

Prof. H. P. Judson of Chicago university will lecture at the city Y. M. C. A. hall, Tuesday evening, January 19. His subject is the "Expansion of Europe."

Last Friday evening, company "C" once more showed her appreciation of the excellent work of her last year Captain, Charley Swartz, by presenting him with a beautiful sword. The present was purchased last spring but its presentation, for a plausible reason, was postponed. Mr. Hugh Wilson, the present captain, introduced Mr. Swartz to the new members of the company. Charley proceeded to give them a few words of encouragement. While he was doing this Mr. Wilson brought in the sword and in a few appropriate words presented it to Mr. Swartz as a gift of remembrance from the last year members of company "C." On the scabbard was engraved "Presented to C. W. Swartz by company C of 1896."

For the truth of the following the editors will not vouch. But dame rumor has it that "Zeke" Moore gave several new Pall. boys undue assurance, and in that way enticed them to scratch the slate. In several instances the veto power was exercised, and the victims proposed to play even with "Zeke." Late Tuesday evening, several masked freshmen awoke the gentleman with the scriptural name from his deep slumbers, and proceeded "to do the right thing by him." As we go to press "Zeke" is able to be around with the aid of crutches. No arrests.

The State School of Agriculture opened Dec. 29th and has now 27 students. Three ladies have already availed themselves of this opportunity to improve themselves. The new school has a debating club. The farmers are going to mix oratory with their cheese and logic with their butter.

Resolutions of Condolence.

Resolved: That we the members of the Junior class of the Law School of the State University have learned with profound sorrow of the death of Mrs. Thomas M. Kemp, of Kimball Virginia, the mother of our popular and esteemed class mate, J. H. Kemp, and

Resolved, that we desire to express in a formal way to our class-mate our profoundest and most sincere sympathy in this the dark hour of his bereavement. We know that words are vain, but they are all the consolation and comfort that it is possible for human power to offer in such times of bitter anguish, and be it

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of this class, and they be published in the college papers and a copy presented to J. H. Kemp.
