

Chas. Kuhlman brought a pocket edition of himself in the form of a younger brother from Grand Island. These two boys raised sugar beets.

The New England Mutual Life Insurance Co. a few days ago moved their headquarters from Brace building to Walsh-Putnam block, room 10.

All the old students will return to their old boarding place, 1029 R. Why don't you try the same place? Students club, $2.25 a week.

Professor Wilson's University class at the First Baptist church opened September 22nd with an attendance of sixteen. Last Sunday it numbered thirty-six.

Don't forget to call at E. Eleming, 1224 O street, for anything in the jewelry and optical line. All work promptly attended to. Special rates to students.

Fall stock of millinery including all the latest novelties, dress hats, sailors and walking hats. Students are invited to call at 1114 O street. Mrs. Gosper's.

The chapel was filled last Sunday afternoon to hear Chancellor MacLean on Bible study. Most of the students think that his story of the theological student applies to themselves.

Why walk so far for your meals when you can get the best meals opposite the new library building for $2.25 a week. Don't forget the place, 1029 R street.

The members of the credit committee are being besieged by students who are behind in preparatory work and who want to get still further behind, i. e., leave it just for another year.

The large room in the northeast corner of Nebraska hall has been divided; the Agricultural department and Experiment Station taking one-half, and the Weather Bureau the other. A Dairy Laboratory is to be fitted up in this room in which a special course in milk testing will be given in the second semester.

We feel sure that all of our old students friends will recommend the new fellows to come to us for their clothing and furnishings. Paine, Warfel & Bumstead.

The Berlin Cloak Co. give special invitation to the students to call and inspect the elegant line of ladies' jackets, fur and cloth capes. Latest styles and lowest prices.

Simeon Martindale Moss is missed by his old friends and acquaintances. The registrar also misses his name on the register. Sim is now teaching country school and expects to be back next year.

The first pupils recital of the Williams School of Oratory takes place next Friday evening, October 4th, at the Y. M. C. A. hall. Tickets may be obtained free by calling at the Y. M. C. A. building.

About 200 students are now enrolled in the Lincoln Normal University. Many of them are preparing for the State University. They will be able to prepare for the Freshman class in two years of forty-eight weeks each.

Edna D. Bullock, '89, after graduating in June from the Albany school of Library Economy, has been spending some months in library work in the east. Her present situation is in the Polytechnic institute of Worcester, Mass.

The Fremont delegation is materially increased this year by the following students from the high school: C. C. Hull and the Misses Laura Bridge, Eva Hughes, May Colson, Ruth Mulligan and Bonnie Forbes.

Call and see our fall line of pant goods, cheaper than any other place in the city. Independence Wool Mfg. Co., 119 North 13th street. Special rates to students.

Ed Short writes from his home in Nelson that he will not be in school this year. The Unions elected Chas. Kuhlmann to fill the position of treasurer, held by Mr. Short. At the same meeting Miss Amy Shively was elected corresponding secretary in place of Miss Arvilla Stockton.