Concerning R. L. Marsh, '84, who pastor of the largest Congregational church at Burlington, Ia., George Mouro says: "He is the leading man of Burlington."

Herbert J. Webber, '89, and Ernest A. Bessey, '96, have published an illustrated paper on the "Progress of Plant Breeding in the United States." They hold positions in the U. S. department of agriculture.

Doctor H. Winnet Orr, an Alumni of the University of Nebraska is seriously ill with appendicitis. He is at the Sanitarium and has had an operation performed. He is slowly rallying from the effects of it and hopes are entertained of his complete recovery.

W. W. Wilson, '96, county attorney of Otoe county is running for re-election. He will be remembered as one of the guards on the Alumni team.

Carl Shuff, '00, has returned from Kansas City. He intends to practice law in Lincoln with an office in the Brownell block.

The boys consider themselves extremely lucky this year in the matter of a coach. Mr. A. S. Pearse, one of the Uni's old reliable's is a born football player and knows the game from the beginning to the end. If a winning team is not developed it will not be the fault of the coaching received. Mr. Pearse captained the University team during the only game it won last year—Omaha High School Register.

Miss Willa Cather, '95, writes one of the leading articles for the November issue of the Ladies Home Journal. Her subject is Ethelbert Nevin, "The Man Who Wrote 'Narcissus.'"

Mr. Herbert J. Webber of the class of '89, has recently published a bulletin on "The Immediate Effect of Pollen In Maize." Mr. Webber has charge of the Plant Breeding Laboratory in the United States Department of Agriculture.

Miss Hammond, '94, entertained the Association of Collegiate Alumnae last Wednesday. Light refreshments were served followed by a business meeting. A brief address on the purpose and opportunity of the Association was given by the president, Miss Treman. The constitution of the Nebraska branch was read by the secretary. Mrs. Brooks was elected as delegate to the annual convention to be held at New York on November 8th.

The Secretary of the Alumni Association will endeavor to make a great event out of the dedication of the organ this winter. It has not been decided just when this will be. After the building in which the organ is, has been accepted from the contractors, there will be time to plan for it. Non-resident alumni should know that the university has been erecting a wing or "T" across the west end of the Grant Memorial Hall, and in this, in a niche especially built for it on foundations of its own, is the alumni organ. The audience room is seated for ten or twelve hundred, and will afford the Alumni, students, and friends of the University great enjoyment.

An effort will be made also to arrange so that the officers of the Alumni Association may keep a good department going in one of the college papers, or issue a separate organ, and see to it that all available Alumni news is published at the smallest cost to the Alumni. Propositions are being received from the papers, and when the officers meet, it will be arranged whether the news will be issued through one of the existing papers, or whether the interests of the Alumni demand at this time a separate publication. The sympathies of the Alumni, and their interests to some extent, are centered in university affairs as well as in the happenings to individual Alumni, and it will thus be found perhaps, that it will be better to have a rousing department in one of the existing papers.

Fred Wright who attended school at the University last year, is now studying at Oberlin, Ohio.

Mrs. Raymond's second year chorus class is very large this year.
