursday or Friday of this week and will be ready for distribution early next week, Prof. Lester B. Orfield, faculty editor of the publication, said Monday.

Featuring this issue will be an article by Maurice H. Merrill, professor of law, entitled, "Legislation, Subject, Title, and Amendment." In the Nebraska State Bar association section, Judge J. Leonard Teweil of Sidney discusses "Admission to the Bar and Disbarment in Nebraska." Student notes on recent cases complete the bulletin.

There are fourteen student editors of the publication headed by W. Merrill Whitman, Aurora, editor-in-chief and Wilbur L. Johnson, Clearwater, associate editor-in-chief. The other twelve student editors are chosen from the junior and senior law classes according to their scholarship rating.

BETAS COP TITLE IN GREEK RIFLE SHOOT

Champs Rally on Final Day To Edge Sigma Nu by Six Points.

Beta Theta Phi captured the first intramural rifle meet with Sigma Nu a close second. Third place was taken by Delta Upsilon and fourth by Sigma Phi Epsilon. Of the other teams in the first seven, Theta Chi won fifth, Farm House, sixth, and the A. T. O. team coped seventh.

Adding a 674 to their 701 of yesterday the Beta sharpshooters won by six points over Sigma Nu the preliminary round leader. Other scores were as follows: Sigma Nu 707 652 1359 D. U. 659 631 1290 Sig Ep 647 622 1269 Theta Chi 650 586 1236 Farm House 628 585 1213 A. T. O. 620 569 1189

WOMEN NEEDED FOR Y.W. SERVICE GROUP

Girls Asked to Help With Work of Public Health Department.

Girls are needed to work at the public health department in performing special duties, such as making bandages, according to Elaine Shonka, who is in charge of the recently organized Y. W. service group. The purpose of the group is to meet once a week at the department headquarters where they assist the social welfare workers. The help of all those who are interested is solicited, and it is a special opportunity for sociology majors, Miss Shonka said.

Further information regarding this project may be secured at the Y. W. C. A. office in Ellen Smith, or from Elaine Shonka, chairman of the group.

AG TEAM ENTERS INTERCOLLEGIATE JUDGING CONTEST

Annual Competition to Be Held in Chicago on December 1.

Entrants from the university will participate in the annual intercollegiate judging contest to be held in Chicago, on Saturday, Dec. 1, according to an announcement by ag college authorities Monday.

The agronomy department, whose crop-judging team won second place at the annual Kansas City meet this year, will enter its team of four men in the grain and hay show. The animal husbandry department is still uncertain as to whether or not it will be represented at the competition by a student judging team.

The Agronomy club team, composed of Roland Weibel, junior from DeWitt, Roland Nelson, Mead from the Apollo Music Club, Chicago, Ill., and Ray Pearson, Mead senior, will leave Wednesday noon. Elmer Heyne, assistant in the agronomy department who has coached the team, will accompany them to Chicago. Dr. W. F. D. Keim, chairman of the agronomy department, is now in Washington, D. C., attending a conference on crop production, and he will meet the Cornhuskers Saturday. Other faculty members making the trip include: P. H. Stewart, state extension agent in agronomy, and his assistant, D. L. Cross, B. C. attending a conference on crop production, and he will meet the Cornhuskers Saturday. THETA SIGS SCHEDULE BANQUET AT YM DEC. 6

Professional Sorority Plans Dinner for Students of Journalism.

WALKER TO GIVE AWARDS

Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional journalism sorority, has scheduled its annual journalism banquet for Dec. 6, at the Lincoln Y. M. C. A., according to a recent announcement by Violet Cross, president of the organization.

Betty Segal is general chairman of the dinner, while Harriet Rosenfeld is handling publicity at tickets, and Helen Kroft is in charge of the program.

Speakers who have been asked to appear on the program include: Burton Marvin, editor of the Daily Nebraskan; Bruce Nicoll, business manager of the Awgwan; Prof. Gaylord Walker, head of the School of Journalism; Carlyle Meyer, Cornhusker managing editor; Violet Cross, Alumnae editor, and Alice Beekman, Awgwan editor.

The theme for the banquet, it was learned, will be the Prairie Schooner. Tickets for the affair, which will sell for 60 cents, will be on sale the first of next week. All journalism students, both men and women, are urged to attend. At the banquet Prof. Gayle C. Walker will make annual presentations of awards for best news and feature stories of the year.

TITULAR RALLY IS TRIBUTE SCARLET GRIDIRON SENIORS

Nebraska Students Will Honor Football Team Tonight.

PEP SHOWING 7 O'CLOCK

Conference Crown at Stake In Husker-Kaggie Tilt Tomorrow.

Urging their Cornhusker football team on to a fourth conference championship in as many years, Nebraska students will pay tribute to senior members of the Scarlet and Cream grid squad at the last rally of the season tonight in University Coliseum, members of the student rally committee stated yesterday.

When Kansas Aggie Wildcats roll into Lincoln for the Thanksgiving Day game, they will be here with one definite purpose in mind—to wrest from the Cornhuskers their Big Six crown, which they have held for so long. Figures of the season's games reveal the strength the southerners have and their claim to the title. "It will be necessary for the students to prove to their team, that they believe the title can be retained" declared the committee chairman.

"We have planned the rally for Tuesday night so that every student would be able to attend, and we expect one of the biggest crowds this season," said Howard White, committee member. Eleven members of the Husker squad are seniors, and it is for them the rally has been planned. Coach D. X. Bible, his coaching staff and all senior members of the team will be on the stage of the Coliseum when the rally crowd pours into the big house, headed by the "O. T. C. band, Corn Cobs and Huskers."

According to the announcement the demonstration is scheduled to start at 7 o'clock. Students are asked to assemble in front of the Temple at that hour. A five minutes past seven the parade will move east to 16th street, north to Yine, and then west to the Coliseum. Support has been promised by fraternities and sororities. Every available student is urged to take part in the demonstration.

Tonight's rally will be the last this year. Planned for Tuesday because Wednesday students will be starting for home, the committee in charge hopes to assemble the team to victory over the Kansas State eleven and its fifth title in six years.

Huskies who will be wearing the Scarlet for the last time in Thursday's game are: Franklin Meier, Bud Parsons, Russell Thompson, Willard Horschman, Glen Justice, Neal Mehring, Walter Pflum, Glen Skewes, Ray Tomam, Ed Uptegrove and Wally DeBrow.

Members of the committee which has supervised rallies this year are Louise Hossack, Elizabeth Shearer, Irving Hill, Eugene Pester, Howard White and Fred Nicklas, chairman.

DR. KURZ TO ADDRESS LOCAL CHAPTER P.B.K.

Modern French Theater Is Subject of Talk Dec. 4.

Dr. Harry Kurz, professor and chairman of the department of Romance languages, will address the Lincoln chapter of Phi Beta Kappa on "The Modern French Theater" at a dinner and meeting Dec. 4, at 6:15 at the University club, according to Prof. Clifford Hise, secretary of the scholastic honorary society.

This will be one of the first appearances of Dr. Kurz before a Nebraska audience. Dr. Kurz entered Nebraska's Romance language department this year, coming from Knox college, Galesburg, Ill., where he was chairman of the department of modern languages.

Dr. Kurz' lecture is the second of a series of programs sponsored by the local Phi Beta Kappa chapter. The first of the series was held Oct. 22 when Dr. J. D. Clark spoke on "The Life and Death of NRA."

MAIZE FOREMAN HIGH CANDY SALESWOMAN

Three girls were rewarded for high sales records among the W. A. A. candy saleswomen at the Homecoming game. Maize Foreman placed first, and Eunice Werner second. Iris Knox won the prize awarded for the greatest number of hot dogs sold. Regular saleswomen are urged to help at the Thanksgiving game in order to boost their own sales records for the season. Any other student may also gain admittance to the game in this manner. All of those who wish to sell must sign on the W. A. A. bulletin board in the east women's gymnasium by Wednesday noon.

PICTURES DUE FRIDAY OF QUEEN CANDIDATES

Yearbook Editor Urges All Greek Groups Complete Sections in Annual.

Photographs of candidates for the Nebraska Queens section in the yearbook are due next Friday, stated Editor Frank Crabb in a statement issued Wednesday. Pictures of the twenty-nine eligible girls will be sent to McClelland Barclay next week for judging, he said.

Crabb urged members of fraternities and sororities to have their photographs taken before the Christmas holiday season. None of the Greek groups has completed its section in the Cornhusker, with most groups showing less than half their chapter photographed. Percentages of pictures taken for each house will be listed in the Nebraska next week.

Because of the rush during the holiday season, Crabb urged that Lincoln students visit the Rinehart-Marsden studios during Thanksgiving vacation, and others as soon as possible during the following week.
