

LOCALS.

P. B. C.—Pinkerton's boarding club.
 Right place, right board, right price at 1200 T street.
 Westerfield, the barber. Has done work for students for seventeen years.
 The best $2.00 heard in the city at 1200 T street. $5.00 per calendar month.
 The executive committee of university regents will meet Friday morning at 9 o'clock.
 Professors Barbour and Stout will attend the state irrigation convention at Lexington.
 Juniors themes were due yesterday. Several seniors are writing their junior themes this year.
 Have your tonsorial work done at Westerfield's. You will get the latest style of hair cut there.
 Mr. Stoltz has received a telegram telling the death of his father. He left immediately for home.
 The Tuxedo quartet will sing tonight at the Palladian society. All are invited to attend and hear them.
 Miss Christina Larson and J. C. Elliott both of West Point were visitors at the university Monday.
 Quite a number entered the hare and hound chase last Saturday. They were out about three hours.
 Dr. Samuel Avery arrived Monday from Heidelberg, Germany, to take charge of his classes in chemistry.
 Professor Caldwell is smiling again. Mrs. Caldwell and the babies came home from Baltimore last Friday.
 A beautiful new picture of Empress Louisa covers a bad place in the wall of Miss Heppner's German room.
 Constanter the popular barber is located at 1022 O street. He employs the best artists of any shop in the city.
 Psychology students are groaning over the essay on "The Significance of Brain Weight" which is due December 2.
 Fraternity men will find that Westerfield does the best kind of tonsorial work at his shop, 117 North Thirteenth street.
 On last Monday the new and old cadets were consolidated in company formation which will be the form of drill here after.
 Professor H. H. Nicholson, Miss Rosa Bouton and R. S. Hiltner are attending the beet sugar convention at Grand Island.
 Miss Richter has organized an evening costume sketch class, meeting Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7 o'clock in the studio.
 This is your time to buy holiday goods at E. Fleming's, the jeweler, 1224 O street. Don't fail to call. You will save money by so doing.
 If you miss your meal at your regular boarding house, come down to Francis Bros' restaurant and try a fifteen cent meal there.
 The new wire model, which the department of psychology has just received, greatly aids the study of the structure of the brain.
 At Leighton's you will find the finest stock of stationery in the city to choose from. Our prices are the most reasonable. 117 O street.
 The class in "Purpose and Plan of Nature," a Bible elective, under Dr. Bessey, is reading "The Story of Creation," by Edward Clodd.
 The Palladians will enjoy a "Thanksgiving feed" in their hall on Tuesday, November 24, and the Unions the Friday night following.
 The date of holding the Pershing Rifles hop has been definitely decided. It will occur on the first Friday in December at the Lincoln hotel.
 The hours of recitation for the Saturday morning classes in English 5 have been changed from nine to eleven, and from ten to twelve.
 The university mission is rapidly growing in size and interest. At the meeting Sunday evening the assembly room would hardly accommodate the audience.
 The fellow students of Guy Barnes are glad to know that he is quite convalescent from the operation for appendicitis, done some two weeks ago at the sanitarium.
 Have you bought one of those new University of Nebraska, tablets at the Co-Op yet? The lettering is made from a special dye, and they are the neatest tablets yet gotten out.
 C. E. Williams, principal of the Greenwood schools, was up Saturday. He is carrying work in the European history department. The source study method is very popular now in his school.

 Messrs. House, Evans, McMichael, Cortelyou, Gerrard, Hunt, Campbell and Warner have formed themselves into a sort of Y. M. C. A. glee club. They intend to make a specialty of singing sacred music.
 Do you know that headaches and many nervous affections are due to the eye strain, which can be cured by scientifically fitted glasses? Examination and consultation free. H. M. Betts, Richards b'k, Room 32. Hours 9 to 12 a. m. 1 to 5 p. m.
 At a meeting of the junior class on Tuesday, the resignation of W. T. Axling and T. D. Lunn from the Sombrero board were accepted, and O. T. Reedy and H. D. Evans were elected to fill the vacancies.
 A meeting of the athletic board will be held in the office of the physical director at ten o'clock Saturday morning. A baseball manager will be elected and other business relative to university athletics will be disposed of.
 Mr. W. C. Hills is now at Tabitha hospital. He was attacked with a case of appendicitis Friday, and on Friday night the operation was performed. He is now doing well, but will be out of the university for several weeks.
 Misses Edna Gund and Anna Taylor have been initiated into the mysteries of Tri Delta. Miss Sadie Taylor who is teaching at South Omaha was home for the occasion and assisted in explaining the unknowns to her sister.
 In the news item giving the history of our games with Iowa, one of our victories was left out. On Thanksgiving day, in 1893, we defeated Iowa by the score of 20 to 18. Nebraska has three victories against one defeat from Iowa.
 The filling of fountain pens at the library desk has become such a nuisance that a stop was finally put to the practice. This resulted in turning the students into the Co-Op. They are met here by a sign which reads, "Fountain pens filled, one cent".
 After a great deal of delay the new caps and chevrons of the cadets have been ordered from the M. C. Lilly company of Columbus O. It is hoped that they will be here within a week in order that the battalion may be fully uniformed before Thanksgiving day.
 The interest in the coming state Y. M. C. A. convention, is growing among the university students. This is because it promises to be the most interesting and most powerful state convention ever held in Nebraska. The college department will be especially emphasized.
 By some sort of psychological phenomenon, the name of O. H. Martin, who was initiated into Alpha Theta Chi last week, was written on the "copy" as O. H. Allen. The Nebraskan hastens to correct any wrong impression which may have been formed toward the two gentlemen in question.
 The Y. M. C. A. reception given at the home of Mrs. Hall last Saturday evening was well attended. A short program consisting of solos by Miss Griggs and Mrs. McMichael and a duet by Misses Auman and Atkinson was rendered. Delicate refreshments were served. A pleasant social time was had by all present.
 The senior class held a meeting last Friday, and arrived at the conclusion that the girls of the class should wear caps and gowns, and that the young men should wear sombreros and carry canes. It is possible that this record breaking of deciding upon insignia during the first semester will not be allowed to stand, and a change is a possibility.
 A. J. Weaver '96, and James Johnston '94, left for Salt Lake City Tuesday evening, where they will set up in the law business. They had been in Lincoln for a few days, the guests of Delta Tau Delta of which fraternity they are both charter members of Beta Tau chapter. A number of Delt boys went to the depot with them and bade them good-bye and good luck in their new field.
 On Saturday evening Professor Burnet entertained his second year students in a very novel way at his home in East Lincoln. As the guests entered, they were greeted with a warm German welcome. After a short German conversation, German games were played, and the evening ended with German songs. It was a very delightful innovation, and the professor promises others in the future.
 According to the Bookman the following are the most popular works in fiction this year: The Damnation of Theron Ware by Harold Frederic; Sir George Tressady by Mrs. Humphrey Ward; The Heart of Princess Odra by Anthony Hope; Kate Carnegie by Ian MacLaren. All are to be had at low prices at the book department of Herpolshelmer and Co. A big line of note books, fountain pens, tablets, and dictionaries always on hand.

Phil Russell left over the B. and M. for quite an extensive eastern trip Wednesday. He is sent by the Nebraska Alpha chapter of Phi Delta Theta to their national convention which will be held at Philadelphia during Thanksgiving week. Phil will go first to New York where he will meet J. C. Jones and Tom Wing, and together they will see the game Saturday between Yale and Princeton. He will also be in Philadelphia at the time of the Thanksgiving game between Cornell and Pennsylvania. A number of the members of the local chapter accompanied him to the depot to see him off.
RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY.
 Whereas, Almighty God has seen fit to remove from our class, one who on account of his superior manliness and scholarly abilities was loved and respected by all who knew him, and
 Whereas, we feel deeply the loss we have all sustained in the death of our friend Eugene Brown; Therefore be it resolved that we offer his bereaved family our sincere and heartfelt sympathy, and be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family and that they be printed in the college papers.
 Class of '07.
THE LUNCHEON ROOM.
 The university luncheon room is becoming more popular every day. The girls furnish nothing but strictly home-made goods. The prices are:
 Soup ..... 5 cents
 Baked Beans ..... 5 cents
 Plum pudding ..... 5 cents
 Crauberry sauce ..... 5 cents
 Sandwich ..... 3 cents
 Bread and butter ..... 2 cents
 2 Doughnuts ..... 2 cents
 Pumpkin pie ..... 4 cents
 Coffee ..... 4 cents
 Tea ..... 4 cents
 Cocoa ..... 4 cents
 Milk ..... 3 cents
WENT BACK TWO YEARS.
 R. S. Hunt had a remarkable experience on Saturday. He was playing basket ball and collided with John Hastie. He did not know where he was for several hours, but thought himself back in his first "prep" year. He imagined himself in Professor Chatburn's mathematics class, which he attended two years ago. In the locker room the boys found him trying to get into locker "33" which was the one he had two years ago. The clothes he wanted were those he wore then. He told the boys to take him to the house where he roomed at that period. Taken altogether it was a very peculiar psychological derangement.
ART NOTES
 It is currently reported that Phil Russell drew and filled a bob-tailed flush.
 Last Monday evening Doctor Clark drew a large, life sized, breath.
 Some of the university girls have secured employment as "boomers" for the Lincoln Paint and Color company.
 Professor has taken work in the art department. He is showing some progress. Last Monday he drew his salary.
 The following dialogue between tutor and instructor provoked a laugh in a freshman German class Wednesday. Miss H— "Decline 'a man." Miss F— "I can't."
