

IN SOCIETY.

Society in the university promises to be more general this year than ever before. At least that is the impression that is given at the beginning of the season, and there is no reason to believe that it will not be so. Beginning at the very first date on the university calendar, the societies and fraternities have added interest to life in the institutions by the number of pleasurable events that have been given.

The flower parade that was given last week under street fair management brought out several rigs filled with university people. In fact, some of these were the prettiest in the procession and brought forth a great deal of favorable comment.

About thirty members of the Delta Gamma fraternity with a few friends took in the street fair Tuesday night. After enjoying all the sights they returned in a body to the home of Miss Gregory at Fifteenth and G streets for a chafing dish supper and impromptu dance.

About forty members and friends of Kappa Alpha Theta enjoyed a dance Thursday night at Walsh hall. The party was chaperoned by Professor and Mrs. Fling. Between the dances the young people slipped out in small groups and took in the side shows of the street fair.

The members of the Delian literary society held their annual reception to new students Friday evening, September 20, in the art hall of the library building. Light refreshments were served and the evening spent in having a social time generally. The hospitality shown on every hand by the members of the society added much to the pleasure of all present and displayed the true character of the Delian people.

The members of the Palladian literary society began the year with a reception in their hall Friday evening, September 22. The hall was crowded with a large number of visitors and many old members of the society. The fore part of the evening was spent in a social time, after which a short musical program was given. The attention paid to visitors and strangers by the members of the society in making a pleasant evening for them is a great credit to the university in general as well as the Palladian society.

Miss Mamie Miller, Delta Delta Delta, gave a high tea to the members of the fraternity and friends Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock at her home on G street. La France roses were used in the table decorations. The guests were: Mrs. James Manahan; Misses Bertha Du Teil, Alma Koch, Lillian Thompson, Adnelle Cady, Blanche Losch, Grace Losch, Maysie Ames, Clara Smith, Grace Salls, Nellie Dean, Edna Gund, Mamie Miller, Daisy Bonnell, Lavina Steel, Winifred Bonnell, Anna Vore, Josephine Poynter, Lucy Haywood, Sarbach, Jenkins, Reeves, Wilson, Bratt, Keeler, Grimson and Wheeler.

Friday evening the members of Phi Beta Pi gave a party to their friends at the home of Miss Darleen Woodward, Twenty-fourth and Q streets. Dancing was the order of the evening. All decorations were made in the university colors and in carnations, the emblem of the fraternity. Those present were: Misses Anne and Lenzie Stuart, Jessie Smith, Lois Burruss, Kate McPheley, Minnie Morrill, Helen Post, Jeannette Post, Edna Carscadden, Quete Haskell, Katharine Sedgwick, Katherine Thomas, Grace Andrews,

Miss Margaret Whedon entertained the members of Kappa Kappa Gamma at her home Friday evening. Dancing was the amusement offered. Punch was served during the early part of the evening, but at 11 o'clock all retired to the dining room for ices and cake. Hagenow's orchestra furnished the music. Those present were: Mrs. F. J. Denison of Denver, Colo.; Misses Margaret Whedon, Charlotte Whedon, Clara Hammond, Emma Outcalt, Blanche Hargreaves, Blendena Emmens, Blanch Emmens, Adelloyd Whiting, Mabel Hayes, Nella Hollbrook, Eleanor Raymond, Blanche Edmiston, Teresa Salle, Turale Bratt, Laura Houtz, Woodford, Flora Steiner, Constance Sarbach, Emily Jenkins, Mabel Richards, Edna Wetzell, Frances Gere, Cora Cropsey; Messrs.
