

NEW REGENTS.

Below is given a few words concerning the newly elected regents of the university. Putting aside all party strife, it is safe to say that both men will fill their places to the best of their ability and will work to place the institution on a still higher level than it now occupies.

EDSON RICH.

Edson Rich of Omaha, who was a fusion candidate for regent of the state university, was born at Griggsville, Pike county, Ill., in August, 1858. At the age of seven years he accompanied his parents to Nebraska on a steamboat and grew to manhood on the rolling prairies of this fertile state. He attended such schools as the meager facilities of the times afforded and the rudiments of learning acquired were supplemented by a course of the Nebraska university. This was followed by a thorough course at Johns Hopkins university of Baltimore.

After leaving school Mr. Rich read law in the office of Harwood, Ames and Kelly at Lincoln and was admitted to practice here in 1889. In May, 1890, he went to Omaha, where he engaged in active legal practice. The talents of Mr. Rich soon won him a standing among lawyers of mature experience and he rose rapidly by the exercise of his ambition and perseverance.

Last year the fusionists of Douglas county nominated Mr. Rich for the legislature and, although the county went strongly republican on most of the ticket, he was elected by a good majority. When the legislative session opened he immediately came to the front as a leader of his party. His influence, however, was not confined to his own political organization, but much of the best legislation enacted by the legislature dominated by the opposing party is traceable more or less to his ability and persuasion.

Mr. Rich, since the legislature adjourned, has resumed his law practice, which has grown so much as to occupy all of his business hours. The nomination for university regent came to him unsought, and when his statement of expenses was filed Mr. Rich was able to say that he had not spent a cent of money in securing the nomination. He is a man who will labor for the upbuilding of Nebraska's great university to the highest possible standard.

JOHN L. TETERS.

John L. Tetters was born on a farm in Johnson county, Iowa, in 1861. He removed with his parents to a farm adjoining West Liberty, Ia., in 1869. He graduated from the West Liberty high school in 1879 and from the Iowa City commercial college in 1880; entered the state University of Iowa in 1882 and graduated from the scientific course in 1886. Immediately after leaving school he accepted a responsible position with a wholesale jewelry firm in Des Moines, Ia., and made his headquarters in Lincoln, looking after the interests of his firm in the trans-Missouri states. In 1891 Mr. Tetters located permanently in Lincoln, and in 1892 entered the wholesale jewelry business on his own account, in which he has been eminently successful. Mr. Tetters has always taken an active part in public affairs, but his nomination by the fusion parties marked his first appearance before the public as a candidate for office. The new regent will be especially welcomed by the supporters of athletics in the university. While a student at the University of Iowa he played four years on the foot ball eleven, when the game was played according to association rules. For two years of this time he captained the team. During the same period he played base ball on the university nine, and was also captain of the ball team for two years. But Mr. Tetters did not concentrate all his efforts along athletic lines, as he was for two years business manager of the college paper, the Vigette-Reporter. During his stay in college he read law during spare moments, and after coming to Nebraska he took up the work again and was admitted to the Nebraska bar, although he has never practiced.

SONGS FOR THE GAME.

Below are given two songs for the game Saturday with Kansas. Every student is requested to learn both and attend chapel Friday morning to practice the same.

Air—"I Guess I'll Have to Telegraph My Baby."

There were once eleven Kansas men,
Whom fortune did invite
To conquer all the little teams
That came within her sight;
They jollied with the Indians,
And played croquet with Drake,
But struck a grown up elephant
In a Nebraska fake.

They thought we were cinches,
That feet were as inches
In making their gains through
Our center and end;
Dreamt the story
Of the glory,
Wild and gory,
She would send
Back to Lawrence—
When their captain
Found us on the mend.
First he sighed,
Then he cried,
And sadly replied.

Chorus:
I guess I'll have to telegraph to Kansas
That Nebraska's field has been our Waterloo;
It is the place that we have always lost on;
This catastrophe is nothing new;
I wish that we were back in Lawrence,
And never more would roam;
Nebraska's strength forgetting,
We became so rash in betting
That we'll have to walk back home.

Air—"Hello, My Baby."
Hello, Nebraska!
Hello, Nebraska!
Wave the scarlet and cream:
You are the foot ball star,
No one is on your par,
Go in and beat them,
You can defeat them;
Kansas must say, "We're done,"
For 'Braska, Nebraska, you're the one!
Hello! Hello!
