

But we are fully satisfied that such is not the case with some of the young men who are now attending the University. One morning last month we saw, during chapel exercises, nine Seniors and Juniors, the pride of the University, frantically endeavoring to crowd themselves into one seat. This was fun for the boys, but death for the seat, as it sustained considerable damage.

CONSUMPTION CURED!

An old physician retired from active practice, having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asmath, and all Throat and Lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for General Debility and all nervous complaints, after having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. The recipe will be sent of charge, to all who desire it, with full directions for preparing and successfully using. Address with stamp naming this paper, Dr. J. C. STROE, 44 North Ninth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Albert Joyce the ex-local editor of the STUDENT, at last accounts was employed by the Omaha Bee. Mr. J. is an energetic newspaper man. In a recent letter to the North Nebraska Eagle, dated Onana, Iowa October 19, he speaks very highly of Mr. W. S. Wilson a former student of the University, who it seems has been placed in nomination by the Democratic party for the county superintendency of Dakota county. May success attend Mr. Joyce in his new work, and may Mr. Wilson get the office he aspires to, though he is placed in nomination by the wrong party.

Miss Hawley's and a portion of Mrs. Grey's classes from the High School, accompanied their teachers, favored the University with a call en masse about two weeks ago. After being conducted through the Museum by our gentlemanly janitor, they went into the Palladian Hall and some of the young ladies sang "Hold the Fort." From the Hall they were shown in the Library, and finally into our sanctum, where they were introduced to the editors, devils, etc, etc.

Come again boys and girls, it does our careworn heart good to see your happy faces.

LAWS FOR THE MILLION!

A note dated on Sunday is void.

If a note be lost or stolen it does not release the maker; he must pay it.

Each individual in a partnership is responsible for the whole amount of the debts of the firm.

Ignorance of the law excuses no one.

An agreement without consideration is void.

Signatures with lead pencil are good in law. It is lawful and profitable to buy boots and shoes of A. H. WAITT, Lincoln, Nebraska.

—The military department, under Lieut. Dudley, promises to become an interesting feature of the University. The boys have received their new uniforms, and with their muskets they look quite warlike, when keeping time to the martial notes of the fife and drum. The uniform is a suit of dark blue, with conspicuous brass buttons, and gives the wearers a nobly appearance, and inspires them with all the glory of old veterans. The following are the officers: 1st Sergeant, J. H. Worley; 2nd Sergeant, J. O. Sturdevant; Messrs A. B. Cadman, S. P. Platt, and B. F. Parks are the Corporals. The commissioned officers have not yet been appointed. The boys can now go through all military movements with considerable precision, and the University can boast of the best drilled organization in the west.

—The girls seem to have a hard time of it this term, in finding a place to do their studying. They formerly used for that purpose the reading room, but when Prof. Woodbury came, it was decided that he should have the use of the room for his recitations, and an apartment across the hall was assigned the ladies, wherein, at leisure hours, they might peruse their lessons. But the dear creatures would not be satisfied, and, instead of improving their shining hours as they ought, were given too much to hilarity and social racket.
