

may be seen that when completed it will greatly improve the general appearance of the building. During the summer, the report was given credit that the University was in an unsafe condition, but now we believe that there is not the slightest reason whatever for being alarmed on that score. Let no one, then, stay away himself, or keep others away, on this account. From basement to cupola, the entire building has been thoroughly looked over, and to-day the State University stands firm as the rock of Gibraltar, a structure as solid and an exterior as handsome as any in Nebraska.

PERSONALIA.

—J. O. Sturdevant is in school again, after a protracted vacation.

—Mr. Albert Joyce has our thanks for substantial favors to the STUDENT.

—Miss Rogers, of Omaha, makes weekly visits to the University, where she is now teaching a class in music.

—A. M. Appleget is now attending the law school at Iowa City. He reports himself as feeling "muchly at home."

—B. H. Culver has gone to Glendale, where he now teaches the young idea, under the soothing influence of the birch rod.

—C. N. Little has returned to school, after an extended vacation. He looks well and resumes his studies with his old time vigor.

—L. Fossler's silvery voice no longer wakes the echoes of the Palladian Hall. He has gone west to grow up with the country, and teach school.

—Chas. E. Magoon, who is now "buzzing" the public in the interest of the Omaha Bee, made us a visit recently. He will resume his studies next year.

—W. A. McAllister, of the class of '77, is now attending school in Germany. He sends the STUDENT an interesting letter, which is published elsewhere. It is an interesting communication, and gives considerable information about the Fatherland. We wish Mc. much prosperity, and hope that some day he may return to his native shores, where warm congratulations await him.
