The Nebraskan will be sent to any address upon receipt of the subscription price, which is one dollar a year.

Contributions are solicited from all. News items such as locals, personals, reports of meetings, etc., are especially desired. The Nebraskan will be glad to print any contribution relative to a general university subject, but the name must accompany all such.

Address all communication to the Nebraskan, University of Nebraska.

In debate Nebraska lost to Missouri. However, in the opinion of the judges and of the audience as well, it was only by a slight margin that Missouri won. Both debating teams did themselves much credit, Nebraska lost in a hard contest.

The base ball team starts out well on its trip away from home by beating the farmers at Manhattan agricultural college 10 to 1. If they can maintain this gain all they reach home there will be nothing in Lincoln too good for them.

The recitals which are being given by the members of the graduating class of the school of music are of an exceptionally high order and reflect much credit upon the conservatory and its instructors. They give the students and friends of the university, too, an opportunity to hear and enjoy the productions of the masters, an opportunity which, no matter how often repeated, is always to be taken advantage of.

The contest number of the Nebraskan received many compliments, but its side was discouraging. Not more than 500 extra copies being sold altogether. Students expect such editions but apparently they do not appreciate the amount of effort and expense to which the editors must go to make them possible. Newspapers need the cordial support of the students, as much as do athletics or any other university enterprise.

It is an omen of exceeding significance that the high schools of the state should meet to contest for athletic honors under the shadow of the university. The university leads in everything connected with the schools of the state and this contest is but another evidence of the fact. Such relations cannot but cement more closely by the bond of sympathy between the public high schools and the public university.

The university community is to be congratulated for the selections made for members of the athletic board. Five good men were chosen, who will be fully capable of keeping athletics upon their present high plane and of increasing student interest. Every student, whatever his persuasion, should now put his shoulder to the wheel and help a good thing along. We are on the right track and need only to keep going.

The plots of the university promise something distinctly unique in the annals of Nebraska journalism. It is a woman's edition, with jokes, poems, stories, news, cartoons—everything by themselves. Of its character even ye men, who usually know secrets a week before the public, can find out nothing but the names of the editors. They are: Grace MacMillan and Harriet Cooke, managing editors, Elsie Wandin, Adeloyd Whiting, Margaret McFee, Grace Rushton, Jessica Morgan and Jennie Pentzer, associates, and Edna Hyatt, artist.

Nebraska won at Lawrence in the interstate debate Friday night, receiving a unanimous decision. The question was upon the right of railway combinations to fix rates.

Messrs. Houghton, Mifflin & Co. announce for immediate publication, "The Antigone of Sophocles," Translated into English by George H. Palmer, professor in Harvard University. With an Introduction. 1 vol. 12mo., 75 cents.

Those who have read Professor Palmer's singularly excellent translation of the Odyssey of Homer will rejoice that he has undertaken a translation of the Antigone. Ample knowledge of Greek literature is supplemented in him by an uncommon mastery of English, and his comprehensive appreciation of Greek character and life, of Greek thought and dramatic genius, enables him to give to his translation the force, the freedom, and the fluency of an original work. To the translation he prefixes an Introduction of considerable length, treating of the Greek drama, of the pace of the Antigone in Greek tragedy, and comments of remarkable value and attractiveness. Altogether this book is one in which the fruits of the finest scholarship and of the noblest literary skill are admirably blended into a work of true art.

This book will be soon followed by a companion volume, "The Prometheus Bound" of Aeschylus, translated by Paul E. More, late Associate in Sanskrit and Classical Literature in Bryn Mawr College. 12mo., 75 cents. The book will be equipped with an Introduction and the Notes necessary to its proper use in schools and colleges.

FELLOWSHIPS AND SCHOLARSHIPS.

Applications for Fellowships and Scholarships for the year 1899-1900 are now being renewed at the University of Nebraska. Application blanks may be secured at the administrative office. The following ruling of the Board of Regents will be of interest.

1. That Sections 1-3 regarding Fellowships and Scholarships be changed to read as follows:

1. Fellows and scholars without stipend shall be appointed on the ground of high attainments. Fellows and scholars shall have no other fees to pay than the ordinary matriculation fee of $5. They shall be preferably called upon for needed assistance in instruction, and shall then be paid for their services according to duties performed, as stated below.

2. Fellowships may be awarded to candidates for higher degrees, who shall have at least one year of successful resident graduate work, along the special line in which the appointment is made, in this university or in some other institution of equivalent repute, as recommended by the Chancellor and the head of the department concerned, and their appointment announced at Commencement. Each appointment shall be for one year, but may be renewed twice. The compensation for actual service done the department by class-instruction or otherwise shall be according to the nature of that service, but in no case to exceed $400 per annum.

3. Scholarships may be awarded to candidates for higher degrees. The amount of appointment and value of the scholarships shall be the same as in the case of fellowships except that the value shall in no case exceed $200 per annum.

2. That henceforth only graduate students be appointed as assistant class teachers or readers, and as far as practicable also as other assistants.

3. That for the purpose of providing the executive office with a full record, graduate students shall be reported to the registrar, 1, at the close of each semester as present or not; 2, after each examination passed in a major or minor; and 3, when the thesis offered for a degree has been accepted.

NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION MEETING.

For the meeting of the National Educational Association at Los Angeles, Cal., July 11-14, 1899, the Union Pacific will make the greatly reduced rate of one fare, plus $2.00, for the round trip.

The excellent service given by the Union Pacific was commented on by all who had the pleasure of using it to the convention at Washington in 1898. This year our educational friends meet in Los Angeles, and members of the Association and others from points east should by all means take the Union Pacific.

The service of the Union Pacific is unexcelled and consists of Palace Sleeping Cars, Buffet Smoking and Library Cars, Dining Cars, meals a-la-carte, Free Reclining Chair Cars and Ordinary Sleeping Cars.

The Union Pacific is the route for summer travel. For full information about tickets, stop-overs, or a finely illustrated book describing "The Overland Route," to the Pacific Coast, call on E. B. Slosson, General Agent.

One fare for the round trip, via the Union Pacific, to San Francisco, Cal., for National Baptist Societies anniversaries, May 25, 1899. For dates on which tickets will be sold, limits, and full information, call on E. B. Slosson, General Agent.

Creighton Medical College.

Cor. 14th and Davenport Sts., Omaha, Neb.

Next session begins September 24 1899. A four years course was adopted by this school, six years ago, it being one of the first schools in the west to adopt a higher standard of medical education.

The course consists of four terms, seven months each. The college building is new and up to date, having been completed only two years ago. The building itself is large and commodious, having large roomy laboratories for work in Physiology, Histology, Pathology and Bacteriology all furnished with the most modern equipment. The Anatomical rooms are large and are supplied with all of the newest conveniences, among other things being a cold storage room for the preservation of anatomical material, thus insuring fresh subjects for dissecting and anatomical work at all times of the year. The lecture rooms are spacious, well lighted and ventilated, and are seated with comfortable opera chairs.

This school has the exclusive use of the St. Joe Hospital for clinical purposes, the St. Joe hospital being the only large hospital in the city. The county hospital also furnishes clinics for the benefit of students of this school. For further information, address
