—Och!

—Oh, thunder!

—Get off my arm!

—The singing in Chapel is improving.

—Miss Cora Thomas is engaged in teaching one of the Linco'n schools.

—One of the members of the Palladian society claims to have an original theory on intemperance.

—Prof. Collier has been quite ill recently. He has been unable to hear his classes recite for some time.

—Quite a number of the students will absent themselves from the University next term, in order to teach school.

—Miss Lillie Fisher has been quite unwell for some time during the past month. We hope soon to hear of her entire recovery.

—For neat printing of all kinds go to Beach's, under Harley's drug store.—Prompt attention given, and reasonable charges for work.

—An earnest effort will be made at the meeting of the Board of Regents to induce them to present the HESPERIAN STUDENT with a press.

—The spring term of the Agricultural college commences April 4th. Prof. Culbertson informs us that there will be about the usual attendance.

—The University Union has made very rapid advancement since the middle of the term. An unusual interest in literary work is taken by the members recently, and if the society still progresses in the same ratio during the coming term, as it has, in the past six weeks, it will reach a very exalted position.

—Prof. Hitchcock's Greek testament class has been removed from the Opera House to the Congregational Church. The class meets every Sunday at four P. M.

—That young man doesn't frequent the City Reading Room any more. There is no attraction for him Sunday evenings, as of yore. He attends church regularly now.

We were most vividly impressed recently with the fact that we have hosts of friends, but how they did make us howl when they, with friendly motives, grasped the wrong arm.

—Chas. H. Dake, well known to the older students of the University, was in town recently on business. We were pleased to see him. He now resides at Edwardsville, Ill.

—We would suggest that those sending money to the manager, do so by post office order, or registered letter. We can not be responsible for money lost through the post office department.

—Our chief is getting high toned of late. He has bought a bran new hat costing about fifty cents, and exhibited no little generosity the other Sunday, by throwing a one cent piece into the contribution basket.

—During the prevalence of small pox in the city, the students promptly complied with the suggestion of Dr. Mansfelde, the health officer, and those who needed vaccination had the operation performed.

—Vacation commences March 28th. Spring term begins April 4th. Many will spend their vacation at home, and we wish them the greatest enjoyment, and hope all will return to the University next term.
