EXCHANGES

As a maid so nice,
With step precise,
Tripped o'er the ice,
She slipped; her care in vain.
And at the fall,
With usual gall,
The school boys call,
"Third down: two feet to gain."—Ex.

The lecture was long,
The lecturer prosy;
I took notes, or tried to—
But her cheeks were so rosy
I took notes of her, too—
Do you think I did wrong?
The lecture was long
And the lecturer prosy.—Ex.

The Aurora, of the Occidental College, Los Angeles, Cal., makes its initial bow. It presents a neat appearance.

"Who can tell me what an urchin is?" asked the professor.
Prep.—"A place where they keep biscuits."—Ex.

The Revelle of Norwich University, Northfield, Vt., is published by the corps of cadets. It is well arranged throughout.

Mr. Sirajl. Do you believe in a college education for a delicate boy?

Mr. Streme. Certainly. It either kills or cures.—Ex.

The M. S. U. Independent of Missouri university, issued an "extra" at 10:30 Saturday evening, giving a detailed account of the Nebraska-Missouri football game. This is very good but the NEBRASKAN was out at 7:30. It was not an "extra" either, for the report appeared in the regular edition.

The Sincerest Flattery.

LOOK ON THIS PICTURE.

Banana peel
Upon the floor—
A fat man's heel—
And banana peel—
A slip, a reel—
Then something more
Beside the peel
Upon the floor.

AND ON THIS.

A soft felt hat
Upon the ground—
Small boy sees that
Same soft felt hat—
He kicks hard at it,
It makes a bound—
A brick and hat
Lie on the ground.—Ex.

The K-det Kodak.

With her eyes upturned
Her head on his breast,
She pressed the button
The cadet did the rest.—Ex.

SOMETHING AWFUL.

The Union Society Prepares an Extraordinary Program.

The Unions promise to have something wild and wooly next Friday evening. There is to be a special program consisting of a story composed by Miss Pound, Abbott, Miss Morgan, Shreve, and Newbranch. Each one writes a chapter, and is not supposed to know what is in the preceding one.

Of what sort it is the public is not supposed to know but dark and ill-boding tales have emanated from that little annex to Prof. Barber's Latin room where the surroundings are sufficiently awful to give rise to the most harrowing of tales.

Terrible descriptions are rife of a house (haunted, of course,) in a deep wood, twelve o'clock midnight, lone traveler, etc. Then there is a small boy with twenty-three cents; rich old farmer with a pretty daughter, suspicious man, bridge over a rushing torrent, discouraged man standing ready to plunge in, with the boy asleep on a neighboring door step. This comprises the material for one of the most startling novelettes ever written.

The truth of the above cannot be vouched for but such things have been heard in whispers about the hall.

Each composer is to read his part of the story to the audience, the intervals between the chapters being occupied by the rendering of some slow music. Whether the boy grows up, and dies nobly on the foot ball field or marries the pretty girl, can hardly be conjectured, but the public is invited to come and hear this wonderful story itself.

THAT OMAHA EXCURSION.

Active Preparations Have Been Started and Success Assured.

Preparations for the Students' excursion to Omaha, Thanksgiving, are progressing rapidly under the vigorous work the committee is putting in. If the affair is not a "howling" success it will not be because of any lack of diligence on the part of the committee, but the infernal perverseness of the elements and lack of enthusiasm among the students.

The tickets will be out by next Monday, so every one might as well be prepared to take one at first, or he will be bored to death before the week is over. There is going to be no let up. The members of the committee are of the opinion that the students, as a whole, have contributed very little toward the support of athletics this year and they intend to inaugurate a campaign, which from a financial standpoint, has not yet been beaten. The committee is composed of Ralph Johnson, A. J. Weaver, and Bert Forbes. Apply to them for further information.

Betas Staged.

Saturday evening the Delta Tau Delta chapter house was the scene of a delightful stag party given to the Beta fraternity.

The evening was spent in cards followed by songs and dancing. A novel feature of the entertainment was a glove contest between Mr. Robinson and Mr. Whitmore. In nine hard-fought rounds Mr. Whitmore proved himself the best man.

This is said to be the first time either of the contestants ever saw boxing gloves.

The guests were Messrs. Adams, Becher, Ames, Cooley, Forbes, Thorp, Robinson, Barnett, Everett, Lehman, Nicholson, Graham, Summers, and McLucas.

Friday evening Russell Thorp, Jr., of Edgewood, S. D., was initiated into the Beta Theta Pi fraternity, following the initiation was a charming "spread" at which many admirers were present.

The Artists' Recitals.

A series of five Artists' Recitals will be given at the chapel of the university during the winter and spring. The first of these recitals will be given by Mr. Sieveking, of the University Conservatory, on the evening of Tuesday, November 13th, beginning promptly at eight o'clock. The doors will be closed during the numbers.
