

HESPERIAN STUDENT.

EDITORS.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF, E. P. HOLMES.
ASSOCIATE EDITOR, J. O. STURDEVANT.
LOCAL EDITOR AND BUSINESS MANAGER, . . ALBERT JOYCE.

TERMS FOR SUBSCRIPTION.

1 copy per college year . . . $1.00.
1 " six months 0.50.
Single copy 0.10.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

1 column one insertion . . . $2.50.
3 squares " " 1.00.
1 " " "35.

All articles for publication should be addressed—Editor HESPERIAN STUDENT, State University, Lincoln, Nebraska. All subscriptions, and business communications, with the address, should be sent to ALBERT JOYCE. Subscriptions collected invariably in advance. Advertisements collected monthly.

Many interesting articles have been crowded from our forms this month, owing to the space occupied by Commencement news. Articles not appearing this month, may be obtained by calling at our sanctum.

Just before the close of the term Prof. Church, after completing his work departed for Europe, where he will attend Lectures at the University of Berlin preparing himself to more thoroughly instruct in his department in the University. During the past existence of the University no one has been more regular and faithful with his duty than the Professor, —gaining the respect of all the students, there is one they can so ill afford to lose. The students all unite with the STUDENT in wishing him a safe and profitable journey, trusting that he will make a speedy return.

A year, prosperous and memorable, has passed. One that commenced a new era in our University, and ended with prospects bright and flattering. With the beginning just fairly ended, we commence a vacation preparatory to entering upon another year, which promises both for our University and students untold success. Never has the future presented as bright an appearance, given as much encouragement, as now. For the first time does success promise to reward the efforts and labor of those, who, in spite of all the many difficulties, have labored for the maintenance of the University. Considering the disadvantages under which the University commenced the year, the changes which were then consummated, as we then predicted, were the forebodings of a brighter future. During the present year more have attended the University than heretofore. Students from all parts of the state have come, foretelling the augmentation of another year. And, as the time has come, bringing a separation for a long summer's vacation, —when many are to leave their places to be occupied by others, to part, many of us, perhaps, forever, the STUDENT, thanking you all for past favors, trusting that pleasure, prosperity and success will attend you, we bid you all Good Bye.

CLASS OF '77.

Out from the colleges of our broad land, again comes the annual throng, with hopes bright and flattering, and deemed by