The American History dept. has been presented with plaster Soris busts of Grant and Lincoln. The latter was taken from one of Lincoln's best likenesses and is considered a splendid piece of work.

A "stag" party was held in the room of E. B. Perry and C. M. Funk, Thursday evening, December 22. The following were present: J. F. Boomer, R. C. Roper, Perse Morse, Lee Berry, J. A. Maguire, E. F. Warner.

C. A. Fisher, fellow in geology, spent the holidays in traveling over the West in the interests of the department he represent. In all he traveled over four thousand miles, going as far west as Salt Lake City. He reports having seen a great many of the University alumni, all of whom are doing well.

The students and faculty of the Nebraska College of Oratory, in the near future, will present Victor Hugo's greatest dramatic achievement, Ruy Blas. It is intended by the college to make it one of the greatest dramatic and literary events of the season. The Othello presented by the school last year is a sufficient guarantee of what can be expected of Ruy Blas.

An intertainment was given by the college settlement workers especially for the young people, last Friday night at the "Graham Taylor House." Games were enjoyed for nearly two hours when refreshments were served. A temporary organization for a literary society was formed. Mr. Honson was elected president. Short talks were made by Mr. Fouquet, and Prof. Caldwell.
