

The Military Department has about accomplished its object of establishing a shooting gallery in the basement of the Armory during the winter months. This was much agitated during the fall of '92, but owing to some technicality, was not accomplished.

The first of a series of parlor lectures to be given by the Delta Gamma fraternity, will be given Saturday evening at the home of Miss Gregory. Prof. Fling delivers the first lecture on "Student Life in a German University." Some of the friends of the Deltas are also invited.

Sigma Chi entertained at their new hall on N street Friday night. A delightful time is reported by all who attended. Dancing and other amusements made the hours pass quickly. The "Sigs" are to be complimented on their new hall. Prof. and Mrs. Richards were chaperones.

Prof. Barber, during the past summer, prepared a synopsis of the Latin grammar which was printed by a publishing firm in Chicago. This synopsis will be a great aid to Latin students, as much time and trouble can be spared by the use of it. It is printed in pamphlet form and has also been published in the beginning book of Latin. The first part of the work is given to some of the declensions and verbs.

Professor Davis, who comes from the University of North Carolina as professor of mathematics, has impressed his students, at least, very favorably, and bids fair to be one of the most popular of our faculty. He has written several text books on mathematics and has an excellent record as an instructor. It is no easy task to take Professor Little's place, but from all appearances Professor Davis will succeed in doing so.

Dr. Frankforter, the new lecturer in chemistry, though new to most of our students, is by no means new to the University. He graduated in '86 and has since spent several years in Germany. He took his Ph. D.

at Berlin with a thesis which has created quite a ripple in the sea of science. His investigations have been of a practical nature, leading to a new and cheap method of producing narceine. He has patented his process both in Europe and this country, and has some prospect of making a little filthy lucre from it. His name is another on the long list of U. of N. graduates who have achieved success after leaving the alma mater.

We publish below a list of those who have subscribed to the Athletic Association fund. The estimated expenses are, coaching, $500; sweaters, $60; suits, $50; grounds, $50. As will be observed from the list but a small portion of this has been raised so far. The faculty has not yet been appealed to. It is desired to raise as much as possible among the students before doing this. Of course everybody will plead hard times, but times are probably harder for many of those who have already subscribed than for the majority of those who have not yet done so. Where there's a will there's a way. Just smoke a few less cigars, go to one or two less shows, or don't get that new neck-tie that you really don't need. Turn over the money to the Athletic association. Don't wait to be asked for it, but hunt up one of the one of the men who are receiving subscriptions. There are enough of them so that it won't take much of your valuable time.

Don't be afraid of frightening them with a big subscription. They are all men of nerve and will receive fifty dollars with the same equanimity that they will fifty cents. Just try it and see. Any of the following will take your money: J. H. Johnston, N. M. Johnston, F. G. Hall, Everett, E. Haughton, A. B. Lyons.

By the way, why don't some of our dramatic stars and musical prodigies do something for the cause? An entertainment of any kind for the benefit of the foot ball team would be well attended. Any slight deficiency on account of hasty preparation would be easily forgiven. The writer, for
