

Get that new style hair-cut at Westerfield's.

Notice the ad. on upper half of page next to front reading matter.

For first class work go to the Elite Studio the only ground floor photograph gallery in the city.

Professor Sherman's daughter has been quite ill with fever but we understand she is now on the way to recovery.

The Y. M. C. A. have fitted up the southwest basement room of the University building in a tasty and comfortable manner.

Chancellor Canfield made a very pleasant New Year's call on Professors Fling and Taylor in the parlors of the Bates house at Indianapolis.

E. Fleming, 1224 O street, practical watchmaker, jeweler and engraver. All repair work promptly attended to. Glasses fitted, correcting the most difficult sight.

E. R. Guthrie, 1540 O street, the reliable bicycle man, can mend your wheel in short order and the right way. If you want a Rambler call on him—they're the best. The profs. all ride 'em.

At the last meeting of the Palladian Boys' Debating Club, the following officers for the new term took their places: President, E. F. Piper; vice-president, H. B. Steward; secretary-treasurer, Geo. Kindley; and sergeant-at arms, S. W. Pinkerton.

The Annual Chase and Wheeler Oratorical contest of the Palladian Literary Society will take place in the chapel Saturday night, January 18, at 8 o'clock. The contestants are Miss Smith, Miss Smails, Mr. Williams and Mr. Pinkerton. The contest promises to be close and interesting. Admission free.

Miss Mary Tremaine gave the P. G. D. C. a thorough and much enjoyed treat last Friday evening. She talked to them of the "New Woman," so-called, speaking of some of the famous new women of history and defending the real new woman now. A large number of University girls were present.

Dr. O. F. Lambertson, dentist. Special rates to students. 1207 O street.

Why not subscribe for THE HESPERIAN at once? Subscription only 50c for rest of year.

The officers of the P. G. D. C. this term are: President, Irene Davison; vice-president, Ida Heise; secretary, Mary Sullivan; treasurer, Maude Atkinson; sergeant-at-arms, Flora Bullock.

"The Christian Associations wish you a Happy New Year," is the pleasant greeting printed on the backs of a lot of neat little cards, bearing appropriate quotations and intended for the double purpose of bookmarks for busy students and reminders that the associations are ever ready to extend the hand of brotherly love and fellowship to every student in the University. With these New Year's greetings the Christian Associations also extend a hearty invitation to everyone on the campus to attend their meetings, held every Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the women's at the Conservatory and the men's in Palladian hall. Ten minute prayer meetings, to which all are invited, are held at noon every day during the school week; the women's in room 7, University hall, and the men's in Delian hall.

The annual session of both the American Economic association and the Political Science association of the central states, were held in the senate chamber of the Indiana state capital at Indianapolis during the holidays. The foremost American thinkers and investigators in history and economics took part in the meeting. On the morning of December 31, Professor W. G. Langworthy Taylor read a paper entitled, "Cost—Singular and Plural." The paper created a most excellent impression. The author received high compliments from scholars like Professor Clark of Cornell and Professor Sidney Sherwood of John's Hopkins. Professor Patten of Pennsylvania expressed his conviction that the article would form the foundation for the reconsideration of the theory of value. On New Year's morning