REGENTS MEET

Some Seniors Pleased-The "Co-Op" Investigation.
 The Regents of the University held their regular meeting last June in the executive office of the University. The business which was of most interest to the students was that in connection with the members of the senior class who had enlisted in the army. There was some uncertainty and considerable anxiety felt by them as to whether or not they were to receive their degrees. It therefore lifted a burden from their shoulders when it was finally known that all members of the senior class in good standing, who had gone into the army, should receive their diplomas.
 The report of the committee appointed to investigate the "Co-op" was made and accepted. It decided that the Students' Co-operative Book Co. no longer filled the position for which it was organized, and that hereafter, in order to promote the best interests should be under the direct supervision of the regents and professors of the University, assisted by a representative of the student body.
 Regent Morrill and some professor from the faculty will be members of this supervisory board. An election will probably be held soon to elect some student with a business turn of mind to represent the students in this capacity. The storeroom will be that formerly occupied by the "Co-op" in the east end of University Hall.
 Two hundred dollars worth of Waterman's Ideal fountain pens to select from at the "Uni" book store.
