NOVEL CANVAAS AT WISCONSIN.

The movement of collecting data for the bulletin of the private life of the Wisconsin students by Professor M. Vincent O'Shea was begun Monday in real earnest, and every student will be sent a circular containing the questions given below.

The plan comes highly recommended by both the faculty and the board of regents, President Adams being particularly enthusiastic in its support.

The questions were submitted for the consideration of the faculty, and the approved list as given in the form is as follows:

I. Food—(1) Under the headings Breakfast, Luncheon, Dinner, please write in detail what you customarily eat and drink at each meal. If possible, keep account for a week and indicate number of times each article is eaten. Indicate also as accurately as possible in what manner and how thoroughly each article is cooked. (Your landlady will doubtless gladly inform you upon these matters if you ask her, and she will probably be pleased to note your interest in her culinary enterprises.) (2) What article of food do you like best? What ones really form the substance of your dietary? Do you eat between meals, indulge in midnight lunches, etc.? Do you have dinner at midday or night?

II. Sleep—(1) Do you sleep soundly? Dream much? How many hours do you plan to spend in sleep? How late do you study at night? When do you go to bed? What time do you arise in the morning? (2) Have you ever studied all night, or nearly so? What effect did it have upon you? Has knowledge gained at that time been enduring?

III. Study—(1) How many hours per day? What are your study hours? Are they regular and uninterrupted, or otherwise? How many hours may you count upon with certainty to be entirely uninterrupted during the day? During what hours of the day are you at your best? When are you dullest? Do you stimulate yourself artificially to study? If so, how? (2) Indicate the amount of time you spend upon each of your studies. How many hours of written work each day? Pen or pencil? If pen, fine or blunt point? Metal holder? If pencil, soft or hard?

IV. Health—(1) Headaches? Indigestion? Colds? (2) Have you had your eyes examined by a skilled oculist? (3) Indicate time spent by you in gymnasium. In open air. (4) Do you dance? How frequently? How late? (5) Smoke? Cigars, cigarettes or pipe?

V. In General—What do you pay for board? For room? How large a room have you? How many in it? How heated? How ventilated? Do you board yourself? Do your own washing? How much work, manual or otherwise, do you undertake outside of your university studies?

The results of these reports will be compared with those obtained by other institutions with the object of estimating the comparative standings of Wisconsin and other institutions in the matter of health, food, exercise, sleep and study, and their effect on mental ability.—U. of M. Daily.

CONCERNING EFFIGIES.

In view of the recent anti-Spanish demonstration at this university, the comment of the Wisconsin Cardinal on a similar occurrence at Ann Arbor seems to fit the case:

"A strange spectacle was presented last Saturday when the students of the University of Michigan turned out en masse, and, after a rousing celebration, burned General Weyer in effigy. The fact that Michigan students are patriotic and are enthusiastic for the interest of their country, we had supposed to be so patent as to need no demonstration. But we cannot help feeling that an outburst of such evident jingoism, such an exhibition of frantical and partisan fervor, ought to have no place among the students of a great university. There seems to us to be very little difference between this act and the insults to our own flag which have been perpetrated by students at the Spanish universities, and which have roused such indignation among the American people.

FRATERNITY MEN PRACTICING.

The frat men of the university have been taking an unexpected interest in the interfraternity baseball league. Every night they are out on the campus and some very good material is showing up; likewise some that is very poor. Each frat is putting forth its best efforts to win, and even those who have no real ball players in their organization are trying hard to develop some. The first game takes place this morning between Sigma Chi and Phi Kappa Psi. Sigma Chi is looked on by many as having the best chance to win the series, as that fraternity has so many of its members on the varsity team. The Betas and Phi Psis, however, are both very strong, and several others are showing up well.

MISS WILLARD'S ROMANCE.

The visit to Kokomo, Ind., recently, Bishop Charles W. Fowler brought out an interesting story of an early love affair between Bishop Fowler and the late Miss Frances E. Willard. Those having read Miss Willard's memoirs will remember of an adroit and evasive pencil sketch intimating that at one time in her life her lonely, loving heart had its hero and that at an early day she had a love's sweet dream; that she wore a ring and "acknowledged an allegiance based on a supposition." Again she speaks of the romance of her life being unguessed, a "secret lying within the temperate zone of a great heart's geography." To those who thought her cold she said, "cold because no brave Stanley had ever explored her heart's tropical clime; cold because no Balboa had ever sailed on the bosom of its wide, pacific sea."

In her youth Bishop Fowler and Miss Willard were students in the same Methodist college, both being members of the Methodist church. Between them was a strong affinity, a friendship that eventually ripened into a deep, abiding love. The ring she speaks of wearing as an "allegiance based on supposition," was the gift of Bishop Fowler. Both had great strength of character and were born leaders of men and women. The similarity of their temperaments was frequently considered by the young people as a barrier to matrimony, and it was finally agreed that it would be best for both to choose separate paths in life. The engagement was accordingly broken. In after years they were often brought together in their life work, that of lifting up fallen humanity and leading them to a better way, but the story of the early romance was never told until the death of Miss Willard a few weeks ago.
