 The students of the university will be glad to know that Robert J. Burdette is to visit the city next Thursday night under the auspices of the city Y. M. C. A. at the Funke opera house.
 The Union debating club had a very noisy secret session last Saturday evening. The members refuse to divulge the cause of the turmoil. It was probably a question which concerns the Maxwell club.

Robert Burdette has become familiar to all readers through his contributions to the Ladies' Home Journal. You will enjoy his articles much better after hearing him next Thursday night at the Funke opera house.

The senior class roll for the Junior Annual must be out by this evening. All seniors are requested to call at the executive office immediately and sign the paper.

Thirty-five men have enrolled in the special class in physical training for base ball. When the weather is too severe to permit practice outside, Dr. Hastings directs them in body building work in the gymnasium.

The March Kiote will be out today. It will contain short stories by Harriet Cooke, Grace Reynolds and George Shedd and verse by Prof. Hall, Frye, Keene, Abbott and E. F. Piper. It will also have a new cover design by Clyde Hull.

The Y. M. C. A. rooms will be finished by the last of this week and are going to please the young men. The social committee is planning an opening social for all young men, and they are going to try and make it one of the best receptions that has been given by the association this year. This will be held about March 11.

In accordance with a late ruling by the committee on courses, students who were unable to register for physical training on account of having the maximum number of hours' work allowed, will be permitted to enroll at the office of the physical director for the work. The gymnasium is to be open Monday and Wednesday evenings and Saturday at 2 p. m. for their use.

A spirited debate took place in elocution four a few days ago. The question was, Resolved: That there should be a union of all denominations. The affirmative was championed by Karl Meyer and Ray Waterman, the negative by W. J. Lowery and E. H. Kring. Humorous references of the future vocation of the advocates made the hour a very agreeable entertainment.

Miss Anne Barr delightfully entertained the class leaders of the gymnasium at her home on last Saturday afternoon. Miss Barr told many interesting things of her trip abroad and the ability of the young women as poets was tested. Later a chafing dish luncheon was prepared by Miss Barr, assisted by Miss Ella Phelps and Adelloy Whiting. Those present were Misses Alberta Spurk, Adelloy Whiting, Ella Phelps, Ada Heaton, Minnie Guile Clara Fowler, Sarah Muir, Mary Davis, Mildred Parks, Harriet Cook, Anna Vore and Deda Gilmore of Fairbury.

It was with the deepest regret that the student body heard of the injuries sustained by the members of the First Nebraska regiment at Manila. There is scarcely a man in the regiment who is not known by some one in the university. Albert Hollingsworth, captain of company C, is a resident of Beatrice. He entered the university in the fall of 1896 as a Freshman but let at the close of the semester to accept a position as teacher near his home. He was elected captain of the company about two years ago and resigned his place as teacher to enter the service. Bert Whedon is well known among the students. He was a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity of the class of '99.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC.

The string quartette is now filling their engagements in the Black Hills. The Glee and Mandolin clubs are now fully organized for the spring term. The Glee club had their pictures taken for the Junior Annual.

The Alumni of the University, now of Chicago, have taken steps to help pay for the pipe organ. The alumni in Washington have agreed to give one hundred dollars to the same cause.

There will be eight graduates this year. This is a larger number than in any previous year. They will give a series of concerts with the string orchestra this spring. These recitations will commence about April 15.

Miss Mammie Stanyx, a last year's graduate, is visiting the conservatory this week.
