

Official Announcements

All applications to join the Refreshing Rifles must be in not later than April 1. No one will be received after that date.

The university is every now and then called upon to fill, on a short notice, unexpected vacancies in the high schools and the grades. Several vacancies have recently occurred for which no teacher could be found. Students who are willing to accept a position at any time during the spring, for the remainder of the school year, will please notify the Recorder at their earliest opportunity.

All students who are planning to teach next year and desire the assistance of the university in securing a position, should consult the Recorder at as early a date as possible. It will not only be an advantage to the student to file his name early, but will facilitate the work of the office.

American Chemical Society—Nebraska Section.

The next regular meeting of the Nebraska Section will be held in the chemical laboratory of the University of Nebraska, on Saturday, March 30, 1901, at 8 p. m. You are cordially invited to attend. The following program has been arranged:

L. J. W. Jones, "The Story of an Original Investigation." H. C. Cooper, "The Nature of Racemic Compounds." W. S. Robinson, "Railroad Chemistry."

This will be a rare opportunity for you to hear from these eminent chemists. They are all specialists and are busy men. The society considers itself very fortunate in being able to secure them for this meeting. Mr. Jones is chemist and assayer for the American Smelting and Refining Co., Omaha. Dr. H. C. Cooper is professor of chemistry at the Lincoln high school. Mr. W. S. Robinson of Omaha is chemist of the Union Pacific Railway Co. His paper on "Railroad Chemistry" will be of special interest to engineering and technical students.
