LANDON'S SPEECH CHANGES DATE OF MAPLES CONTEST

Republican Founders Day Is Postponed Until Feb. 29.

Change Friday of the Kansas-Nebraska basketball game from Feb. 29 to 28, by Athletic Director D, X. Bible, made it possible to hold the Republican Founders Day on the 29th, instead of the 28th as originally planned.

The Nebraska Founders Day committee decided to change the date when it was found that adequate broadcasting coverage could not be given the featured speech of Governor Alf Landon until

The change in the game date had been previously requested by the committee, but Coach Bible was not willing to disrupt his schedule until Kansas Coach Allen and other K. U. officials joined in the request.

COMPETE IN TOURNEY

Postal Intra-Collegiate Contests.

Thirty girls have signed up for the W. A. A. annual rifle tourney, and five teams of six girls each have been formed for competition. At the close of the campus tournament the fifteen high scorers will be entered in postal matches.

The university organization has been offered twelve postal matches with women's rifle teams in other colleges. There is also the possibility of having a novelty contest with Creighton university, in which each of the competing teams would have an even number of girls from each school.

Each team will be headed by a lery A. Morrill hall of the univer-captain and manager and will sity. There are t venty-four of the contain five more girls; of the six paintings by George Pearse Ennis, members of a team only the five high scorers of a match will be counted. Clara Ridder heads one group consisting of Helen Scho-macker, Marion Brainard, Virginia Fleetwood, Ruth Kuehl, and Marion Byrd. Alice Brainum, Ghelys Mattley, Esther Kuehl, Phyllis Person, and Eva Woodruff are all members of Maxine Wertman's team.

Other teams include Catherine Other teams include Catherine Cartney, Fern Bloom, Pauline Hannon, Cora Fox, and Clarice Bloom with Mary O'Conneil as head: Jane Hopkins, Marion Young, Eloise Copenhaver, Elaine Cruise, and Winifred Nelson on Elizabeth Gilley's squad; and Betty Ecclesfield, Helen Willard, Theory Nye Hazel Smith, and Theora Nye, Hazel Smith, and Florence Farwell on Sara Caseheer's team.

Anneberg's aeronautical experiences proved a bit too much for him and Flash was able to keep him pretty well under control. Later, however, the Kansan recovered enough to keep out of Flasnick's reach and Flash had to be contented with a dicision.

Fred Mallon, after a slow start. outclassed Jayhawker Sig Brunn to take the decision in the 155 lb class. Lynde High Point. High point man of both teams was Glyndon Lynde, Big Six champion in the 50, 100 and 220 yard dashes. The lengthy senior from Hartington garnered ten points by virtue of winning the 100 yard dash, placing second in the 50 yard dash and swimming the crawl on the winning medley relay team. Webb was the high point man of the Minnesota team, gathering in a total of seven points in the 400 yard free style relay and the 150 yard back stroke. The most interesting battle was furnished by Lynde and Rex Hudson in the 50 yard dash. Lynde is the Big Six champion in this event, while Hudson was the All-American interscholartic high school champion in the same event. After racing neck and neck the whole distance, Hudson finally edged out Lynde by inches, Lynde turned the tables in the 100 yard free style, winnig from Gjelhaug by the same close margin.

Kuklin, Smith Close. Another well-fought contest was that between Harry Kuklin, Big Six fancy diving champion, and Bob Smith of Minnesota, former Boy Scouts of America diving champion. Smith won this event 101.7 points to Kuklin's 92.9 points. After the regular meet, Smith entertained the crowd with several novelty dives.

Great promise was shown by Nebraska's medley relay team, composed of Pete Hagelin, back, Bob Thornton, breast, and Lynde, crawl. They swam to a win over the Minnesota team by a comfortable margin.

Any time, Nebraska scoring two falls worth five points each, and four decisions good for three points each to account for the points each to account for the rest of the scoring.

The first fall was secured by Husker Ray "Swede" Larson in the 145 lb. division. He used the half nelson and body chancellor to hold Jim Boutz' shoulders to the mat the required two seconds, Captain Bernard "Benno' Funken finished the meet in a very acceptable manner by pinning heavyweight Sam Ericsson of the Kansans.
