Tecumseh Base Ball Team Good Kickers. University Easy Winner.

Tecumseh base ball team was defeated Saturday afternoon 20 to 12, after one of the most persistent and disgraceful wrangles ever seen upon the local grounds. From start to finish, the visitors kicked, grumbled, and hurled insults at umpire and university players. Nothing suited them, and they were not even satisfied with themselves. In the fourth inning, after one of the fairest decisions of the game, the visitors concluded that they had been basely wronged, and declared that unless the umpire reversed his decision, they would gather up their bats and make a sneak for the south gate. It came about in the following man- the fourteenth biennium. Nebraska was at the bat, two men were out and three men were on Regents: I beg to submit to you, conbases. According to the rules, if it port: was a fair ball, he was out, but if it was a foul, he was safe. The umpire called foul, whereupon there was revcalled foul, whereupon there there are called foul, whereupon there are called foul, which is a superficient foul, and the called fo from this on, Tecumseh could not get together in any way, and the game was too much one-sided to even be interesting. The pitching force of the visitors was brought up one after another and all were so wild that the price on bases on balls took a decided slump. Before the eighth inning had been finished, sixteen men had received presents and had trotted to first, now. Great credit is due to the chair-In the sixth inning, another kick was registered, this time about the umpire. Porter, who had been doing excellent, work, work, especially on balls and strikes, immediately withdrew, and was succeeded by Scott. This was only one of the frequent interruptions which was caused by the visitors. Every inning was marred in such a way that the spectators became justly disgusted.

The first inning opened up fast, with Tecumseh at the bat. Ross went out easily on an infield grounder. Morrissey followed with a good left field which rolled through the fence. By the time it was recovered, he had completed the circuit of the bases. Buffum was presented with a base on balls, but was caught in an attempt to second. Townsend made the third out. In the second half, Reeder was thrown out at first, Moore received a base on balls, but did not succeed in making the circuit, as Bliss and

Gordon made easy outs.

The visitors made another in the second on a bad muff of an easy out by McDermott, and some wild throwing with but few exceptions, to make good on bases. For the university McDermott sent an easy fly to Gore. Kingsbury singled, but was forced out by Bolen's single. Bolen stole seconl. given four balls and Rhea made first on a muff. Reeder made the third out, leaving the men on bases.

In the third, Morrissey sent a single to Reeder, who passed it to first too slow to eatch the batter. Kingsbury furnished a hit by Buffum, which let the latter make two bases. After two or three more hits, Morrissey, Buffum and Townsend completed the cirenit of bases.

In their half, the university braced up. With no men out Moore was hit by a pitched ball Bliss singled, which sent Moore to third. Gordon drew four balls and McDermott singled. Gordon was forced out at second, Moore came in on a passed ball. Bliss also reached home on account of the slow playing of the visitors. Kings-bury ended the inning with a fly to shortstop. The play in the fourth lagged and was not strong on either side. After this inning, the Teeumseh pitcher went to pieces and when he did succeed in ball near the plate, he was hit at will. Nearly every man up, however, was presented with a base on balls if he had the patience to wait for them. In the fifth the university piled up eight runs which practically won the game. At no time after this did the visiting team play harmoniously. Two other pitchers, Fairall and Townsend, were put in at different times, but nothing proved of any avail. On the other hand, the work of the home team gradually improved and all settled down to straight base ball.

However, there were a few redeeming features in the game. Rhodes at first, Gordon at third, and Bolen in left field, a new man in university base ball history, did good work through out. Bliss made an enviable record for himself. After the first two or three innings he setted down and had the visitors at his mercy. Had he received better support the result would have been decidely different. The entire team did good work with the bat when the pitchers of the opposing team suc-ceeded in getting the ball near enough to the plate to be hit.

The year has opened auspiciously, and with renewed effectiveness in the work, throughout the departments of the college. With 1.0 prejudice to any, I think I should call attention to the enthusiaem and success attendant up-on the altered methods of instruction in the department of English, put in effect throughout this year. I have rot familiarized myself with it in detail, but am from what I have seen, convinced that the experiment will be of moment in the rhetoric teaching of the country.

The excitement consequent upon the breaking out of the war with Spain, demoralizing than could have been x-pected. It led to the enlistment of an E. Finney, third, 30 feet, 9 inches. Lepercent it led to the enlistment of an unusually high proportion of our students, and to the complete records in the work, except in the case of seniors, of nearly all. So far as these enlisted men have been able to return to the seriors, and to the enlistment of an unusually high proportion of our students, and to the complete records in the work, except in the case of seniors, of nearly all. A chief need created by the greater strength and efficiency of the departments in this college, is of better pre-paration in the candidate who enter in the first year's work. The gap beuniversity is not closing, and in some instances appreciably widening. Of course the straightened means of many of our tributary communities has had much to do with this. But it seems practicable to suggest and perhaps to urge that the preparatory be carried on more generally, in our high schools, by teachers fitted to teach severally at least one subject as a specialty. Those high schools that are securing graduates of the university for preparatory teaching are palpably improving the general standard. Students continuing to come to us from outside the state, and especially from the east. It is gratifying to realize that our unusually aspiring, hardworking and self-denying faculty are winning recognition outside the state they serve. So far as my observation goes, there is not another institution anywhere in which the members of the teaching force are so willing to help everybody in the college public and out of it, for mere love of their work and of unbuilding men. Nothing within or without augurs so much, it seems to me, for the future growth and usefulness of the university.

The number of unclassed students belonging to this college it has seemed impracticable at this writing to determine, but would, according to the proportions of last year, undoubtedly raise the enrollment total to above thousand. Very respectfully submit-

Omaha Y. M. C. A. Boys Prove a Surprise. Score and Winners.

A small crowd of about one hundred and fifty people watched the university boys get beaten in the dual indoor pentathlon with the Omaha Y. M. C. A. held in the gymnasium of the latter last Saturday evening. The crowl, while small, was enthusiastic and cheered both sides equally. There were only four faces in the whole audience that were familiar to the boys in the university (eam.

The Omaha team won with a total of 1378 15-24 points, as against the university's 1199 1-3. Henry L. Finney was the leader of the winners, having 920 5-6 points to his credit, while Pills bury was a close second with 4161/4.

There were two surprises in store for the university boys. The first was the three standing broad jumps, in which Pillsbury jumped over thirty feet, but R. V. Henry of the Y. M. C. A. team jumped 31 feet, 81/2 incehs. The second surprise was the pole vault. Benedict enrolled this year, as certified to me and Pillsbury were expected to be able by the registrar, is shown in this exto hold their own under any ordinary circumstances, but the circumstances were not ordinary. The Y. M. C. A. team had two men in it who were good for ten feet, as the result showed.

For the university boys, Pillsbury was the bright and particular star, securing one first, three seconds, and with Finney for second in the running

The university team comprised Bents leader B. G. Leake, who came some time ago from the University of Chicago, and H. E. Finney, Rolland Finney, R. V. Henry and Earl V. Painter.

The following is a list of the events and their records:

Twelve-pound shot-put: H. E. Finney first, 39 feet, 4 inches; Pillsbury, second, 37 feet, 1½ inches; R. V. Henry, third, 36 feet, 7½ inches. Lemar was next with 35 feet, 7 inches.

Running high jump: Pillsbury, first, 5 feet, 4 inches; Benedict and H. E. Finney, tied for second, 5 feet, 2 nches, Three Y. M. C. A. men, Leake, R. Finney, and Henry, jumped 5 feet, Lemar came fourth again, with 1 ainnte, 50 seconds. As it was 11:45 p. m. when the potato race was half run, and as the university boys wanted to come tween our accredited schools and the home the same night, the rest of the race was forfeited. Benedict and Swallow did not run, and Lemar and Pearse were disqualified for accidentally listurbing the potato boxes.

According to agreement, the four highest on the team counted for versity 1194 1-3. Omaha's points were: H. Finney, 420 5-6; R. V. Henry, 35134; R. Finney, 341 11-24; Deake, 264 5-6, 1378 15-24.

HONOR SENATOR MORRILL.

Friday morning at chapel time, memorial services were held in honor of the memory of Justin Smith Morrill, the man who was instrumental in founding the agricultural and engineering schools of America. Chancellor MacLean conducted the exercises which were very interesting. Dean Bessey of the industrial college, gave a biographical sketch of Senator Morrill. He said in part: "It is almost impossible for you young people to realize what this great man has done for the higher education of America. We have to go back only to the middle of the presenct century to see that at that time there was not a good agricultural or engineering college in the country. All such institutions then ranked as private institutions, and were very meagre in their advantages for doing work. In my own case, I choose a school in Lansing, Mich., in preference Have the "Evans" do your washing.

to the state institution at Ann Arbor. The most haportant thing to be noted in the life of Senator Morrill is that he did not enter public service until he was forty-four years old. Previous to this time he had refused all offers of holding public offices that had been made to him. It proved later that this time was exatly the middle point of his life, as the remaining forty-four years were spent in public service. Twelve years were spent in the house and the remainder in the senate. The first of his famous college land grant and passed; bills was passed in 1862, Chancellor MacLean added to the interest of the meeting by giving a few personal recollections of Senator Mor-rill. He told of the first time that he ever saw him and of the effect on the audience when he entered the hall. Evereyone arose to greet him. He also took up the appearance of the famous statesman and told of the likeness between him and Mark Hopkins.

The third point emphasized by Chancellor MacLean was that it was the life long ambition of Senator Morrill to put the industrial schools of the United States on a firm and permanent basis, even after the provisions made by land are exhausted. The The meeting closed by the students and faculty uniting in singing "America."

No action was taken upon the election of a foot ball coach, although Gonderman of Harvard was notified that he need not expect an election to the position. This leaves merely two applicants who are worthy of consideration.

Conway G. McMillan, who has been professor of botany in the University of Minnesota since 1892, is guilty of having obtained his first and second degrees at the University of Nebraska. It can be proved by the records that he took his B. A. in 1885 and an A. M. the following year. In 1887 he was etomologist to the United States experiment station at this institution. The next year he studied at Johns Hopkins university. In '89 he was appointed instructor in the University of Minnesota, which position he held until his election to the professorship. Professor McMillan is a Phi Delta Theta. He was one of the members of his class elected to both Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi.

Another Nebraska graduate who has gone to the University of Minnesota is Edward E. Nicholson, who his B. Sc. in 1894. He was a graduate student and assistant in the chemical laboratory in 94-95, and the next year went to Minnesota as instructor in chemistry, at the same time doing work which obtained for him themaster's degree in '96. Last year he was made an adjunct professor of chemistry in used to be known around the labora-the same institution. "Ed." as he tory, is a member of Beta Theta Pi.
